DEATH LIST RESULTING FROM HURRICANE WHICH SWEEPED THE GULF COAST RAPIDLY GROWING

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IS ENORMOUS

Number of Dead Now Estimated Between Three and Four Score.

Work of Restoring Order at New Orleans Being Pushed Rapidly.

Railroad Traffic Into the Stricken City Is Being Slowly Resumed.

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 1.—The death list resulting from the hurricane which swept New Orleans, its vicinity and the Mississippi gulf coast Wednesday, now is expected to reach sixty-five or seventy. Property damage from latest estimates will amount into the millions. The losses so far as now known are distributed as follows: New Orleans, 19 dead; 200 injured. Property loss more than $2,000,000. Mississippi coast, 13 dead; scores injured or missing. Property loss estimated at $2,000,000.

Frenier, La., 25 dead; about 20 injured. Heavy damage to railroads.

Order Being Restored.

Automobiles arriving here from New Orleans early today reported that the work of restoring order in the city was progressing rapidly. The streets are being cleaned of debris. Buildings left in a dangerous condition are being torn down. Railroad traffic from the west into the city has been partially resumed, and telegraph and telephone companies are working day and night to restore wire communication to the outside world. It was stated no outside aid would be asked for New Orleans.

Reports from the Louisiana coast south of New Orleans today are meager but indications are that the loss of life is not heavy, owing to the ample warnings of the approach of the storm sent out by Federal and state authorities.

Nineteen Dead.
New Orleans, La., Sept. 30.—(By courier to Baton Rouge, La.) Nineteen known dead, probably 200 injured and damage to buildings, wire circuits, railroads and other property in New Orleans vicinity estimated at several million dollars, was the toll exacted by a hurricane which swept the city Wednesday and was conceded to have been the worst ever experienced in this section.

RUNAWAY MARKET IN WALL STREET

United States Steel Rises to Highest Quotation Since 1912.

New York, Oct. 1.—Wall Street was again in the throes of a runaway market today, with United States Steel, the copper stocks and some of the utilities operating in Pittsburgh and along the Pacific coast in the lead. War shares were comparatively neglected and railways continued to lag. Steel's leadership derived its impulse largely from the optimistic statement issued yesterday by the corporation's chief executive. Its optimistic statement consisted of a block of 15,000 shares at 75, soon breaking through to 81, its highest quotation since the outbreak of the first hour amounting to $400,000 shares of which Steel alone supplied 97,600.

The copper shares were "wide open" in the afternoon and "wide open" at 12 1/2 points. Others less strong. Westinghouse alone of the war specialties showed special strength, rising 4 to 129 1/2.

TERRIFIC MINE EXPLOSIONS SIGNAL FRENCH TO ADVANCE

Sixteen Hundred Pounds of Powder Fired With Frightful Roar.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Seven mines each containing 1,600 pounds of powder were exploded with a terrific roar as soon as the signal was given for the French advance at Souchez, according to the story of an eye witness of the battle.

"Simultaneously," he said, "our men leaped out of their trenches and made for the German trenches before a forest."

"The Germans bolted through the woods pursued by our 'wave.' Sections of the second 'wave' explored the ruined trenches and underground shelters which often were twenty feet deep. As they had no desire to go down into these holes whence it

FRENCH DRILL BRITISH FLIERS

Aviators From Paris to Assist in Repelling Zeppelins From London.

Instructing British Aviators in Art of Pursuing Airships.

London, Oct. 1.—Nearly a dozen French aviators, all of them picked men, have come to England to aid British fliers in keeping off Zeppelins. At least such is the report current in London. The air patrol of Paris has been remarkably effective.

The French aviators, it is said, are drilling the English fliers in the art of pursuing Zeppelins in a manner that the French have proved effective. Theirs and the English method are widely different. The English, it is said, used to persist in spiraling upward when first a Zeppelin was sighted. This process required considerable time during which the moving airship was likely to escape. The French method, which is understood, the English are adopting for the aviator merely to clear the house tops on first sighting a Zeppelin, then to shoot ahead at this comparatively low altitude in the same direction. Gradually the desired altitude is reached and meantime the Zeppelin is outdistanced the pursuer. Having headed it off the aviator, finally achieving a height greater than the Zeppelin, begins to drop his bombs or fire with his machine gun.

German Run Like Hares.
The bulk of our men followed the Germans who were running like hares through the woods. They soon captured the second line of trenches in some even crossing the Souchez brook and the sunken road leading to Angres, but the Germans brought up reserves and tried to surround us. This maneuver was foiled, however.

Government Wins Sweeping Victory in Suit for Dissolution.

Charge That Sherman Anti-Trust Act Not Obeyed Is Sustained.

Contracts and Combinations Declared to Be in Restraint of Trade.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 1.—The United States government won a sweeping victory in one of its important anti-trust cases today, when Judge Oliver B. Dickinson in the United States district court here handed down an opinion dissolving the alleged moving picture trust on the ground that it was violating the Sherman anti-trust law regulating interstate and foreign commerce. The decision was rendered against the Motion Picture Patents company, other concerns and individuals manufacturing motion picture films and accessories or controlling the rights of their manufacture. Many millions of dollars are involved in the business. The court made no suggestions as to how the alleged combination is to be dissolved, but requested that a decree be submitted for approval. It is probable that the case will be taken to the supreme court.

Is Holding Concern.
The Motion Picture Patents company is a holding concern. It was charged by the government that (Continued on page 6, third column.)

SERBS AND BULGARS ALREADY FIGHTING

Clashes Reported Between Troops Along Border; Trenches Being Dug.

Turin, Italy, Sept. 30, via Paris, Oct. 1.—There already have been several clashes between Serbians and Bulgarians along the frontier according to reports received here. A Bulgarian patrol at Trichouke is reported to have attacked Serbian sentinels, who retreated. The Bulgarians crossed into Serbian territory, where they remained several hours.

Bulgarian troops are said to be digging trenches all along the frontier and protecting them with barbed wire entanglements.

VIOLENT COUNTER-ATTACKS OF GERMANS REPULSED BY FRENCH WHO MAKE FURTHER PROGRESS

ENCAMPMENT OF G. A. R. ENDS

Veterans of Civil War Turn Their Attention to Other Things.

Rain Prevents Laying of Cornerstone of Memorial at Arlington Cemetery.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Today marking the official close of the G. A. R. encampment, veterans from Minnesota and other Northwestern states are turning their attention to other things. Judge Eli Torrance of Minneapolis, past commander-in-chief, will leave for home tonight. Adj.-Gen. Orton E. Clark of St. Paul also goes home tonight. Watson S. Hall, commander of the department of Minnesota, will stay in Washington until next week. He will close the official headquarters at the Powhatan hotel tomorrow morning. Other members of the delegation will visit points in the East, reaching home at various dates in October.

Most Successful.
Commander Hall today pronounced this year's encampment one of the most successful in the history of the organization. "Ideal weather that prevailed made the stay of the veterans in Washington enjoyable," said Gen. Clark. "The only thing that has marred the occasion was the heavy rain today that made necessary the postponement of the laying of the cornerstone of the memorial at Arlington. I hope to be here when it is laid next week, however, after which I will visit several points in the East."

Laying of Cornerstone Postponed.
Washington, Oct. 1.—The laying of the cornerstone of the new national amphitheater in Arlington cemetery, the feature of today's program at the Grand Army encampment was postponed because of a driving rain which enveloped the city. President Wilson, who was to have laid the cornerstone, held himself in readiness to do so despite the downpour, but the committee in charge postponed the affair to some day next week. The president will attend, but practically all the veterans will have departed for their homes.

NORWEGIAN BARK IS FIRED BY SUBMARINE

Copenhagen, Oct. 1, via London.—The Norwegian bark Acta, 563 tons gross, with a cargo of props from Kragere to Leth, was set on fire last night by a German submarine at a point twenty miles south of the Naar. The Acta's crew of eleven men was towed in a boat by the submarine to a point on the shore near the Naar.

London, Oct. 1.—The sailing vessel Helen Beyon has been sunk. Her crew was saved.

"WHO'S MAKING THAT NOISE?"

Mr. Clark will deliver an address tonight.

BRITISH FORCES ARE CONSOLIDATING THEIR POSITIONS IN FRANCE

Troops on That Front Estimated at Around Million Men.

Will Be Increased in Near Future By 500,000 More.

French Bearing Brunt of Fighting in West at Present.

London, Oct. 1.—Absence of news from the British front apparently indicates that these forces are occupied with consolidating their positions in the strip of territory recently won.

The British forces now in France are estimated at around 1,000,000 men, which will be increased by 500,000. Daily lengthening of the obituary columns of the London newspapers measures the price paid by the British for their recent offensive.

There is no notable change on the battle front of the east. The French are bearing the brunt of the fighting now in progress on the western front. They are hammering at the second German line in Champagne in the direction of the Grand Pre railway and at the same time dropping bombs on the line and stations to prevent the Germans from bringing up reinforcements.

USE GRENADES WITH SUCCESS ON TRENCHES

Teutons Bombard Fiercely North of the Aisne But Use No Infantry.

French Administer Definite Check to Attack in Champagne District.

More Prisoners and Guns Taken in Advance North of Massiges.

Paris, Oct. 1, 2:37 p. m.—In the great battle in the Aisne district the French have made further progress by means of attacks with hand grenades on German trenches. Announcement to this effect was made today by the war office.

In the Champagne a German counter-attack near Maisons de Champagne was checked.

The Germans violently bombarded French trenches near Soupir, north of the Aisne, but made no infantry attack.

The text of the communication follows: "In the Aisne district we have made progress by the use of hand grenades in the trenches and underground passages to the east and to the southeast of Soissons."

German Counter-Attacks.
Two German counter-attacks have been delivered, one against a fort which we conquered yesterday in the forest of Ghivancy; the other against the trenches to the south of Hill 119 where French troops had installed themselves. Each one of these attacks was conclusively repulsed.

To the north of the Aisne, near Soupir, the enemy conducted a violent demonstration against our trenches. The firing of their artillery and infantry was not followed by an infantry attack.

The Champagne district our fire put a definite check to a German counter-attack in the vicinity of Maisons de Champagne.

The number of prisoners made yesterday evening during our attack on the north of Massiges is 280, including six officers. A promise of further gain of ground in Champagne.

KING OF BULGARIA IS BETWEEN TWO FIRES

Powers Will Soon Demand Decision as to Intentions of the Kingdom.

Rome, Oct. 1, via Paris.—In spite of a rigorous Bulgarian censorship, the Tribuna claims to have received dispatches from Sofia, by way of Athens stating that the situation has been complicated by an apparent change of front on the part of King Ferdinand, who has recalled the appointment of Crown Prince Boris as commander-in-chief of the army. Sentiment in favor of Russia is reported to be increasing in the rural districts.

The Tribuna's dispatches assert mobilization is proceeding under the direction of a German staff-officer, but will not be completed for another fortnight. King Ferdinand, it is reported, has received a promise from Berlin that 800,000 Austro-German troops will undertake a march through the Balkans to Constantinople. Three hundred thousand Germans have been concentrated at Temesvar, Hungary, 72 miles northeast of Belgrade, with 800 cannons, including 50 siege guns and 80 aeroplanes, but will not be ready for an attack in less than two weeks.

It is believed here that if the allies send an expedition against Bulgaria, it will be landed at Kavala, on the Bosphorus, which is nearer Bulgaria than Saloniki and would enable the allies to threaten both Philippopolis and Sofia.

It is expected two ultimatums soon will be addressed to King Ferdinand, one by the central empires and the other by the quadruple entente making imperative an immediate decision by King Ferdinand as to what part his country is to play in the war.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Pressing of the general offensive movement by the entente allies on the western front has resulted in further progress for them in the Aisne region in Northern France, according to today's statement by the Paris war office.

In the Champagne district German counter-attacks were checked near Maisons de Champagne.

Violent bombardment of French trenches north of Aisne, near Soupir, is reported, the Germans, however, making no infantry attack.

On the eastern front the Teutons progress is slower in most sectors and has been checked altogether in others, according to the latest reports from Petrograd. Field Marshal Hindenburg's forces have made little headway against Devinsk. In Volynia the Russians are fighting hard, but so far unsuccessfully, to regain possession of the fortress of Lutsk.

Reports have been received in Italy that the Bulgarians are endeavoring all along the Serbian frontier and that clashes between Bulgarians and Serbians on the border already have occurred.

Vienna hears that Premier Radolsky of Bulgaria is to visit Berlin in the near future. Rome gets reports that sentiment in Bulgaria in favor of Russia is increasing and that King Ferdinand is wavering in his attitude.

MUST GROW FROM WITHIN

City Development Must Have Foundation of True Advantages.

Secretary Eva of Commercial Club Discusses St. Louis Convention.

The idea that the primary purpose of commercial organizations is to conduct direct campaigns for new industries is a bad reputation with the secretaries of such organizations throughout the country, according to Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club. Mr. Eva returned this morning from St. Louis, Mo., where he attended the annual meeting of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries.

"The commercial organization movement has passed the experimental stage and has arrived at the point where definite standards of practice have been determined," said Mr. Eva this morning. "Each meeting of the secretaries develops some such standard. This year it was evident that the industrial campaign has fallen into disuse. Secretaries naturally reflect the attitude of their organizations and secretaries have come to believe that a city must grow from within instead of attempting to attain progress by attracting growth from without."

Most Known Advantages.

"The hard-headed business man with money to invest in industry considers long and carefully before he selects a must be ready to assist him in obtaining facts and figures on which to base his conclusions as to any city. It must set them out. But the city must have advantages and the principal business of the commercial organization is to develop advantages that will appeal to investors. Every commercial service, its municipal government and local traffic conditions, and many other features of an industrial community and when those adjustments are made the chances are that industries will come in a satisfying number."

The Williamsport plan of artificial stimulation of industrial growth is dead wherever it was given life. Other strange and logical efforts to build up industrial communities without the proper foundation have met a similar fate. Every community in the country has empty factory buildings as a result of a misdirected desire to increase its payrolls. Community growth may be stimulated, but the stimulation through the building up of conditions upon which growth may be attained.

Bonus Lost Years Ago.

"The bonus lost favor years ago. The national campaign, worked most aggressively by communities having nothing to advertise, is no longer a commercial organization ideal. The wild scramble for industries among communities has taken the same place. Real service to the community does not demand any of these things."

The secretaries' organization is a strong force according to Mr. Eva. About 250 secretaries are members and the St. Louis convention was attended by men from the country.

Problems of community development were discussed in general meetings and again in special sessions. Experiences and ideas were exchanged and Mr. Eva says that every one in attendance returned home with a better knowledge of the general purpose of commercial organization work and a new appreciation of the quality of service that industries to the communities by organization.

William George Bruce of Milwaukee was elected president of the association and Howard Strong of Minneapolis is the new secretary. Next year's meeting will be held at Cleveland.

PLAN HARVEST FESTIVAL.

Salvation Army Arranges for Big Three-Day Event.

The Salvation Army will conduct its grand harvest home festival for three days beginning tomorrow at the army hall at 508 West First street.

On Saturday evening will be the church here, and now of Minneapolis, has tried to answer the question, "What Is a Christian?"

The pastor has gone over much of the ground covered by magazine writers who maintain that Christianity has been broken down in the war zone of Europe. In it are summed up the beliefs and views of the Chicago world in simple language and in popular form.

A magazine last winter projected the query "What Is a Christian?" and asked for an answer in 500 words. Dr. Powell has answered the question in seven chapters and 200 pages, but the editor of the magazine pronounced it "quite the most thoughtful and well written of all the material we have read on this subject."

In a book which will be off the press next month, Dr. John Walker Powell, formerly pastor of the Endion M. E. church here, and now of Minneapolis, has tried to answer the question, "What Is a Christian?"

The pastor has gone over much of the ground covered by magazine writers who maintain that Christianity has been broken down in the war zone of Europe. In it are summed up the beliefs and views of the Chicago world in simple language and in popular form.

ROTARIANS HAVE LIVELY DINNER

Hear Talk on National Convention By Secretary Gravatt.

Duluth Rotarians will hold all of their winter meetings at the Spaulding hotel. This is a new arrangement which a committee of which Harry Zinsmeister is chairman, decided upon and which was mentioned at last evening's regular monthly banquet of the club, held at the Spaulding. While nothing definite has been reached by the committee it is believed that the summer meetings will go to the Holland.

Much business of importance that was scheduled to come up at last evening's gathering, had to be deferred for the reason that President Elmer Whyte could not be present. Mr. Whyte has the affairs of this organization right at his finger tips and is wholly familiar with the facts in several of the matters that were scheduled to come up for discussion. In the absence of Mr. Whyte, Vice President W. C. McCarter, presided.

There was plenty of fun during last evening's session, a cabaret act and an orchestra lending life to the occasion. William Gravatt, secretary of the club, who recently visited San Francisco to attend the national convention of Rotarians. He got a hand when he stated that the national convention there were not over a half dozen topics taken up that had not been discussed by the Duluth club. He said that the rotary clubs in every part of the United States are getting along splendidly. He explained that they have done much to reform business methods and that the results are apparent everywhere.

When the applause that followed Mr. Gravatt's speech had died out, Vice President McCarter called upon each of the seventy members present and had him tell where he was born. The idea, he explained, was to stir up immediate friendliness among the new members. William Cameron of Minneapolis,

OSTEOPATHS GO TO ST. PAUL MEETING

Local Physicians Attend Two-Day Meeting of State Body.

Duluth is well represented at the seventeenth annual convention of the Minnesota Osteopathic association, which meets in St. Paul today and tomorrow. About 200 osteopaths are in attendance.

That twilight sleep may be produced without the use of drugs is the claim made by Dr. A. D. Becker of Fenton, who is on the program to read a paper on the osteopathic method of near-painless child-birth. Dr. Dayton Holcomb of Chicago will speak on auto-intoxication.

Patients will be sent in from various parts of St. Paul for treatment in the clinics in charge of Dr. B. S. Powell of St. Paul. The adjusting of dislocations of bones will be demonstrated.

Dr. C. M. T. Hulet of Chicago, who will make a public report upon the recent discoveries made in the Osteopathic Research Institute, of which he is the head, is the most noted attendant at the meeting.

Drs. C. B. and Clara J. Hutchinson, Dr. C. M. Wilson and Dr. Lillian Moffat of Duluth are attending the convention.

PUSH.

Pittsburgh Sun: "Push," says a modern philosopher, should be the big word in the vocabulary of every beginner. There is no such thing as a pull applied to bodies. The engine never pulls a train, but pushes it—the coupling of the engine always extends behind that of the car following, and does actually shove it forward." But the pessimist will not be satisfied—no only shifts to "Who's back of him?"

Big Demonstration at Schenectady Say Delegates From Duluth.

The Polish National Alliance is making a magnificent record. Its convention at Schenectady, N. Y., according to the report sent in by the Duluth delegates, Lewis Kusmerik, Joseph Mantel, and Anton Starnal, more women and children affiliated with the military and civic organizations of Schenectady passed through the streets in parade, demonstrating the numbers and close cohesion of the Polish army.

Many noted speakers were present, and a very interesting program was carried out.

GERMAN SPIES BLOW UP JAPANESE PLANT

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—It is reported here that German spies have blown up one of the ammunition factories at Aboishi, near Kobe. The plant is owned by the Japan Celluloid company but has been equipped for the manufacture of explosives, especially gun-cotton, for Russia. The facts as to the reported destruction of one of the factories are withheld.

Now that Japan has decided to increase her output of munitions extra munitions guns are being placed around all property used for the manufacture of munitions and supplies.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK AGENT FINDS NORTHWEST PROSPEROUS

Business Conditions Satisfactory, Crop Good, Farmers in Position to Hold It; Collections Improve and Prospects Excellent, Says John H. Rich.

Business is generally good and is responding to the favorable conditions created by an excellent harvest, says John H. Rich, agent of the Federal reserve bank at Minneapolis.

Summing up the situation in the Northwest states, he says in his monthly report for September:

"Minnesota.—Business conditions over the state generally are very satisfactory. Collections are improving, and the demand for money is about normal, with rates maintaining about the same level as a month ago. Threshing of the small grain crops is in progress throughout the state, and the good yields give promise of better prices than normal. Retail trade throughout the fall and early winter months. There is an evident disposition on the part of many farmers to hold wheat in anticipation of better prices. Where flax is grown, the yields have been very good. Potatoes are generally a good crop, but prices have been low.

"North Dakota.—A considerable amount of North Dakota corn has been touched by frost and, in common with other portions of the district, the state will have a large amount that will not mature, providing large quantities of feed. Flax is about 75 per cent of a full average crop, but of very good quality.

TO BE MEMORIAL TO DR. ANGELL

Million-Dollar Michigan Union Clubhouse at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 1.—The sixty years of public service rendered by Dr. James B. Angell, president emeritus of the University of Michigan, in education, diplomacy and journalism, are to be crowned by the building in his honor of a $1,000,000 structure on the campus of the university. Into the campaign for the construction, charged with the campaign to raise the fund for the construction and endowment of the Michigan Union clubhouse, there have been pouring lately from every faculty, undergraduates, alumni and citizen, to the end of higher and more effective service to the commonwealth.

Dr. Angell now is in his 87th year. Since 1908 he has been relieved of the burden of active administration by the presidency of the University of Michigan. During his own request about the same time his distinguished associates in the educational work of the state, Dr. Chas. W. Eliot of Harvard and Cyrus K. Northrop of Minnesota, laid down the reins of their institutions. One of the buildings dedicated to the uses of the women of the university, Dr. Angell's name is being given to a memorial to his wife.

Scarcity of German Clergy Suggested That Wounded Soldiers Take Up Study of Theology.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. Berlin, Sept. 15.—The perennial subject of the scarcity of clergymen has recently been enlivened by somebody's suggestion that wounded officers who are no longer able to serve at the front take up the study of theology. To this proposal, however, the objection is raised that "the office of a clergyman requires a spiritual development seldom to be found in officers, else they would never voluntarily yield to their desire to become officers."

Meanwhile the scarcity of clergymen is growing greater and is expected to become still more pronounced as some years ago the ministry as their calling to the same extent as some years ago. Fifteen years ago there were still 344 clergymen to every 100,000 clergymen; but by 1912 the number had already dropped to 242. It is said, owing to the lack of clergymen, many churches in villages are being attached to others in larger towns, after which they have occasional services held by the clergymen from those more important churches. Not only is the tendency of young men to choose other callings than the ministry, but even those who choose it show a marked inclination later on to switch off into something else. It is noted that one-third of the regular school inspectors in Prussia are ex-clergymen; and not a few ministers also have abandoned their calling to take positions in teachers' seminaries.

SHIPPING BOOM IN GREAT BRITAIN

Sales Break All Records in the History of Shipping.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) London, Sept. 15.—The Steamer Martime, 5,536 tons, which was the North German Lloyd steamer Schlesien before she was captured as a British prize, recently brought at auction the price of $60,000, an increase of $75,000 over her price of six months ago. A profit of $27,000 on a ship costing $325,000 indicates the extent of the present shipping boom. Even a half year ago vessels were selling at a premium. But the present boom breaks all records in the history of shipping.

There have been other sales as remarkable of late. One steamer, which was bought for $225,000 at the beginning of the war, changed hands at $200,000. A Copenhagen owner, who last January bought a 4,234-ton steamer for $415,000, resold her this month for $260,000.

These vessels are freighters and not passenger vessels. Except when let to the government on charters as transport, passenger ships are not particularly profitable. But the exaggerated price for freighters, often far exceeding the cost price of superannuated ships, is due to the expectation of huge profits.

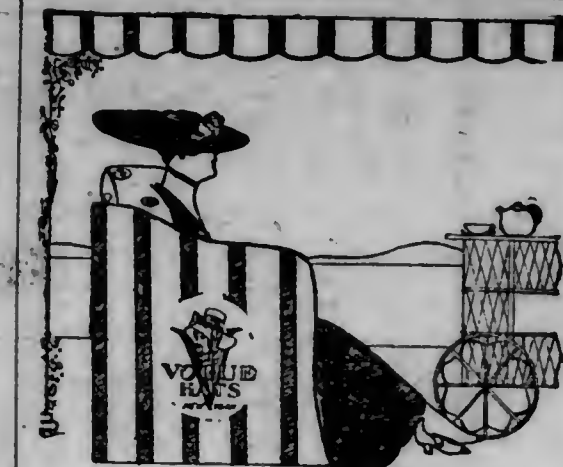

The clean sweep from the seas of German and Austrian vessels, aggregating 4,000,000 tons, left an unpreceded vacuum to be filled by neutral countries, especially the Scandinavian England and France, owing to their comparative immunity from submarine attacks.

NOT BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT, SAYS PLAINTIFF

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 1.—Miss Lucille Covington, in whose favor a $100,000 suit was filed in New York against Rev. John Wesley Hill, declared last night the action was "not a breach of promise, but for an accounting for money she had given him to invest. Miss Covington is in Alpena on business with a fraternal order for which she is organizer. She has been unable to obtain any accounting from Dr. Hill, and that is why I have started the suit. And that is why I have a breach of promise the idea is absurd for me and for an accounting of these."

Made in the great, cozy, comfortable styles now so fashionable; with large collar and cuffs—many chin collars; belts in some form or other; full skirts, with the fullness close to the figure, and the loveliest of soft linings—many bright and colorful. "What Shall I Have for My Tailored Suit?"

With nine women out of ten at this moment that is the burning question.

Our Fashion Salon is filled with answers to that question—the best answers we can find in the clothes market. There are hundreds and hundreds of them, priced all the way from $22.50 for a little fur-trimmed gabardine to $75.00 for fine copies of imported models.

At $22.50 the suits are apt to be simple tailor-mades, of gabardine, whipcord and so on, usually in navy and black, and often fur trimmed.

At $25 there are twenty different styles—tweeds, broadcloths, wool poplins, gabardines and mixtures. Most of these are fur trimmed.

Between $25 and $50 there come the finer plain suits, lots of novelties, and a few copies from imports. Here are velvet suits—the Russian coats edged with fur; whipcords with high collars of sheared muskrat; broadcloths with boxy coats fur edged and with embroidered pockets. Here are the shield-front suits and the suits with long draped coats.

Between $50 and $75 are the finest novelties—made of imported materials, wool plush, duvetyne and velvet. Usually these are trimmed with rich furs—skunk, squirrel, natural squirrel, natural fox, mole and so on—copies from originals by Paquin, Doucille, Martial-Armand, Cheruit, Drecol, Beer and Bernard.

Said a Woman Who Wears Rich Furs

and who came in as soon as our Fur Salon was opened: "No wonder people are buying their furs now; they can have not only the best of furs but the best of service this early in the season, and the choice is wonderful!" Which is just the plain truth. We have magnificent furs and simple furs, and both for very moderate prices.

BUILDING SHOWS LARGE INCREASE

Permits for September, 1915, Carry $100,000 Higher Valuation.

Sixty-three out of the 155 permits issued by Building Inspector Kielley during September were for dwellings in all parts of the city, according to his report presented to Mayor Prince this morning.

The valuations for September total $285,321, nearly 500,000 more than the total in September, 1914, when the 123 permits called for new dwellings and improvements valued at $187,829.

The sixty-three new dwellings will cost a total of $107,285, according to the report. In commenting on the statement, Building Inspector Kielley said that a marked feature in construction work this year is the large number of permits for dwellings by private citizens.

Since Jan. 1 of this year the building inspector's office has issued a total of 1,385 permits with a valuation estimated at $2,120,252.

LEVIES ON BUDGET NOT YET MADE

Council Will Meet Next Week to Take Special Action.

Commissioner Voss, finance head, announced this morning that the ordinance making levies for the various departments to operate the 1916 budget will not be introduced until a week from tomorrow morning.

The commissioner is anxious to study the budget, which he presented at the meeting last Monday, and as a result a special meeting will be called on Oct. 9 to pass the ordinance making the 1916 levies. It had been originally planned to take final action on the budget at the regular meeting next Monday.

The council has until Oct. 10 to file its statement with the county auditor.

HEAD OF "NEWTOT" SCIENCE ARRESTED

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 1.—Dr. Newt Newt, who for months has lectured at the Panama-Pacific exposition in the role of archbishop of the Newtshot church and president of the Newtshot university, was arrested today by Federal officers charged with using the mails to defraud.

Maurit Tulley Gray, his assistant at the exposition, was detained by the officers as a witness. Both were found at Newt's apartment.

Both men and women are alleged by the government to have been victimized by the Newtshot advocate. It is alleged Newt charged $100 for a course in a university which did not exist, $5 for a diploma and $5 for his "bible," "Newtshot Science."

CUPID BUSY IN SEPTEMBER; MANY MATE

Although Dan Cupid did a fair stroke of business last month, he did not break any records.

The love spirit's record for September, 1915, was 120 marriages, which is greater than for any other month except June, when the little blind god led 148 couples to the matrimonial altar.

During September, 1914, 116 marriages licenses were taken out. In September, 1913, the clerk of the district court issued 120 wedding permits.

BANK CLEARINGS EXPECTED TO GAIN

Slight Falling Off Due to Deferred Movement of Grain.

Duluth bank clearings for September were reported at $28,596,255.23. This compared with $25,213,574.23 for the corresponding month last year, but bankers say that the falling off is to be attributed entirely to the deferred season's grain movement. With marketing of the crops now proceeding in heavy volume, a gain in clearings is predicted for the present month.

Clearings of the local banks for the nine months of the year reached the handsome aggregate of $134,419,481.41.

Next Week Is Dress-Up Week

In live cities the country over Oct. 4th to Oct. 9th will be Dress-Up Week. Times are vastly better and everyone is being urged to "dress-up," and with good reason—it benefits him who dresses up and him who meets the dressed up.

And women generally appreciate the fact—the successful business woman, the successful society leader understands the art of dress and now that times are better—now that labor is busy and at good wages—now that capital is active and earning good dividends 'tis time to dress up.

Everybody join the "dress-up" movement—get your new things right away, have them next week which bids fair to mark a great impetus toward dressing the part of prosperity.

The New Figure Lines Are Very Easily Acquired in the New Model

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

The "nipped" waist is the dominant note in corseting and 'tis mighty near the true Venus figure. You remember that the rounding-in-curve at the waist is really woman's natural figure, but the rather shapeless corsets of recent seasons have almost spoiled the more beautiful curving lines.

However, these new Warner Corsets have been modeled to various types of the human figure—they have been modeled on women themselves of every type, and there is one model which will suit your requirements very nicely.

Tomorrow there are some new Warner Corsets to sell at $2.00. We believe they are quite the nicest of their class. Come in tomorrow and ask our corset women to show you the new Warners. You know you really ought to have your new gowns and new suits fitted over the proper corsets. Why not try a Warner's this time?

Queen Quality Shoes Are Being Worn by Many of the Best Dressed Women in Duluth

American women are famed the world over for their beautiful feet. The reason for this is America's leadership in the creation of shoe styles.

But a shoe must be more than really beautiful to be a real success—it should be comfortable from the moment of fitting—it should be good looking to the last day's wear—and it should give long service.

The New Queen Quality SHOES

are shoes of royal worth. There is a model for every purpose; a shoe for dress, for street, or for tramping, and our stocks embrace a wide range of sizes and lasts.

And our shoe fitters know their business—they will take the time to find exactly the right shoe to fit your foot, as well as meet your style requirements. The new lines are ready. $3.50 to $6.00. Choose which you will.

POLICE WORK ON DECREASE

September Arrests - Are Less Than for August and July.

New Duluth Police Made Record Number of Arrests Last Month.

New Duluth police made more arrests last month than ever before in the suburb's history, judging from a monthly report made public today by Fred S. Johnson, secretary to Chief McKercher.

Arrests made by all policemen in September number 407, of which 390
were men and seven were women.
The West Duluth department contributed nineteen men and one woman,
and the New Duluth department accounted for twenty-nine men. Three-hundred and forty-two men and sixteen women were arrested and booked at headquarters.

"September was our busiest month,"
said Lieut. "Bob" McDermott, in charge of the New Duluth sub-station. "The section of the city is growing rapidly because of the steel plant, and even the large number of arrests does not give a fair indication of the increase in work for the New Duluth department."

Several weeks ago, at the request of Lieut. McDermott, Officer Boland was transferred from the downtown section to New Duluth. Since then, Silberstein, in planning for increases in the force, effective Jan. 1, 1916, has made arrangements for one or two new policemen for New Duluth.

September was a more orderly month than either August or July, according to Secretary Johnson's figures. In August there were 419 arrests, 392 men and twenty-seven women, and in July there were 419 arrests, 401 men and eighteen women.

WELL DIRECTED EFFORT THE KEY TO SUCCESS

"Show me the young man who spends his evenings in the acquisition of knowledge that will help him to greater efficiency in his work, and I will show you the young man who will eventually be a success. The young men of this city are aware of this. I am glad to learn of the broad training for business now offered in the Business University night school for those who have the ambition to get
it. FRANK E. CHURCH, Mgr. Northern Shoe Co."

Lime and Tuberculosis
Dr. Roberts Bartholow, former professor in Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, says in his Materia Medica (1898), on pages 215 and 216: "Clinical experience has shown that it (referring to a calcium salt) possesses the ill-defined properties known as alterative, removes certain toxic or mor-bific materials and accretions therefrom by the organs of elimination."
The testimony which has lately been published in respect to its curative powers in consumption is certainly very striking.

He does not refer to testimony regarding Eckman's Alternative, since the medical profession generally recommends proprietary remedies.
However, many cases of consumption
seem to have yielded to this remedy.
This success may be due largely to the fact that in Eckman's Alternative a calcium (lime) salt is so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the human person. It contains neither opiates, narcotics nor habit-forming drugs,
so is safe. At your druggists or direct from Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

SEVERE TESTS FOR PROSPECTIVE "COPS"

Fifteen Applicants Appear for Six Jobs on Police Force.

Fifteen prospective strong arms of the law all but stood on their heads
under guidance of Health Director Fahy this morning, and eight of them couldn't do it.

Severity of tests for policemen, as approved by the civil service board, was such that more than half of the applicants of the six new beats to be started by Chief McKercher on Oct.
1916, failed to qualify for the first half of a physical package.

The seven survivors will meet at the Y. M. C. A. this afternoon and be given the rest of the physical and mental and the lucky few who come out alive will be given a physical and mental examination tomorrow and given the written examination.

Chief McKercher has gone on record as in favor of stricter regulations for patrolmen, and at the present rates
more examinations will be necessary.
Not enough are expected to qualify out of the first half to fill the positions.

Assisting Dr. Fahy was Dr. J. R.
Mentzer, also of the health department, and Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service commission.

Lack of inches was the biggest obstacle for today's candidates, as five of the rejected failed to come up to the 5-foot, 10-inch mark. Two others were barred because of defective eyesight and the other did not receive a high grade in a test of the organ.

SEPTEMBER RAIN
BELOW AVERAGE

Variety of Gales, Heavy Frosts and Ice
Featured.

While the average Duluthian it appears that there has been more than a normal amount of rainfall during the past thirty days, the weather bo-rean report shows, today that the precipitation for September was actually 1.27 less than in the average year.

Up to Sept. 19 there was so little rain that danger from forest fires was broadest, and warnings were sent out about starting fires in the wooded districts. There were only twelve rainy days during the month, just one that came since Sept. 10.

In the wind department, the report shows that westerly gales prevailed between Sept. 20 and 23 and that northeasterly were on the job Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

HIBBING CASE IS SUBMITTED

Judge Fesler May Have Decision Ready Early Next Week.

Final affidavits in the Hibbing paving injunction suit filed by three of the principal mining companies at Hibbing against the village officials and the E. W. Coons company, paving contractors, were placed in Judge Fesler's hands today. Owing to the fact the case was not finally submitted until today, it is expected that a decision will not be forthcoming until early next week.

Since the mining companies raised the bond furnished by the contractors to the village, the contractors have filed an additional bond of $1,000 with the village officials. The original bond was for $50,000 and the work
it covered was estimated at $50,000.
The work is now covered by $60,000 in bond.

regime ordinance covering unlicensed drinking places was not finally submitted to the court until today. The result of a case brought in municipal court before Judge F. H. Cutting this morning.

Smolich, an Austrian, proprietor of a rooming house over Sitka at 701 West Superior street, was found guilty of violating the ordinance, and sentenced to pay a fine of $100. The alternative is sixty days in jail, and a stay of sentence for twenty days was granted.

Smolich was arrested Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12, by Chief McKercher and placed at the door of the apartment and found Smolich, with his wife and three friends drinking beer. A case of full bottles was in one corner of the room. They testified that four quarts were cooling under a faucet
in the sink.

Attorney John Norton, appearing for Smolich, at first moved that the action be dismissed on the ground of insufficient evidence, and when this was refused, rested his case as soon as City Prosecutor Walter Gonka had finished with witnesses for the city.

Later, when Prosecutor Gonka read
the Hicken ordinance, the judge arranged a request to re-open the case, and Smolich testified.

Mr. Norton announced that the case might be continued, to test the ordinance, and it was for this reason that the stay was allowed.

FARMERS' FEDERATION WILL HOLD CONVENTION IN NOVEMBER

Six or eight farmers' clubs in close proximity to Duluth are expected to be represented at the annual meeting of the Federation of Farmers' Clubs to be held at the courthouse on Monday, Nov. 1.

The object of the Federation is to give the various clubs an opportunity to get together and discuss questions which need the co-operation of more than one or two clubs. The Federation has been in existence nearly one year and has several projects under consideration.

It is expected that the Federation will take some action at its annual meeting towards urging some needed improvements in the way of roads into the city. The clubs of the federation are also pulling together for better market conveniences. The clubs now affiliated with the Federation are: Arnold Farmers' club, Arnold Home Producers' club, Hermantown, Jackson Farmers' club, Hermantown, Lakewood Farmers' club, Lakewood, Garfield Farmers' club, Hermantown, and Normanna Farmers' club, Normanna township.

The Jackson club has already selected its delegates to the Federation meeting. They are J. O. Erickson, O. Larsen and E. Johnson.

CONFIDENCE ALL AROUND

Every Line of Trade Getting Better in New York.

Wholesale and Retail Merchants Preparing for Big Business.

New York, Oct. 1.—Every line of trade is getting better in this city as our wholesale and retail merchants are preparing for a large business this autumn and winter and, they hope a profitable one.

From the large stores on Forty-second street, down to the importers and exporters along the docks in the shipping districts, there is a spirit of confidence in trade that is in marked contrast with their views during the past five years.

The negotiations on the proposed loan to the allies brought to this city as visitors prominent bankers, financiers and business men from all sections of the country and the reports of those from New England from the Central Atlantic states, from the Central states, the West, the far West and the Northwest were as brilliant as conservative men could detail; the men from the South and Southwest were confident of business being better, were not blue, but it was evident that they had not passed through such active months during the present year as had the business men of the other sections of the country.

Confidence in Future. There was not a trace of despondency, there was confidence in the future, but not the elation as to the present and past that was so visible in the men from the East, the North and the West. Commercial interests and industrial interests are not paying so much attention to the foreign loan matter as are the financiers and the bankers, especially those interested in matters of foreign exchange.

Even the manufacturers of munitions and dealers in all other war materials realize that so long as the war lasts the allies will have to buy their outfits and that they will find the money to pay for them for months yet they do not doubt.

They all feel that within six months financial exhaustion of the allies will end the war if the latter are not able to conquer the central powers by that time.

The impression here is that before Nov. 1 the result of the long-promised drive of the allies will be known. That the Gallipoli peninsula and the Dardanelles between this writing and Oct. 10 will witness either a complete Turkish overthrow or a collapse of the allies' campaign there, is the opinion of parties in close touch with the military situation in Europe.

Early Peace Is Possible. If there is not a pronounced victory for the allied forces upon that peninsula before the winter winds strike it, which they do about Oct. 15, the land forces will be in danger of having their supplies from the fleets cut off, as it will then be impossible to continue the lightning service during the stormy weather.

SHOWN HOW TO "DRESS UP" WINDOWS

Display Men Demonstrate Their Art to Thirty Merchants.

About thirty Duluth and Superior merchants were given an educational demonstration of the art of window trimming and sign painting by members of the Twin Ports Display Men's association at the Commercial club last evening.

The demonstration, which started at 8 o'clock, included stereopticon views of the prize-winning window displays in New York city at the time the International Display Men's association held its annual convention there last evening.

Some persons place the total at approximately $100,000, but since the loan negotiations have been under way for some time, it is not possible to say.

The foreign holders hope for success of the loan, and, if it succeeds, and financial pressure abroad lessens, as they hope, they will try and retain the loan, and, if it fails, they will sell the securities, those issued in the United States.

The report of the placing by Sweden of an order with Germany for $10,000,000 worth of coal, if it is true, is taken as a signifying that the Germans are to supply it from the mines of Poland, recently captured from the Russians, and are to ship it to Sweden through the Baltic ports of Danzig, Koenigsberg, Nienm and Libau.

If this country had received the Swedish order for coal it is doubtful if the vessels to carry the supply needed by that country could have been secured.

As it is, eliminating the Swedish order other orders for coal are reduced and limited by the shortage of vessels, and while the shipments for months past are enormous, and they will continue to be exceedingly heavy as compared with export shipments of former years, yet 50 per cent more coal could be disposed of abroad if vessels were available and rates for cargoes not so excessive.

Big Real Estate Loan. A significant financial event in real estate affairs was the obtaining last week by McGraw-Hill, a building firm here, of building loans aggregating $1,000,000 from the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, to be used in construction of two twelve-story apartment structures on the corner of West End avenue and Eighty-ninth street.

This company has loaned heavily recently upon big West side apartments, and really men throughout the city say that building operations will be widely extended during the next sixty days, as funds are now pressing for investment in good mortgages for the first time in four years.

There is in Wall Street among cautious and shrewd men a disposition to let what are known as "war stocks" have a rest and to advise purchases of railways and industrials not dependent for their values upon heavy operations of the nations. They regard the war stocks as dangerous now and many of the other classes of stocks and their purchase more profitable.

It is singular how much impressed are most persons with the feasibility of Henry Ford's idea, as to a mosquito fleet of submarine boats being a factor in national defense, and they look for a successful demonstration of the efficiency of such craft.

store, president of the association, explained the art of the proper drapery, using a series of drawings in showing the best methods employed in trimming large show windows. A. E. Ortolan, of the Tower Clothing company, Superior, gave a rapid demonstration of card and sign writing.

Another interesting feature was the talk on pen writing by H. J. McKie of the Columbia Clothing store, who declared that pen work is an important adjunct in show card writing.

J. F. Gillespie of the Smith Shoe store and Edward Barbo of the Wieland Shoe store, gave a practical demonstration of dressing a window with footwork.

The meeting last night, President Hopkins announced at the meeting, was prepared to allow the merchants just what the members of the association are doing and how they are endeavoring to co-operate with their employers. The Duluth members accepted the invitation of the Superior representative to attend a banquet in January.

FORMER DULUTHIAN KILLED IN FAR WEST

Arthur W. Snow, a former Duluthian, was killed accidentally Sept. 18 while boarding a train near his home at Firdale, Wash., according to a report received by friends here yesterday.

Mr. Snow was the inventor of the Snow patent track lifting and grade device, and for many years was superintendent of construction on the Duluth & Rainy Lake railroad. He leaves a wife and two children.

Matters.

Duluth sportsmen are urged to attend the meeting of the Northeastern Minnesota Game and Fish Protection association, which will be held this evening at the Commercial club.

Several matters of interest to the rod and gun men will be taken up for discussion, and the matter of affiliating with the state organization will also be acted upon. Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, and E. W. Cobb, state superintendent of fisheries, are both expected to be present and address the meeting.

Those interested in the building of the proposed new hatchery in St. Louis county will also be given an opportunity to air their views on the subject. James A. Lawrie, secretary of the association, and Mr. Cobb will have a report to make to the club as to the feasibility towards locating the new hatchery in the Split Rock river along the north shore. Protection for all kinds of game will also be discussed.

GRATEFUL FOR AID ON LATEST TAG DAY

To the Editor of The Herald:
The Duluth branch of the American Jewish Relief committee expresses its gratitude to residents of Duluth who contributed so generously last Saturday to the war relief fund.

The committee particularly is grateful to the newspapers, which heartily supported the tag-day project, to the Jewish women and girls who worked so valiantly, despite the inclement weather, to managers of moving picture theaters where tag-day alms were exhibited, and to the following citizens and companies which gave valuable assistance in carrying out the details of the collection:

John A. Stephenson, Dr. Maurice Ledvitz, Payson & Co., Duluth-Electric company, Universal Electric company, Duluth Paper Stock company, the First National bank, the Duluth Printing company and the Photo-Engraving company.

MISS MAMIE WEINBERG, in Charge of the Committee.

SEMI-MONTHLY PAY DAY

To the Editor of The Herald:
Some time ago a request was sent to the city commission asking that they make arrangements to pay their employees twice a month. No action was taken as they consider the time check and the assignment of wages to storekeepers as good enough for the man who wears the overalls.

Mr. Young does not believe that the city should adopt humane measures in dealing with the common herd, nor in any way assisting the poorer and employed, except to give them time checks which have been outlawed in this state.

Mr. Young, Mr. Silberstein and Mr. Prince are opposed to the semi-monthly pay day, while Mr. Farrell and Mr. Merritt are in favor of it, and this is explained by the fact that in the common laborers work, while in the other departments the force is mostly an office force.

As to expense, I have learned upon good authority that instituting the semi-monthly pay day will not add one cent of cost, but supposing it should, would it not be more humane to spend some money in assisting the workers in the city, rather than to have a revolution in the sum which Commissioner Silberstein used in the purchase of those shields for the policemen?

Mr. Silberstein says: "The workers do not want to be paid twice per month, and the business men who do a credit business would rather have the money at the end of thirty days than every two weeks."

Most of the business houses in Duluth as well as other cities offer a discount of 2 per cent in cash, and I understand that Mr. Silberstein takes advantage of the discount. In the last campaign "a business administration" I have often wondered whether he had found it, or whether he had transferred the duties of administration to some one else.

The commissioners may rest assured that they will be paid twice per month, compelled to do so by a vote of the people. Duluth, Sept. 30.

SITUATION IN MEXICO.

To the Editor of The Herald:
In discussing the situation in Mexico, the daily press the capitalist press, forget one fundamental, the cause of the revolution. At no time has a revolution broken out for mere pleasure. The Roman republic fell

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD.

Why Is the Family Doctor?

AN OLD time specialist recently made some pertinent observations upon the "passing of the family doctor." He was describing an old-time practice, which consisted of looking at the tongue, feeling the pulse and prescribing a shotgun mixture to fit the patient's own diagnosis. That sort of thing isn't passing; it passed some time ago.

A correspondent, a literary woman, asks what one is to do when one has no family and consequently no family physician.

Answer—Have a doctor and stick to him through the years.

The habit of running from one specialist or near-specialist to another for this and that trouble is unwise from an economical standpoint, if health is really wealth, as philosophers say. A specialist may be very good in his own field and still be fatally handicapped without the expert opinion of the patient's regular physician. The family doctor knows about your constitution, your idiosyncrasies, your heredity, your temperament, your personal medical history and especially the nature and vital influence upon the present trouble.

We always hear when John Jones goes away to see the great specialist—of his own choosing. But if John comes home disappointed, we rarely get the news—that is a matter which John prefers not to talk about. When a patient picks his own specialist he is very likely to pick the wrong man.

A good specialist is a man whose patients come from family doctors who know and respect the specialist's skill.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe or indicate cases or make diagnoses. All letters to Dr. Brady in health or disease, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

When less than 2 per cent of the people held all the property and the majority of the people were reduced to poverty, in France the revolution broke out after 11,000,000 people had starved to death and the ones yet living were told to eat grass.

The Civil war in this country of '61 was practically the same thing. The wages to the best mechanics were hovering about 25 cents a day and when every white man was reduced to a negro chaser by the fugitive law, that, of course, was the climax.

In Mexico it is nothing different, because it is impossible to start a revolution under any other circumstances. Under the tyrannical rule of Diaz wages were reduced to 7 cents a day. Soliders had a vote, all the land was held by foreigners. Madero was killed, his death was plotted on the United States soil, all this and much more came about by so-called honest business methods, which the promoters themselves will term robbery of the highest magnitude and President Wilson found it out after his soldier boys landed in Vera Cruz. It is safe to say that John Kenneth Turner has had more influence on the government at Washington in this matter than any other man. He has laid the situation before the president as it is, and it is to Mr. Wilson's credit that he withdrew from Mexico.

If Mr. MacManus would find a brute of a neighbor beating his family, we believe he would interfere, says the Tribune. Yes, Mr. MacManus (President Wilson) did interfere, but found that the family was beating the brute and decided to let him go to it.

In his particular field. A near-specialist is one who gets the patients direct from the market, without regard to the family doctor's ideas. There is a lot of difference, though many unfortunately do not realize it until too late.

In this respect, at least, the family doctor is still indispensable. He knows better than any one else which specialist to select for a given case.

If he has your confidence and you have his good will, as you should in the circumstances, the doctor will see that you get what you need when you need it.

Just the other day a "wiseheimer" fellow with foot trouble consulted a so-called "foot specialist" who applied a pair of arch props and the poor fellow a pair of special shoes. The "expert" gave various "treatments" for several weeks. Finally the victim had to call in the family doctor, who found that the "foot trouble" was due to locomotor ataxia. The family doctor would have been cheaper in the first place. But the wise ones can't see it that way. "What's the use of going to an ordinary doctor," they argue, "like children. Why not use a specialist right away?"

He said he had received twelve dozen eggs to the district superintendent, he said.

SUPPOSED DYNAMITE NOTHING BUT PLASTERS
New York, Oct. 1.—The eight sticks of supposed dynamite found on the Brooklyn pier of the Sicula-Americana line steamer Santa Gertrudis, just before she sailed with 1,700 Italian refugees last Monday night, were really eight packages of adhesive plaster, according to an announcement made last night by Louis Costello, camp of Pierce Bros., agents of the dynamite.

The eight packages resembled dynamite in shape. On either end were the words "40 per cent," indicating the amount of medicine in the bandage. It is believed the packages were dropped from a case consigned to the Italian government.

Heat a Menace to Lives of Old Folks Sickness and Misery Are Caused by Constipation in Hot Weather.

People of advancing years should be very careful of their health during the hot months. One has only to follow the mortality record of elderly people, as reported in the papers, to realize that these are the hardest months of the year for them.

It is most important to the maintenance of health and vigor at this time to avoid constipation, with its accompanying headaches and muscular and blood congestion. This can be best accomplished by the timely use of a gentle laxative, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Early people should avoid strong remedies that are pleasant to the taste, easy and natural in its action and does not gripe. Its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system.

Elderly people should avoid strong physics, cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills as these afford only temporary relief and are a shock to the entire system.

Every home a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should always be on hand. It is inexpensive and can be obtained in any drug store for only fifty cents. For a physics, cathartics, purgatives, salts and pills as these afford only temporary relief and are a shock to the entire system.

DULUTH BANKERS ARE OPTIMISTIC Conditions Warrant Hopes of Period of Real Prosperity.

Duluth bankers express themselves as gratified regarding the present course of business and the prospects for the fall and winter months.

With the grain movement now on its full force, the volume of trade is showing remarkable expansion in this city and district, and as they view it, the business situation is already reflecting the influence of the record-making cereal yields of 1915. The more than $5,000,000 of new wealth—over one-half the estimated money value of the new crop—these huge harvests will bring to the American farmer must mean a very decided stimulation to general business here. Moreover the machinery of business in Duluth is in a position to handle the new situation. The volume of business in the city is practically certain to gain momentum during the next few weeks. Commenting upon the situation, the City National Bank of Duluth says in its October letter on trade conditions:

"General domestic business is improving steadily and surely and the improvement is being felt pretty well over the country. There are dull spots but these spots are growing smaller. In the Southeast states and on the very edge of the Pacific slope, business is considerably below normal. In the entire central part of the country from Western Pennsylvania to Eastern Nevada and from North Dakota to New Mexico, business is better than normal. In the New England states and in a strip completely surrounding the active area mentioned is a considerable area (being about one-fourth of the United States) in which business is just about what it

Peggy Peabody's Observations

The Borrowing Neighbor.

Borrowing in the neighborhood old-fashioned sense is fast falling into disuse. Undoubtedly the main reason for this is the crowded condition of neighborhood and the constant moving in and moving out of tenants. People have little opportunity to get acquainted with each other nowadays on terms of intimacy as warrants the borrowing of food-stuffs and household necessities for the time being.

I happened to be taking supper with some friends recently. While we were at table a knock called my hostess to the back door. A neighbor asked the loan of some cheese for her husband's supper. The borrower's husband liked the cheese, and being without any in his own home had not hesitated in sending his wife to the home of my friend for the loan of the aforementioned cheese.

Most of these borrowing neighbors seem to have become slowly less inclined to return a favor in full, if at all.

I can remember the time when little acts of accommodation were returned in helping measure and some little delicacy added to even up matters. I liked the spirit that prompted the old way of adjusting such matters and few can help feeling a bit resentful when some borrower utterly fails to remember an obligation, however small.

I recall another case of borrowing that occurred last week in my own home. A neighbor's son borrowed my nephew's wheel, and by accident, suppose, bent the handle bar so that it had to be sent away to be straightened. Instead of telling us about it, he quietly left the wheel standing against a tree in the backyard and slipped home. He was nearly 20 years old and there was no excuse for his action. He was simply dishonest and ungrateful.

These are the complaints I have to find with present-day borrowers. They do not hesitate to accept the use of your personal belongings and they use them as they would not use things that were not theirs. And when they render them utterly worthless or injure them in some part, boldly return them without offering to make them right. I would not mind loaning cheese and tea and such things, but not my nephew's wheel or my cut glass and the rugs on the floor. It's too risky.

Woman's Council Holds Last Meeting of Year; Hears Reports

Committee Named to Make Nominations for Officers to Be Filled; Interesting Talks on Work in Which Members Are Interested.

Last year at our meetings we studied the general tendencies in education, heard news of the present conditions of various colleges, we endorsed the teachers' pension bill, gave talks before the junior and senior girls of the high school and normal school with the view of helping them choose their colleges, held several luncheons and gave a lecture course. The lectures will be given by an astronomer, a physicist and two lecturers of international fame.

As has been announced, one of the lecturers, who will come in January, is Frederick Palmer who is representing the American press with the British army in France. Mr. Palmer expects to go this week to the Gallipoli peninsula. He will lecture on his experiences there during three weeks of short vacation, during which he will lecture on various phases of the European war.

Self-Help Work. Mrs. Kline spoke of the self-help committee of the A. C. A. that assists high school girls in developing their talents. Last year 3385 were earned by the members, the amounts ranging from 50 cents to $60.

Mrs. McKindley said: "If I were to say the Matinee Musical exists with just the thought of giving pleasure to the ears of its members I should feel its existence were indeed superficial. Back of the program must be the earnest intention in preparation for their presentation. In the first years of the club's existence we might possibly have been accused of superficiality, or perhaps selfishness, but better programs have been given since then."

To give an idea of the work that has been done by the educational and extension department, Mrs. McKindley read the report of that committee which was given at the annual meeting last spring.

Beginning of Rotary Club. Dr. McLean told the Rotary club was formed by a doctor and a lawyer and a banker for mutual help.

The object of the Woman's Rotary club is civic work and the helping of others. "This year we are going to try to get together to close their stores at 5:30 o'clock on Saturdays in July and August."

NOTED "MONK" AT GRAND

Prince Charles Does Many Clever Stunts; Almost "Human."

Prince Charles, one of the cleverest monkeys on the stage, made a big hit with New Grand patrons when he opened a week-end engagement at the New Grand.

Charles dressed like a man, ate at the table, drinks, smokes and does many other things, proving him to have remarkable intelligence. Some of his work brings forth peals of laughter.

Jessie Hayward and her players in "The Quilter" have an end of genuine merit that gets the ready endorsement of the audience. Miss Hayward shows considerable dramatic ability and the sketch is designed to entertain and "make a hit."

The Three Alarcos, Mexican singers and dancers, are quite the best act of the kind seen at the New Grand for many a day. Their rendering of Spanish songs and exhibition of Spanish dances prove them entertainers of merit and elicit the hearty approval of the audience.

Morton Brothers, parodists and themselves for novel entertainment. The photo-plays are features with many interesting and amusing scenes. Chaplin, king of "movie" comedians, is seen in his best screen play; Helen Holmes, the latest of the "Path of Danger," "The Eternal Feminine" and "The Eternal Feminine" and the Hearst-Selig News pictorial round out an excellent program.

Theater Gossip.

Today the Zeldas will offer a photoplay with Mrs. Leslie Carter in the lead.

Mrs. LESLIE mention Mrs. CARLTON AT her name is sufficient to guarantee a large audience.

ZELDA, a most excellent acting. The play will be the war drama, "The Heart of Maryland."

An elaborate production has been put out by Herbert Brenon, who produced "The Sign of the Cross." The play is in six acts with plenty of action and love interest. The Zeldas management will present Mrs. Carter in this play at 10 cents.

Those travel pictures at the Rex draw a good many men who do not like the women for the Rex.

BLANCHET SWEET, one of the heros AT THE REX, who is whether the fellow marries the girl.

But the play's the thing. "The Case of Becky," which is there these two weeks, is a very good play, with a hypnotism and the souls of two sinners. The play is a very good play, with a hypnotism and the souls of two sinners.

For the last time tonight at the Orpheum-Strand theater the five-reel play, "The House of a Thousand Candles," will be shown.

"The House of a Thousand Candles" is a most mysterious and thrilling story. It is a story of a man who is haunted by a ghost and a woman who is haunted by a man.

Within its palatial confines is the most beautiful collection of candlesticks and candelabra in the world. At the eventide lights from a thousand tapers illumine the interior of the Orpheum-Strand, an aged and eccentric millionaire, who is a collector of silver and gold.

"MOVIE" CENSORS NOT NECESSARY

Safety Head Says Citizens Have Right to Stop Immoral Shows.

Commissioner Silberstein, who wrote members of the Woman's council the other day that the appointing of a special board of censors for all motion pictures shown in Duluth would be impractical, has found a provision in the theater ordinance adopted Feb. 6, 1911, giving citizens the power to stop any performance.

"This provision," he said this morning, "makes the appointment of a censorship board unnecessary, as citizens are given the power to stop any show, circus, exhibit or motion picture that contains immoral features or objectionable parts of any description."

The ordinance, which was introduced by Alderman Moore under the Cullum administration, provides that five residents, including at least two men, can file an affidavit with the owner of any show, ordering him to stop all performances at least six hours before the second. If the owner or producer refuses to comply, he is liable to arrest, and the council has the right to revoke the theater license, according to the ordinance.

Editor of Iron Age Dead.
New York, Oct. 1.—Newspaper William, known in Iron Age circles as the editor of the Iron Age, died yesterday at his home, after a long illness. He was born in Waterford, Ireland, in 1843, and came with his father, John Williams, founder of the publication, to the United States in 1851.

SUPERIOR

Permanent Home for Fair.

The Douglas County Fair association is making plans for purchasing a permanent home for holding the annual county fair. It is claimed that if such a place could be procured at a reasonable price that the attendance to the show would be far greater. The Dean tract in the South end is spoken of as the possible location.

Gordon Again Arrested.

W. J. Gordon, 40, who was arrested Saturday evening on a charge of attempting to work a "con" game on Oscar Isaacson, and who is alleged to have been arrested yesterday on a charge of being a woman whom he claims is his wife. He demanded a hearing on the charge, and examination was set for Oct. 6. Bail amounting to $2,000 was demanded which he was unable to furnish.

Inspecting Stores.

Members of the Woman's council of Superior have inspected the sanitary conditions of 100 stores in the city at a meeting to be held this afternoon. The inspections were made in order that a "white list" of stores who kept their business houses clean and who should be patronized would be issued.

PUPILS BANK BIG SAVINGS

More Than $2,500 in Nickels Deposited During September.

Thirty-Two Schools Are on List to Make Deposits.

School children banked more than $2,500 in nickels, dimes and pennies during September, according to the first monthly report on school savings deposits, made public by officials of the First National bank today.

Thirty-two schools are listed in the report, with a total of $2,546.64 received. This is slightly below the figure for September, 1914, when $2,584.92 was deposited. This money is taken from the personal savings of the children, and is given to a member of the bank force who visits the schools. Franklin school pupils who led the list at the close of the 1914-1915 school year last June, were forced to give way to several other buildings this month.

The Jackson school, Fifth avenue east and Seventh street, leads the list with $354.27 to its credit, and the Edison school is second with $214.97. The Lincoln and Jefferson pupils also made excellent records.

Four parochial schools are listed among the public schools, and each has made a good showing. They are the St. Clements, St. Jean de Baptiste, St. Joseph and St. Mary.

EXPERT STRATEGIST SENT TO RUSSIANS

Gen. D'Amade, Head of French Mission, at Russ Headquarters.

Petrograd, Oct. 1, via London.—A special French military mission headed by Gen. A. G. D'Amade has reached the Russian headquarters at the front.

Gen. D'Amade for some time was in command of the French forces on the Dardanelles front. He was relieved of that duty in May and recalled to France for a governmental mission.

The Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin said last month that France and England were ready to assist Russia by sending to her field headquarters expert strategists to replace Russians.

ALLIES HAVE MORE MEN THAN GERMANS

Cologne Gazette Says Force Is Four or Five Times as Large.

The Hague, Oct. 1, via London.—The Cologne Gazette declares that the Germans on the western front are opposed by forces between four and five times as strong as their own.

"German machine guns and cannon," says this newspaper, "moved down the front line, and the mountains of enemy, but despite the mountains of machine guns, the French columns continued to advance. Enemy troops appeared provided with rations for from eight to ten days and appeared counted on marching through Luxembourg and Belgium immediately. The offensive on this front has so far resulted in a complete defeat for the enemy."

Despite the fate of those mowed down by German machine guns at the barbed wire entanglements, the British repeatedly sent further troops to the attack.

BRITISH CEASE THEIR ATTACKS

German War Office Reports Further Progress North of Loos.

Capture of 96,000 Russians During September Is Announced.

Berlin, Oct. 1, by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—The British ceased their attacks and the Germans have made further progress north of Loos, the war office announced today.

All French attacks east of Sochez, north of Neuville and Champagne failed.

The German war office also announced that during September there were captured on the Russian front about 96,000 prisoners, 37 cannon and 298 machine guns.

Western theater of war: Monitors of the enemy's progress in the attack of the British did not attempt to counter-attack north of Loos, but further progress in spite of the enemy's attack. A few prisoners, two machine guns and one mine thrower fell into our hands.

"Attempts of the French to gain ground east of Sochez and north of Neuville failed. In Champagne the strong forces east of Ambeville but failed. All French attacks in the region of the French front line, which were equally unsuccessful, participated.

Successful mine explosions damaged the French positions at Vauquois. French aviators dropped bombs on miles southeast of Bethune, killing eight French citizens. We suffered no losses.

Eastern theater of war: Army group of Field Marshal von Hindenburg, West of Pinsk, near Gredens, another position of the enemy was stormy, but failed. During the battle east of Mladkowitz and on a strand between Smorgon and Wischniew, Russian attacks broke down with heavy losses. Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army group took 12,000 prisoners yesterday.

Army group of Gen. Leopold: The enemy repeated his fruitless attacks. All his advances were repulsed and on Oct. 1, 1915, the situation was unchanged. Guns fell into our hands.

Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen: The situation was unchanged. Our attack is progressing. The number of prisoners taken by German troops in the east during September and the amount of booty captured are 221 officers, 46,441 men, 37 cannon, 298 machine guns and one aeroplane.

THE SILVER ACORN

The design of the Silver Acorn is very beautiful from the tip of the urn to the floor line, it's a series of graceful curves, the lines are excellent, every part of the construction blending into the whole in such a way as to produce proportion and symmetry that are very pleasing.

It combines the well known three-flue construction with some original ideas in flue building which prove conclusively at every test that we have the quickest acting, most efficient flue system ever conceived in stove building.

worse to scratch them. So the child asked permission to scratch.

"I should think that if little Geeka could contain herself until that fat distance she made the journey all that indefinitely without scratching. How ever, I suppose that if the child had been in the garret, and the mother in the bed, she would have been scratched by the edges of her mosquito net, and away during the half-hour wait for her mother's arrival."

"No, they never ask such questions as that. They merely ask questions to keep their mother on the job. It is all right for children not to ask permission to do a thing that they oughtn't to do, as they might be able to say afterward that they didn't know they were doing wrong and thus get away with it. I have known such policies and practices to go through all right in my own young days."

"I suspect that these kids ask permission only when they are sure that their request will be approved. If it is something that they know they ask."

"They have established a reputation by asking a lot of easy ones, but thing like: 'Ma, do you care if we eat one of old man (Obba's) squashes?' or, 'Ma, do you care if we throw stones street?' or, 'Ma, can we dump a bucket of water on the cook?'"

"Mrs. Fiddon told us that her little Geeka called to her from down in the basement, and the obedient mother, thinking it important, tramped down from where she was piling things that were around in the garret. When she got there little Geeka said: 'Do you care if I scratch my knee?'"

"That's the truth! Geeka's father had told her that it made mosquito bites worse to scratch them. So the child asked permission to scratch."

"That's the truth! Geeka's father had told her that it made mosquito bites worse to scratch them. So the child asked permission to scratch."

"I suspect that these kids ask permission only when they are sure that their request will be approved. If it is something that they know they ask."

"They have established a reputation by asking a lot of easy ones, but thing like: 'Ma, do you care if we eat one of old man (Obba's) squashes?' or, 'Ma, do you care if we throw stones street?' or, 'Ma, can we dump a bucket of water on the cook?'"

"Mrs. Fiddon told us that her little Geeka called to her from down in the basement, and the obedient mother, thinking it important, tramped down from where she was piling things that were around in the garret. When she got there little Geeka said: 'Do you care if I scratch my knee?'"

"That's the truth! Geeka's father had told her that it made mosquito bites worse to scratch them. So the child asked permission to scratch."

Best Treatment for Catarrh

S. S. S. Removes the Cause

Specialists in catarrh troubles have agreed that it is an infection of the blood. The laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., at Atlanta, have proven it. Once you get your blood free from impurities—cleansed of the catarrhal poison which it is now a prey to because of its unhealthy state—then you will be relieved of catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, raw sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable bad breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with someone who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S. discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If you are for free expert medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean. They will prove to you that thousands of sufferers from catarrh, after consistent treatment with S. S. S., have been freed from the trouble and all its disagreeable features and restored to perfect health and vigor. Don't delay the treatment. Take S. S. S. at once.

This Fry Pan—which regularly would sell for $1.15—is offered for a limited time for 72c and the coupon, so you can see for yourself the difference between "Wear-Ever" fry pans—which are stamped from cold, hard, thick sheet aluminum—and fry pans made of cast iron, or cast aluminum, or "spin" aluminum.

SAFETY HEAD TO INSPECT SIGNS

Will Tour Streets With Building Inspector to Check Up Conditions.

Commissioner Silbertstein, head of the safety division, will make a personal inspection of the defective signs in Duluth.

The safety head announced this morning that he and Building Inspector Kieffer will go out at 8 o'clock some bright morning next week and learn how many signs along Superior and First streets have an insufficient supply of lights or fail to come up to the provisions of the building ordinance.

Last week the fire department made a report on about 600 signs in all parts of the city, showing that at least 200 were not properly hung or lit and that as many business and professional men were liable to arrest for failing to comply with the building ordinance.

After a thorough inspection, Commissioner Silbertstein proposes to issue a warning to those violating the law and failure to comply will mean arrest, as the names will be turned over to the police.

"Signs must be hung according to the law for the safety of the public," Commissioner Silbertstein said this morning.

INDICT THREE BANK OFFICERS

President of Riggs National and Others Charged With Perjury.

In Connection With Bank's Suit Against Secretary McAdoo.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Charles C. Glover, president of the Riggs National bank; William J. Flather, vice president, and H. H. Flather, cashier, were indicted today for perjury in connection with the bank's recent suit against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams.

Four indictments were returned against each of the bank officials, who are charged with perjury in making an affidavit which set forth that the bank never had engaged in stock market transactions and had no transactions with Lewis Johnson & Co., a defunct firm of local stock brokers.

Attorneys for Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller Williams contended at the trial of the bank's suit that the books of Lewis Johnson & Co. showed many transactions in the name of the bank officials named. The case soon after was laid before a grand jury.

Vice President Milton E. Allen and Joshua Evans, Jr., assistant cashier of the bank, were called to testify. They are not mentioned in the indictments returned today.

CHARLES G. GLOVER, President of Riggs Bank.

The indictments are a sequel to the suit of the bank and Comptroller Williams, because of personal animus toward some of the bank's officers, had conspired to injure the institution by withdrawing public deposits, making extraordinary demand for special reports and finally by imposing a fine of $5,000 upon the bank for failure to make a certain report called for by the comptroller.

The district supreme court dismissed all the charges the bank made against the secretary and the comptroller, but left undecided the question of the $5,000 fine. A decision on that point is expected at the fall term of court.

Meanwhile the treasury officials are enjoying the fall term of court interest on government bonds held by the bank as payment for the penalty.

STATE TREASURY HAS $4,333,835 BALANCE

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—October was ushered in today with a cash balance of $4,333,835 in the state treasury. The largest part of this, $1,700,083, was credited to the revenue fund. The general school fund has a balance of over $1,800,000 but that will be put in circulation in a few days. The balance this month, State Treasurer Smith says, is the best in some years.

LLOYD GEORGE THANKS WIFE

She is Responsible for Much of Husband's Success—Although She Suggests and Edits Many of Her Husband's Brilliant Speeches, She Keeps Discreetly in the Background.

New York Sun: Not merely in play and stories is the "woman in the home" a vital factor in a statesman's successful career. In real life there is many a woman helpfully sharing her husband's problems, wisely advising as to their solution and serving as official cheerer up. Among such wives Mrs. David Lloyd George deserves mention, for she is, as an English periodical reports, largely responsible for her husband's success as statesman, speaker and man of affairs. She often suggests and always edits her husband's brilliant speeches, but manages to keep discreetly out of sight, giving the caricature no openings.

Mrs. Lloyd George was a Welsh girl, "Maggie Mynydddydd," in colloquial parlance, or, as the wedding invitations more formally put it: "Miss Margaret Owen, daughter of Cricketh."

Mr. Richard Owen was a farmer, who looked rather askance at the ambitious young professional man who came after four years to the marriage, which took place in 1888. Two years later where the husband's rise as an important figure in public life has been steady.

Personally, Mrs. Lloyd George would give the credit to her husband, but from the earliest she was encouraged and supported her husband at every step of his career, even though she led her into a mode and sphere of life quite unfamiliar to her instincts. Keeping pace with her distinguished spouse in a thorough understanding of public affairs has been, one can guess, a huge task, but this quietly clever woman has never let it interfere with her domestic life and family interests. She has sons in the army and a young daughter, Megan Lloyd George, who

SEWER CONNECTION MUST BE MADE WHEN ORDERED

Duluth will have a law tomorrow making sewer connections compulsory in the interest of public health.

The Silverstein ordinance passed by the council on Aug. 31 becomes effective tomorrow and Duluthians who refuse to make the sewer connections whenever ordered to do so by the health department will be liable to arrest.

Since taking office last April, Commissioner Silverstein explained this morning, many Duluthians have refused to make sewer connections when asked to do so by the health department. The city has been helpless in forcing such improvement, he said, and as a result he prepared the ordinance.

The maximum penalty for violating any of the provisions of the measure is a $100 fine or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days.

Section 1. It shall be the duty of the director of public health, from time to time, to cause the installation of sewer connections at the location of all buildings or other structures, residences, stores, out-houses, barns, etc., which may be connected with the sewer, and he shall also report to the health department the names of the owners, tenants, occupants, or agents in possession of the building, and the location of the building, and the location of the sewer connection.

Section 2. Upon the coming in of such a report, the director of public health shall cause the sewer connection to be made, and he shall also cause the sewer connection to be made, and he shall also cause the sewer connection to be made.

Section 3. If the public health demands the making of such connection and the owner, tenant, occupant, or agent refuses to make the same, being building, structure or other edifice with sewer connection, or other edifice with sewer connection, or other edifice with sewer connection.

Section 4. The director of public health, from time to time, to cause the installation of sewer connections at the location

THE SQUEAL.

Chicago News: "The importance of the squeal and the yell has not been made clear yet, at least not as clear as other things of less importance."

"Every machine is equipped with a squeal. The better the machine the better the squeal. Every animal has its squeal, and in man and woman it has its highest development."

"Even the little toy imitations of men and animals have squeals to them. They press a certain part of the anatomy and out comes the squeal. It is a sign of the machine, and nothing more, although most toys have a little setting or background to give character."

"About the only pleasure in baseball is the yelling. If a man comes back from the game hoarse with yell, he is a good man. The yelling has been good for him."

"Every summer there are picnics. Each picnicer comes home with a pig of green which he or she waves and yells. The yell is the backbone of the picnic."

"If a bunch of women are squealing they are having a good time. If all are squealing then all are having a good time. If half are squealing, then only half are having fun."

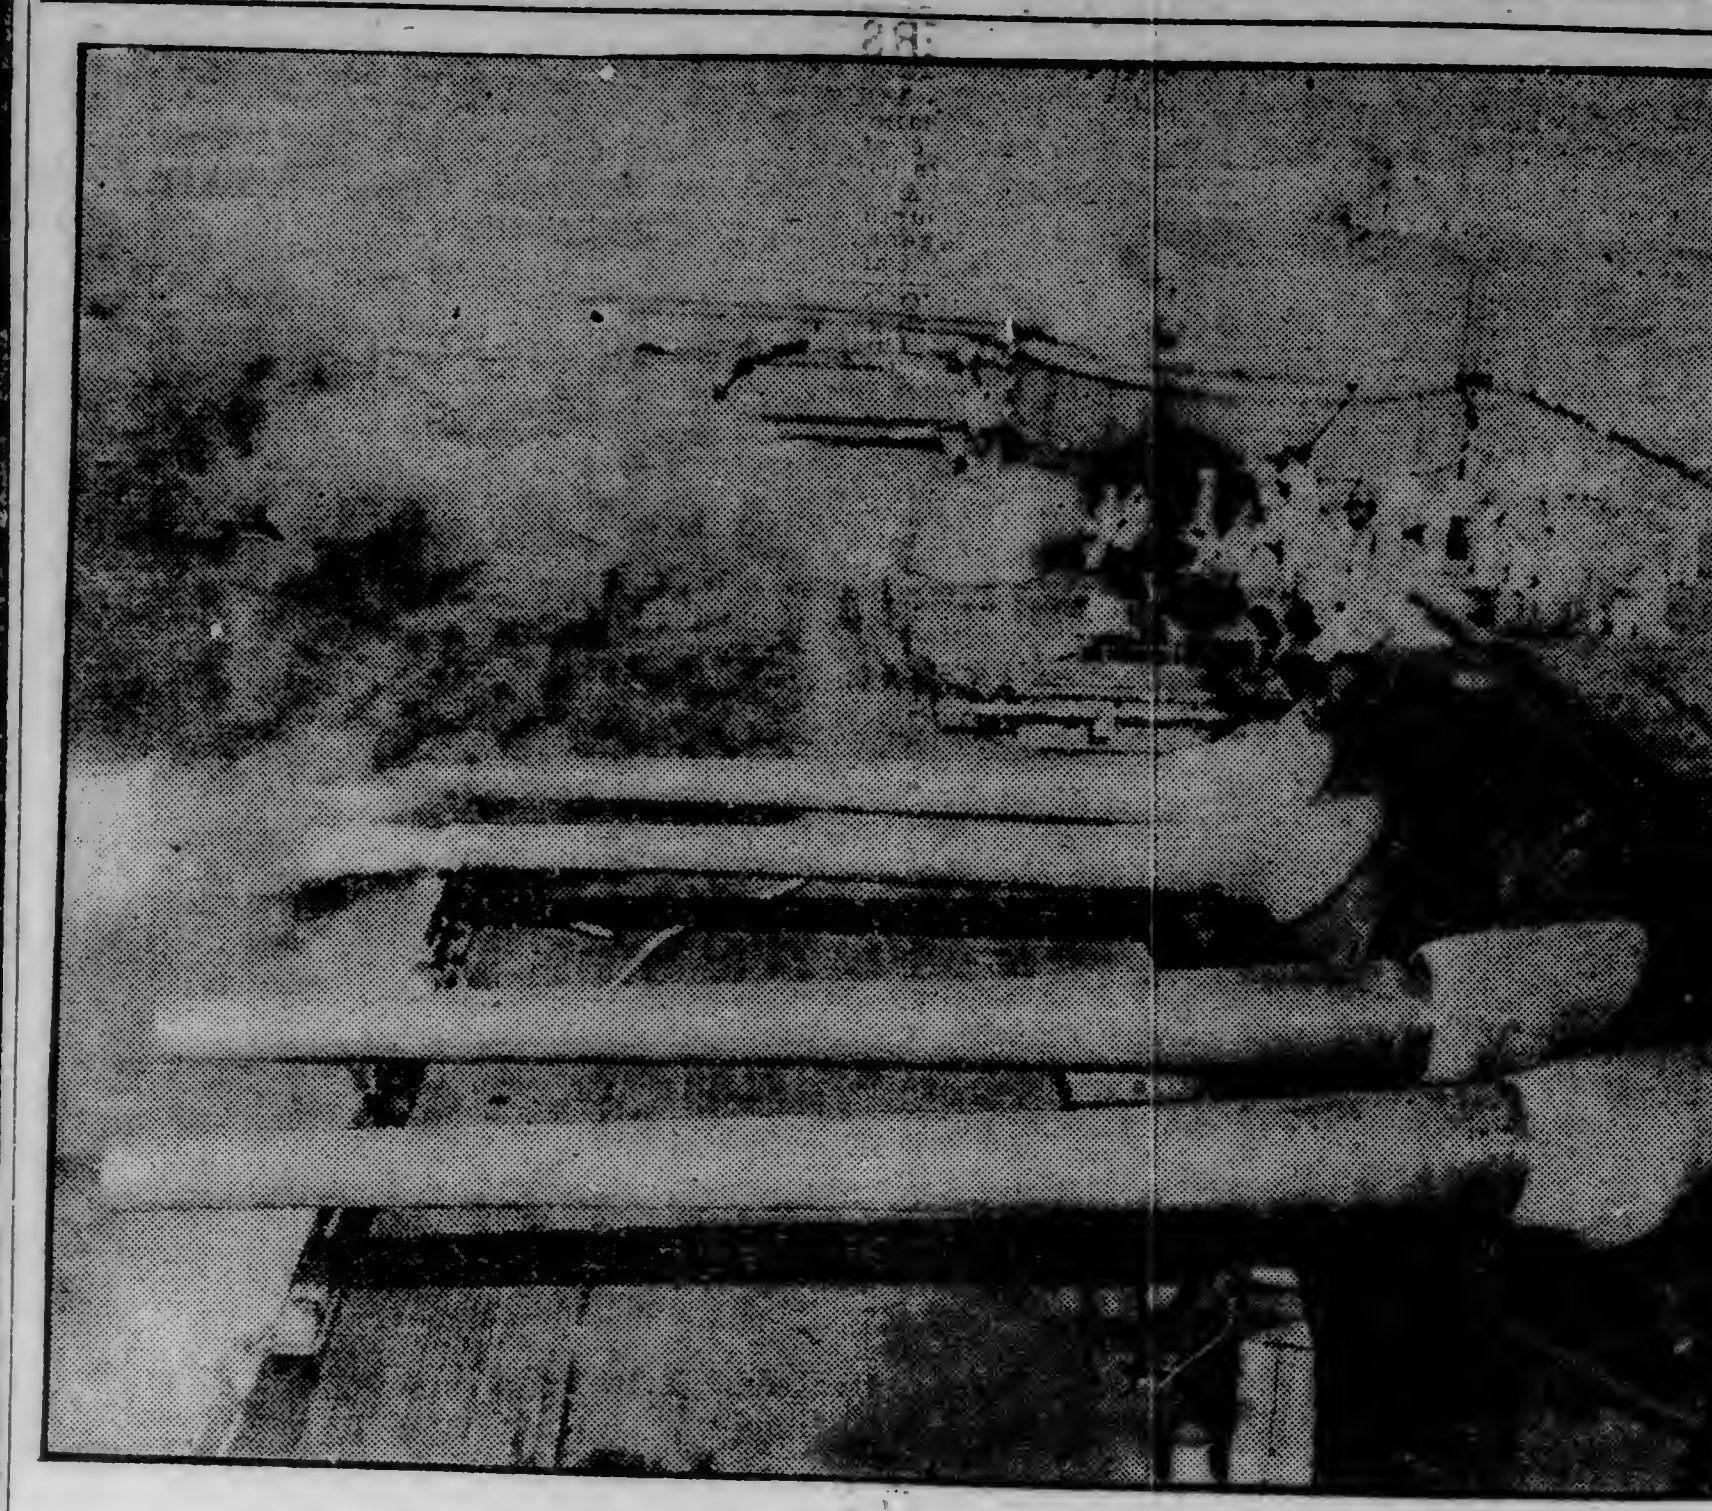

"If a daddylonglegs drops down a lady's neck she squeals. The fun of squealing is ample compensation for the discomfort of those long tickly legs. She takes the squeal as a man takes a shot of booze or a long story to forget his sorrows and cares and worries and annoyances."

"A woman also squeals when she is happy. In fact, a girl will squeal when she is being kissed. Squealing the chutes, whirling the wheels, hitting the hot spots and rolling the rough rollers are all paid for in good money for the sake of the squeal. It is the fair sex."

"If a fellow makes good shot the women squeal. If he makes a bad shot they squeal. The squeal is a more fun out of a game than the men do. To rise up and yell is not as good as to squeal. A man does not open the safety valve at such times."

"When a ball goes right through a third baseman's stomach and then goes right on to left field and bounces off the fence, the average man takes up his hat as if he had a $5 bill in it, and grinds his teeth as if he were at a meal. The jawbone and the clutch

BISHOP OF DULUTH CATHOLIC DIOCESE FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS

Next Sunday will mark the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Roman Catholic diocese of Duluth, established in 1889 when Rt. Rev. James McGolrick came here from St. Paul to take charge.

In the more than a quarter of a century that Bishop McGolrick has been here the growth of all the various parishes has been remarkable. Many handsome and costly churches have been erected, and the diocese has grown from a small parish to a large and flourishing one.

When Bishop McGolrick returns to the city from his trip to St. Paul, he will bring with him a number of new parishes and a number of new churches.

THE SHERIFF AND THE PRETTY STATION MISTRESS

An Englishman and His Daughter Visit a London Music Hall and See a "Cinema" of Life in the American "Wild West."

From "A Knight on Wheels," by San Hay Houghton-Mifflin Company. But Sylvia insisted upon seeing the program out. Accordingly the party sat on, what time such of the audience as still remained were plunged into darkness.

"I love you," said the sheriff to the pretty station mistress. The only visible furniture was a writing table, but technical detail was supplied by a lever standing up in the middle of the floor.

THE EASIEST ACTOR TO WRITE FOR.
Harry B. Smith in the American Magazine: The actor I have found it easiest to write for is Frank Daniels, who can come out on the stage and say "good morning," and make every body laugh.

The most successful song that I have written for Frank Daniels was "The Idol's Eye," which related the unhappy romance of an actor who fell in love with the tattooed man in a side show. A verse of it was:

"He had designs upon himself;
She had designs on him,
And she loved to look at the picture book
He displayed on every limb.
"Oh, why should I go abroad," he said,
To Germany, France, or Rome,
When a lovely collection
Awaits my inspection
In our happy little home?"

The chorus is:
"He was a human picture gallery,
Is such a spectacular gent.
He won her heart and drew her salary,
Never gave her a cent.
Till one fine day, with her season's pay
He paid the fat lady off he ran.
It is perfectly true,
You can't beat a tattooed man."

LEGAL NOTICES.
NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE—Default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Orville D. Edgbert and Mary L. Edgbert, his wife, mortgage to C. There is claimed to be due and actually due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ten hundred and fifty-four and 10/100 ($1054.43), principal and interest, and no action at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover said debt in part therefor.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become due and payable, and pursuant to the statute in such case and in default provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the property therein described, to-wit: Lot 17, Lake Avenue, Lower Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof, which said property, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, at the office of the Sheriff in the Court House at Duluth, in said county and state, on Monday, the 25th day of October, 1915, at ten o'clock A. IMPROVED BUSINESS CONDITIONS SHOWN

Washington, Oct. 1.—Improved business conditions in practically all sections of the United States are reflected in reports from Federal reserve agents in the twelve districts made public today by the Federal reserve board.

New York reports retail business in certain sections, but wholesale trade is expanding and the outlook is good for fall and winter business.

Chicago notes that any change there in general conditions is for the better, and that there is apparent a feeling of more confidence in the future. Crops continue to look good.

Minneapolis says the district will contribute between 200,000,000 and 300,000,000 bushels of hard wheat to the 1916 crop, compared with about 160,000,000 bushels a year ago. The report says it is already clear that farmers are showing a disposition to hold, in the expectation of better prices. General business is said to be normal.

MICHIGAN ALUMNI TO YELL FOR A MILLION

Campaign for Big Fund Begins
By Former Maize and Blue Men; Duluth Members Not Prepared
and Will Start Later.

U. of M. Rah! Rah!
U. of M. Rah! Rah!
Hoo-rah! Hoo-rah!
Michigan! Rah! Rah!

Is this college yell worth $1,000,000?
It may seem like a rather stiff price for a college yell, but the alumni of Michigan university have capitalized
the maize and blue "Hoo-rah" at exactly $1,000,000.

At 9 o'clock this evening in 132 cities throughout the country, the Michigan yell will ring out, its thunderous notes signaling to Michigan alumni everywhere that the campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the Michigan union has begun.

Duluth alumni of Michigan university will not meet this evening, it is announced by E. W. MacPherson, chairman of the local committee appointed to help raise the $1,000,000. A general call to all maize and blue alumni will be issued shortly, he said, and the local campaign started.

The meetings in the 132 cities, according to reports from Ann Arbor, will all start simultaneously on a signal from the Michigan city, where President Hutchins of the university will press an electric button flashing to all parts of the country.

Since leaving Duluth Mr. Ericson has studied under some of the greatest former Duluthian has been commissioned to paint a large number of pictures in Europe.

GREATEST PHOTOPLAY PRODUCED

VIOLA ALLEN
IN ESSANAY'S 6 ACT FEATURE
"THE WHITE SISTER"

GREAT PLAY IN FILMS AT ORPHEUM-STRAND.

Viola Allen has immortalized "The White Sister" in film, which will be seen at the Orpheum-Strand Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This masterpiece of the late F. Marion Crawford, one of the world's foremost authors,
is now presented to the public in the greatest photoplay ever produced.
The genius of this famous actress has been the means of bringing out
the intense dramatic action, all the delicate touches of pathos, all the lights and shadows of Mr. Crawford's greatest work, with unsurpassed excellence.
Essanay has spared no expense in the making of the most elaborate settings to fulfill the multifarious scenic conditions of the play, with the result that "The White Sister" is as perfect a photoplay in every respect as it is possible to construct.

Although this is Miss Allen's first appearance in photoplay, her wide experience on the stage, her great talent, and the fact that she has the type of beauty that photographs exceptionally well, has combined to win her an unparalleled success in her work.

Miss Allen entered into this new field with great enthusiasm. She was a warm personal friend of the author of "The White Sister," and of his family, and it was largely through the interest of the latter in the filming of the book, that she consented to enact the role in which she made such a signal success on the speaking stage. She grew more enthusiastic as the work progressed and took an active part in criticizing and reviewing the various scenes, with the result that she has created a masterpiece.

Miss Allen showed wonderful adaptability in fitting herself to the different conditions of working on the speaking stage to that in photoplays.
She not only grasped all the essentials with quickness and ease, but through her personality created such an atmosphere that players with whom she had never taken any parts were enabled to act with entire harmony with her interpretation of "The White Sister."

Richard C. Travers, who played opposite Miss Allen, was one of the strong factors in making this play such a success.

"ON TRIAL" CLOSING WEEK'S STAY HERE

Management Well Pleased With Play's Reception
in Duluth.

With matinee and evening performances today, the Belvidere success
"On Trial," which has been playing to large houses at the Lyceum theater
this city, from Duluth the company will go to Omaha, where a week stand will be made. From Omaha the show will go to Denver for a week and then to San Francisco for a season's run.

The management of "On Trial" expresses itself as being immensely pleased with the excellent patronage
given the show during the last week.

The play itself is an unusual piece of work, and it is ably presented by a well-balanced company.

The novelty of "On Trial" is found in the fact that it is written backward,
the third act unfolding a story that occurred a dozen years before that told in the first act. The author's original idea will undoubtedly be copied, but in the meantime "On Trial" is packing the playhouses.

RACE NEWS GOOD ROADS MOTOR GOSSIP LEGISLATION

ONE STANDARD FOR TRAFFIC

President Cole Urges Need
of Uniform Legislation for Vehicles.

Would Better Protect Public and Lighten Drivers'
Burden.

Even before the advent of the motor car it was found necessary in practically every community of any size to make rules and regulations governing the use of the streets for the safety of the public at large. With the coming of the motor car and the corresponding increase in traffic, additional rules were needed to care properly for the conditions which arose, and these rules have become as diversified as the geographical positions of the cities which originated and strove to enforce them.

The standardization of these various laws which govern the movement of traffic in American municipalities seems to be of vital importance and the only practical method of solving the present traffic difficulties. It not only will simplify the problems of the tourist, just as the standardization policy has simplified the problems of the motor car maker of today, but will give additional strength to the safety belt movement.

How difficult it is for the tourist who travels by motor car from one place to another to be compelled to follow a variety of rules which, from the standpoint of efficiency, might just as well be standardized. It is discouraging, indeed, for the touring motorist—and the number is increasing enormously each year—to find that he is the unconscious transgressor of the regulations of another city simply because he is ignorant of any change in the rules; for the law does not recognize ignorance as an excuse. With these difficulties would be eliminated and the cause for safety further advanced.

The enormous strides which have been made for the protection of the

NEW HUDSON LIMOUSINE

HUDSON LIMOUSINE.
A Distinguished Model, Most Luxurious—Extra Seats Face Forward or Backward, and Disappear When Not Wanted.

Fred J. Kiehn, representative in Duluth for the Hudson cars, is exhibiting in his show room his latest arrival, the new Hudson limousine. The photograph gives a very good idea of the appearance of this attractive car. It also shows the convenient and luxurious interior arrangement. This is one of the new line of Hudson closed cars that has attracted such favorable attention.

Mr. Kiehn strongly advises that anyone interested in a limousine of this description should call upon him at once as the number of cars allotted to this district for winter distribution is necessarily limited. Only those who place early orders can be sure of getting their car this season.

traveling public, either afoot or on wheels, by the different states and the various municipalities of the country, can be realized only when one stops to think how much more secure he feels when threading traffic today than he did only a few years ago.

In the larger cities can be seen the great improvement in handling the crowds on the main thoroughfares. One or two years ago the man with the heavy vehicle was the terror of the street. If he desired to monopolize it, smaller cars had to give way, while the pedestrian took his life in his hand when crossing the street at a busy corner.

Now it is entirely different. Traffic laws, with the blue-coated officers to enforce them, have changed it all, and the small vehicles are given the same rights as the large ones. The pedestrian is no longer a victim of the traffic officer's signals, but he is safe in crossing the street as he is on the sidewalk.

Until that time when traffic regulations shall have become standardized throughout the country, it behooves us all to live up to the present rules, for only by the complete co-operation of all concerned can the safety first movement reach its highest state of efficiency.

GIVES WIFE RIGHT TO USE HUSBY'S CAR.

The Missouri state court has decided that a wife has the right to demand from her husband the free use of his motor car during his absence from home. In a recent case where the husband, a traveling salesman, had stored his car not to let his wife use it, the court ordered the garage owner to release the car whenever the wife desired its use.

HERALD'S WEEKLY ROADS BUREAU AND BULLETIN

Under this heading the Duluth Herald is conducting a weekly column of information for automobile owners and drivers during the summer and fall months. If you are planning on taking a trip, write to the automobile department. All the information at our disposal is yours for the asking.

Motorists outside of Minnesota are especially invited to make use of this department.

George W. Cooley, engineer for the Minnesota state highway commission, who returned this week from Oakland, Cal., where he attended the Pan-American Road congress last month, is convinced that this state must do a large amount of road work, if it would keep pace with other commonwealths of the nation.

Regarding the roads in California and Ohio, where the highway labor is used, Mr. Cooley said that the state authorities are in full power, paying the contractors and disciplining the prisoners. In Ohio, he said, the paving jobs are even made in prison.

"California has a good system of using convict labor for road work," he said. "The state has been able to keep its roads in good condition because it offers smooth and well kept highways to that of any Western state. Unfortunately, our roads are not so well developed simply because we have not realized their value to us."

"The scenery of Northern California, the park region, the range, is wonderful, and on the shores of Lake Superior is unsurpassed anywhere in the world. We must make it accessible."

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 2.—Iowa is spending this year $2,218,223.10 on maintenance of the country roads. In addition to $2,651,288.20 for bridges, according to the published report of F. S. Shaw, state auditor, to direct taxes for the year are paying $5,018,823.10 for roads. In addition, the state automobile tax, which is divided among the counties of the state, is $1,200,000, making a total of over $6,000,000 available for roads. There are three road funds, a county, township and road dragging fund.

Charles C. Wood, traveling representative for an ink house in New York, travels all over the country in an automobile. He was in Duluth this week and especially in St. Louis county.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—A new scenic touring section has just been discovered by members of the American Automobile association. This section embraces a portion of the Appalachian mountain belt in Virginia and West Virginia—that area west of Staunton and north of Hot and White Sulphur Springs.

An interesting publication for motorists, who make periodical cross-country trips, is the Chalmers Clubman. Issued by the Chalmers factory, interesting articles are featured every month, giving detailed road information, while a detailed editorial stand has been taken on the side of good roads. A lengthy article on the Dixie highway is included in this month's publication.

Officers of the Superior Auto club are preparing a series of road maps and logs, similar to those obtained by Andrew Kiehn, secretary of the Duluth club. These will be ready for distribution within a short time. It was announced this week.

Radiator, Coleraine—Are Cromwell and McGregor included in the Duluth-Aitkin road log?

Answer—They are.

Motorist, Virginia—What towns are included in the trip from Duluth to Ashland?

Answer—Hawthorne, Barnes, Drummond, Bibb, Mason and Ashland.

The horse must make way for the motor car in St. Louis. After an investigation of the traffic conditions on Locust street, one of the busiest thoroughfares, the director of streets recommended that the use of horse-drawn vehicles be prohibited on this street.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 2.—The Tennessee highway commission is rapidly getting matters in condition for a vigorous and effective movement to supplant the present system of mud roads in Tennessee with modern highways of substantial construction and systematic planning. All sections of the state are receiving great interest in the commission and its work, and the campaign "to lift Tennessee out of the mud" will be given enthusiastic support.

Secretary J. J. Murray of the commission is sending out information to all counties explaining the various parts of the state and highway officials in adjoining states.

The Minnesota state highway commission has been completing and constructing of highways in the state costing, for the state share, $131,000. Practically fifty miles of road will be improved, including eighteen and one-half miles of the Yellowstone trail west of Granite Falls.

The introduction of the automobile into Yellowstone national park has involved the need of a new set of traffic regulations for the park. All trips will have to be so re-routed that there will be no retracing of steps save by completing the entire 120-mile loop. During certain hours of the day when wagons and carriages are moving, motor car traffic is prohibited.

One of the educational activities of the United States office of public roads is the exhibition of models of roads and road machinery. These are shown in fairs and conventions all over the country, and in a special railroad car that tours over the railroads.

ONE STANDARD FOR TRAFFIC

President Cole Urges Need

Would Better Protect Public and Lighten Drivers'
Burden.

Even before the advent of the motor car it was found necessary in practically every community of any size to make rules and regulations governing the use of the streets for the safety of the public at large. With the coming of the motor car and the corresponding increase in traffic, additional rules were needed to care properly for the conditions which arose, and these rules have become as diversified as the geographical positions of the cities which originated and strove to enforce them.

The standardization of these various laws which govern the movement of traffic in American municipalities seems to be of vital importance and the only practical method of solving the present traffic difficulties. It is only by simplifying the problems of the tourist, just as the standardization policy has simplified the problems of the motor car maker of today, but will give additional strength to the safety of movement.

How difficult it is for the tourist who travels by motor car from one city to another to be compelled to follow a variety of rules which, from the standpoint of efficiency, might just as well be standardized. It is discouraging, indeed, for the touring motorist—and the number is increasing enormously each year—to find that he is ignorant of the regulations of another city simply because he is ignorant of any change in the rules. It is equally discouraging for the motorist to find that he is ignorant of the regulations of another city simply because he is ignorant of any change in the rules. It is equally discouraging for the motorist to find that he is ignorant of the regulations of another city simply because he is ignorant of any change in the rules.

NEW HUDSON LIMOUSINE

A Distinguished Model, Most Luxurious—Extra Seats Face Forward or Backward, and Disappear When Not Wanted.

Fred J. Kleyn, representative in Duluth for the Hudson cars, is exhibiting in his show room his latest arrival, the new Hudson limousine. The photograph gives a very good idea of the appearance of this attractive car. It shows the convenient and luxurious interior arrangement. This is one of the new line of Hudson closed cars that has attracted such favorable attention. Mr. Kleyn strongly advises that anyone interested in a limousine of this description should call upon him at once as the number of cars allotted to this district for winter distribution is necessarily limited. Only those who place early orders can be sure of getting their car this season.

traveling public, either afoot or a wheel, by the different states and the various municipalities of the country, can be realized only when one stops to think how much more secure he feels when threading traffic today than he did only a few years ago.

Now it is entirely different. Traffic laws, with the blue-coated officers to enforce them, have changed it all, and the small vehicles are given the same rights as the large ones. The pedestrian also, if he will but learn to obey the traffic officer's signals, will be as safe in crossing the street as he is on the sidewalk.

Until that time when traffic regulations shall have become standardized throughout the country, it behooves us all to live up to the present rules, for only by the complete co-operation of all concerned can the safety first movement reach its highest state of efficiency.

It is in the larger cities can be seen the great improvement in handling the crowds on the main thoroughfares. One or two years ago the man with the heavy vehicle was the terror of the street. If he desired to monopolize it, smaller cars had to give way, while the pedestrian took his life in his hand when crossing the street at a busy corner.

According to motoring experts the contemplated trip is the hardest test to which any automobile has ever been subjected. Should the Maxwell be successfully driven from Mexico to Canada without the slightest hitch, it will have accomplished something thought almost impossible. Even should it be shut off for a single second, it will have proved conclusively the absolute reliability of the modern gas-driven conveyance.

MOTORISTS FLOCK TO YELLOWSTONE PARK.

Mammoth Hot Springs, Yellowstone Park, Oct. 2.—During August, the first month in which Yellowstone park has been open to motor car tourists, a total of 225 motor cars have toured the park. These cars have carried a total of 2,010 tourists, an average of over three persons per car. Owing to the bad weather, tourists traveling to the park has been falling off quite rapidly, the weather being rainy throughout the territory west of the Mississippi being largely responsible for the decline in travel.—Col. ACTRESS NEARING END OF LONG TOUR

Anita King Expects to Reach New York Next Week.
Speeding eastward through Ohio on a stiff enough schedule to tax the average man, the Paramount girl, Anita King, is rapidly nearing the end of her nerve-racking, cross-continental tour. She expects to deliver the message given her by Mayor James Rolph, of San Francisco into the hands of Mayor John P. Mitchell of New York during next week.

Spanning the country is a difficult and dangerous venture for a woman to attempt alone and Miss King is frank enough to admit that she doesn't want to do it again.

Among the fund of interesting detail which Miss King has to relate, there is much that is harrowing as well as humorous. In the Sierras of the Sierra mountains, she encountered a tramp who insisted that she let him travel in her car with her.

"I wouldn't permit myself to show how frightened I was, she related, 'but I handed him a flask of whiskey. I had in the car and asked him to come to the theater in Reno where I appeared the next night. Sure enough he came and brought me a wilted bouquet of flowers."

Miss King also received a proposal on her trip. In Wyoming she gave a lift to a sheep herder who was carrying a wounded lamb to town. He said he admired her courage in making the trip alone and after detailing all his earthly possessions, asked: "Wouldn't you like to make this trip our honeymoon trip?"

Neb. Miss King's car was stuck in the mud. A farmer came along with a load of hay and holding the pretty movie actress atop the load of hay with him, he offered to send another team to pull her car out of the mud. They drove along a little way when the hay cart struck a rut, upsetting the hay, movie actress and farmer all in a heap.

Miss King wears no trumperies en route, but a costume designed especially for the purpose.

ENORMOUS GAINS IN EXPORT TRADE

Increase of More Than 100 Per Cent Shown in Year.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The tremendous gains made in America's trade in motor cars and parts during the fiscal year ending June 30 are vividly shown in the detailed figures issued by the department of commerce. The gross figures showed that $1,380 motor vehicles, valued at $60,254,636, and parts worth $7,000,000 had placed the total of more than 100 per cent over the foreign sales of the previous twelve months, which amounted to $23,198,806.

The United Kingdom holds first rank in the volume of its imports of motor cars from this country. During June last the number of cars shipped to that country was 2,246, valued at $4,413,387, while in June a year ago the number was only 540 and the value $239,274.

During the twelve months ended June 30, the number of cars exported to the United Kingdom increased from 7,222, valued at $5,853,127, in 1914, to 13,534 cars, valued at $21,149,562.

The shipments to France in June last amounted to 969 cars, valued at $2,634,238, as against 143 cars, valued at $88,874, exported in June, 1914. During the fiscal year these exports rose from 2,429 cars, valued at $924,150, in 1914, to 5,411 cars, valued at $13,776,762, in 1915.

Italy's imports of cars from this country show a sharp decline from seventeen cars, valued at $15,891, in June a year ago, to four cars, valued at $2,892, in June last. Even more marked was the decrease during the fiscal year, 343 cars, valued at $242,695, being shipped there in 1914, while in 1915 the number was 115 and the value $75,255.

There were no shipments of cars from this country to Germany in June last, while in June a year ago forty-four cars, valued at $56,249, were exported. During the fiscal year, the number of cars exported there decreased from 1,435, valued at $1,059,249, in 1914, to 1,471, valued at $20,164, in 1915.

Eight hundred and twenty-seven cars were shipped to Canada in June last, the value being $631,693, while in June a year ago the number was 513 and the value $42,024. During the fiscal year the number shipped there decreased from 4,624 cars, valued at $5,919,776, in 1914, to 4,433 cars, valued at $4,423,338, in 1915.

war-ridden Mexico is not very flourishing. In June last eleven cars, valued at $13,355 were shipped there, as against three cars, valued at $1,577, exported in June a year ago. During the twelve months' period the exports fell from 167 cars, valued at $258,855, in 1914, to 78 cars, valued at $81,322, in 1915.

GOOD THE YEAR ROUND.

Franklin Inclosed Cars Practical, Says Company's Head.

"Franklin inclosed cars are practical cars for winter use," said President H. H. Franklin, "yet they are not impractical for summer use. They do not reverse the proposition by making it necessary to lay up the car in the summer while making it possible to enjoy automobiling in the winter.

"To make them truly all-year cars, the Franklin is not forced to depend on cumbersome, removable tops or permanent tops with disappearing sides. The Franklin system of ventilation accomplishes all that such features may offer, and more too. Just the amount of air which is desired can be regulated. It isn't too much this time and not enough the next. Manipulation of the three-piece windshield and drop windows do the work.

"The occupants of the Franklin inclosed car, while always having a protection from the direct rays of the sun by the permanent top, have unobstructed vision at the same time. The high light line and the pillar arrangement takes care of this point. There is no requirement of real luxurious use of an automobile that Franklin inclosed cars do not provide for.

"And the weight of any of the inclosed types is not a drawback to their all year use. As an example, the sedan weighs only 235 pounds more than the touring car—just 275 pounds—and, at that, a weight which many other so-called 'all year' cars cannot equal even with the demountable top removed. Franklin inclosed cars are not carrying around any overload."

AUTO PROGRESS WONDER OF AGE

Development More Rapid Than Any Other Invention in World.

The rapid development of the automobile has been the wonder of the commercial world. In a comparatively short number of years it has attained a point of perfection never before equaled by any other big invention in the same period of time.

According to John N. Willis, president of the Willis-Overland company, the evolution of the automobile has been hastened by the almost universal demand for motor transportation and the fact that the motor car has become a practical necessity as well as a vehicle of pleasure.

"In the early days of the industry," said Mr. Willis, "motor cars were nothing more or less than big mechanical toys. They would break down for no apparent reason and the few people who could afford to own them soon tired of the sport. The greatest problem of the pioneer manufacturers was to keep the cars in service. Little thought was given to the comfort of the passengers or the ease of operating the machine. If the car could be kept going both parties were satisfied and the owner never questioned the depth of the upholstery or the inconvenience of handling the numerous levers and other paraphernalia that took up the greater part of the front seat.

"However, it was not long before the manufacturers realized that the public would soon demand more than the actual running of the machine. They began to figure out a means of improving the riding and driving qualities of the car. The result has been that each year has seen many new and wonderful improvements in motor car construction."

FORD COMPANY HOST TO LODGES

Gathering at Indianapolis Attended By 2,000 Odd Fellows.

Two thousand members of the grand lodge, I. O. O. F., and the Rebekah assembly, I. O. O. F., of Indiana, were the guests of the Ford Motor company's Indianapolis branch several weeks ago, when they inspected the work of the assembling plant and service station.

The gathering represented 670 lodges of Odd Fellows and 482 lodges of Rebekahs, being gathered from practically every city and town of the state, and from every well populated rural community.

One hundred new Ford cars, made at the Indianapolis plant the day before, were supplied to transport the visitors from the Odd Fellows' building, at Pennsylvania and Washington streets, to the Ford building and five trips were necessary to get them all to the plant. The streets in that section were alive with Ford cars, and on Washington street they were driving so close together as to resemble a parade.

Upon reaching the Ford building, the members assembled in the sales room, where Manager A. H. Smith, on behalf of the Ford Motor company, welcomed the fraternity and its auxiliary to the assembling plant. This address was responded to by W. H. Leedy, grand secretary and grand scribe of the order, who expressed appreciation of the hospitality extended them.

An incident of special interest in connection with the visit was the following of a motor through the assembly.

LIKES TUBULAR FRONT AXLE.

Franklin Principle Has Many Advantages, Says Agent.

"The tubular front axle of the Franklin is one of the few of this type used in automobile construction," according to J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent. "That it is not used more extensively is conceded to be a matter of price and manufacturing limitations.

Its merit has been demonstrated consistently. "The Franklin front axle is equally strong no matter in what direction the road shocks are delivered to it. The more common axle is strongest in a vertical direction, but only when the car is going at very low speeds do the shocks act this way.

"The tubular axle is lighter than a beam axle of the same strength because in order to make the latter capable of resisting strains that are delivered in a horizontal direction, where it is the weakest, it is necessary to add extra material, and, therefore, extra weight.

"The Franklin principle of low unsprung weight, as carried out in the design and construction of the front axle, entails an extra expense of 45 per cent above the heavier type. Where the latter is a simple drop forging, the Franklin axle is of built-up construction, the labor connected with which alone represents about 85 per cent of the cost of a drop forged axle."

TWELVE-CYLINDER CAR BEST SUBMARINE IN MOTORDOM

NATIONAL IN WATER TEST.

With "V" Motor, Car Must Be Practically Submerged to Kill the Engine.

Judging from the performance of the National highway twelve-cylinder car, this new model is destined to be known as the submarine of motordom. In a recent testing expedition made by the National factory, it was found that the twelve could ford streams of much greater depth than could be negotiated by any four or six-cylinder car.

"This is possible," said George M. Dickson, general manager of the National Motor Vehicle company, "on account of the ideal location of the carburetor and magneto, the two units that are so quickly affected by water. The cylinders of the National twelve are made in two blocks of six each and placed at an angle of V shape. In the middle of this V immediately under the hood are located the carburetor and magneto, which are consequently high and dry at all times."

In the recent tests it was found that the National twelve motor would continue to operate smoothly even when the water was up over the wheels and as much as four or five inches deep in the tonneau. It was proven that the steady flow and consequent even "pull" made it possible for the National to pull out of deep water and sand, and that the electric starter would operate perfectly when the battery was entirely submerged.

PERFECT BEAUTY

The fashion of the present day requires that the complexion of the well-groomed woman shall be clear and of snowy whiteness. The regular use of will bestow the charms that are so admired. Gouraud's Oriental Cream is a liquid powder, far surpassing the dry powders that have to be applied so frequently to gain the desired effect. It whitens, softens and clears the skin. It is absolutely free from grease and consequently does not encumber the growth of hair.

GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Homicidal Women.

"It did it to avenge my honor," is becoming an oft-told tale in the annals of crime. A man wrongs a woman and the woman kills him to avenge that which in most cases she has held but lightly. Doubtless instances of this nature which we hear of from time to time are worthy of some need of pity, but most of those that are aired broadly in the public prints are stories that have another side and, as time proves, a side that is not always a credit to the one who is so zealous at "avenging her honor."

There are more ways than one of avenging one's honor, and the woman who has been wronged in the full sense of the word usually takes that farthest removed from a half insane use of a revolver or other weapon of death with another as a target. She avenges her honor by her mode of living and by an assumption of the responsibilities that come to her because of her wrongs. Adding murder or the willful injury of another to the burden of a wronged woman's misery does not particularly appeal to the one who is heartbroken over the wrecking of her life. She would sooner think of taking her own life and she does, too, poor girl, asuming all responsibility when she is as innocent as a woman may be of anything but an overbearing love for some worthless scoundrel.

I do not attempt to excuse the harm that women in human form do women. Some of them richly deserve the death that overtakes them. But the cry taken up by a certain class of women when they send a lover, be he false or true, to his final reckoning in a frenzy of jealousy, is one becoming too popular for safety. The line should be drawn somewhere. Why not when a woman has reached the age of consent feel sorry for all the unceasing and disinterestedness that makes a wrong of this possible?

I thoroughly dislike the woman who brandishes a revolver in the satisfaction of her honor. I am always impelled to the question, "Why did she not protect it better when the priceless possession was in her keeping?" I feel sorry for all the unceasing and disinterestedness that makes a wrong of this possible.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS PROMISE

U. S. MARINE BAND HERE SUNDAY WEEK

World-Famous Military Musical Organization in Two Concerts.

When the United States Marine band appears at the Lyceum Sunday matinee and night, Oct. 10, music lovers of this community will have the privilege of hearing a musical organization which is today recognized as without a peer among military bands throughout the world.

The musical prominence of the Marine band is the result of many years of careful training by competent leaders. Two hours each day, and five days in the week are set aside for rehearsal. The membership of the band is selected by competitive examinations, and the men are enlisted for a period of four years. As a position in the marine band is a most desirable one for a musical student, it is only natural that practically every member re-enlists after his first four years of service. Many of the fifty musicians, who will appear here under the leadership of Director Santelmann, have been with the marine band for a quarter of a century, and there are several members, who, whenever they desire, may retire from the band on three-fourths pay for the remainder of their lives, for they have served with the organization for thirty years.

Few changes occur in the personnel of the band from year to year, thus insuring a high standard of excellence. Since Lieut. Santelmann was made the leader of the band seventeen years ago, much has been accomplished towards the organization of an orchestra among the members. Being himself a violinist of wide reputation, Director Santelmann has been highly successful in the development of this symphony orchestra, and the marine band is now the only high class military organization, which with the same personnel, can offer a band program followed by an orchestral program. It is a noteworthy fact that no member is accepted in the marine band unless he is a master of two instruments—for band and orchestra.

Since the development of the orchestra, much good has been accomplished toward intonation and tone quality in the band's playing, for nearly all secondary performers in the band section are prominent players in the orchestra, thus placing instruments of minor importance in the hands of talented musicians.

NEW GRAND SHOW FULL OF VARIETY

Several Star Features Are Shown; Excellent Bill Next Week.

Music, comedy and novelty combine to make the present bill at the New Grand one of the big ones of the season.

Heading the bill is Prince Charles, one of the cleverest chimpanzees in the world. He dresses and behaves like a man. He eats and drinks in a cafe scene, then entertains with a bicycle act during which he rides all sizes and kinds of wheels and performs in a manner seldom surpassed by human beings. As a grand finale he races several laps on a motorcycle.

Jewel's coming to the Lyceum home was an accident. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everingham, old Everingham's other son and daughter-in-law, were suddenly called to Europe. Not being able financially to take Jewel with them, Harry wrote his father asking him to let Jewel make her home with him until their return.

Old Everingham hates children and reluctantly agrees to take Jewel in. By doing so, however, he hopes to spite his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence. Jewel meets with a cold and frigid reception and the little girl finds that she has entered a "house of hatred and discord," as she expresses it. She takes a strong liking to her gruff, stern old grandfather, however, with the result that he softens under her influence, her childlike simplicity and generous, good-hearted nature.

Paul Armstrong, the playwright, who died on Aug. 30 last, left no will. His widow, Catherine Cassidy, known on the stage as Catherine Calvert, has filed in the supreme court an application for letters of administration. She said he left no real estate, and that his personal estate is valued at $500. The value of the royalties on the plays written by him was not estimated. His three daughters, Annabel, Myrell and Elizabeth, by his first wife, and his son, Paul, by his second wife, will share in the estate.

All Details for World's Series Will Be Arranged in Gotham.	Luderus and Doyle Tied for Batting Honors in National.

New York Oct. 2.—All the details of the coming world's series between the Boston Americans and the Philadelphia National League team will be the subject of the meeting of the National commission to be held in this city today. On the toss of a coin will depend the choice of the city in which the opening game will be played. The date of the opening will be of more interest in the date of the opening than in the location of the initial battle.

Whether the series will begin on Friday, Oct. 8, or on Saturday, Oct. 9, is causing much discussion among followers of the game. Most of them express the belief that the American league will play first, and prior to have the play begin on Friday.

After the close of the league season, the Philadelphia Phillies will probably of the Phillies sending their star pitcher, Cy Young, to Alexander, and to the mound in three of the four games played as might easily be done.

It could be worked out that the series could be worked out for Friday and Wednesday; Saturday, Monday and Tuesday; or Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Ty Cobb of Detroit continues to lead the American league batsmen, according to averages as hit this morning. The Georgian is hit this morning by Edgar, 10, and Chicago is runner-up, 33 points behind, next, teammate of Collins, Jack Four-328. Others who have played in at least one game are: Boston, 320; McInnis, Philadelphia, 317; Kirtland, 311; Kirtland, 311; Crawford, Detroit, 238; Strunk, Philadelphia, 237.

Cobb continues the leading, 186, against the American league, 142. This is but five behind the American league record, made in 1912. The indications that he will lead with a new record in this department are likely.

His leads with 26, Sam Crawford, also of Detroit, is second, with 161.

Stolen bases Cobb, who set a new league record for pilfered sacks in last week, promises to lead, 10, and Chicago is runner-up, 10. He now has 33 thefts to his credit.

When Games Start.

A point made by those in favor of beginning the series on Friday is that the date for those fans who desire to witness the games of the series. Under a schedule in which which city was selected for the opening games, the visiting spectators would have Sunday in which to make the trip to the other city. Many believe that the National Commission will take this fact into consideration in making the dates of the games in one city; two in the other, to the detriment of the games until the close of the series. Consideration will include the possibility of tickets, the assigning of the games to the minor details requiring consideration. It is expected the meeting may develop into a protracted session.

Makes Sweeping Declaration Regarding His Plans for 1916.

Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, six time winners of American league pennants and three times world's champions, stung by criticisms relative to his deliberate breaking up of the famous baseball machine, has made a sweeping declaration regarding his plans for 1916. Mack said recently:

"We are losing ball games every day and probably will finish the poorest of any team in either major league in years, but I have made considerable progress along the lines of reconstruction. If the fans will look back to the 1905 season they will realize that my progress was slow then until the combination was complete, and then the team came like lightning. My

...I must be slow because the only part that I have now that I am banking on for my new machine are pitchers, and they don't know anything yet and cannot be expected to shoot until next season.

"I will have almost an entirely new team in the field in two weeks' time and then the fans will be able to get a line on my future championship team. To date I have not a single youngster, barring one, who is a part of the new machine. My best prospects will be here in a short time, and I think that fans will be satisfied."

"I repeat that we will have another wonderful club before the close of next season. Everything depends on how soon my pitchers develop. They will surely be right by the middle of next season. They are slow finding themselves, but they are coming around. The rest of my combination will be here in a few days."

NATIONAL WEALTH—AN OPPORTUNITY AND A PERIL.

Speaking to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic in Washington
President Wilson said:

You set the nation free for that great career of development, of unhampered development, which this world has witnessed since the Civil war. But for my own part, I would not be proud of the extraordinary physical development of this country, of its extraordinary development in material wealth and financial power, did I not believe that the people of the United States wished all of this power devoted to ideal ends.

All of us know that, though the American people as a body are the greatest idealists in the world, the vast material wealth and gigantic financial power that grew up in the forty years following the Civil war were NOT devoted to ideal ends.

At this time, when the nation faces the possibility of the greatest expansion of material wealth and financial power history has ever witnessed, it is wise to face
this fact and take thought of the future.

The United States, the Civil war ended, turned with great energy to the development of a continent enormously rich in "inexhaustible" resources. Land, minerals and timber, in vast quantities, were to be had for the taking. Paralleling the exploitation of these natural resources came the development of a great manufacturing industry, artificially stimulated by a tariff tax which did not seem burdensome because the country abounded with wealth.

The history of this epoch is too familiar to require repetition here. The growth of great individual fortunes; the ascendancy of great corporate industries; the close control of government by these interests; the crushing of competition by the methods of the freebooter and the financial assassin;
the oppression of labor; the exploitation of the consumer; the wastes of natural wealth involved in the haste to pluck riches, condoned by the fatal fallacy that this wealth was inexhaustible; the corruption of politics; the subtle growth of a soft and flabby
public spirit, debased by ease and wealth;
the rise to absolute power of a gross and venal plutocracy—all these are so fresh in the memories of all that they need not be rehearsed.

The perfect flower of this period was the arrogance and impudence of new riches
which turned the heads of their possessors and so blinded them to consequences that they wrought their own undoing.

The revelations of the life insurance scandal brought about by Hughes formed the match that touched a train of powder
which exploded the mine under plutocracy.
Exposure, the pillory of public wrath and contempt, shame and disgrace destroyed
many victims of the blind and ruthless pursuit of great wealth.

The Grangers, the Populists, the radical Democrats, the progressive Republicans,
Bryan, Roosevelt, La Follette, the rejuvenation of the Democratic party at Baltimore,
the nomination and election of Wilson—
thus ran the course of the recovery by the American people of their old public spirit and their new grasping of the reins of government, long ill used by traitorous public servants. Democracy was saved, and the fate of Greece, of Rome, of every people corroded and corrupted by wealth, was averted.

The sun of peace will dawn upon a new world rising from the ruins of the old.

Europe will be impoverished, decimated, prostrated, staggering under an appalling burden of debt. The United States, grown stronger in peace, will have fallen heir to the responsibilities—and much of the business—of civilization. For the first time in its history America will find itself
a creditor nation, no longer a debtor nation.
The seat of financial power will have moved from Paris, from Berlin, from London, to New York. Much of Europe's foreign commerce, interrupted by the war, will have been diverted to this country.

Master of the world's finances, the creditor of the world, the world's chief source of credit and commodities, the United States, it may easily be, will face a period of enormous expansion of wealth and industry. It is not at all impossible that this new field of national expansion will prove far richer, even than the half-exhausted fields of domestic resources. New wealth will flow in, a vast prosperity will prevail, and America will become richer than her wildest dreams of a generation ago could picture.

With this new wealth will come new responsibilities, new problems.

Wealth which is commonwealth is strength and growth. Wealth which is not national but private and restricted is weakness and destruction.

If this nation's wealth is devoted to ideal ends—to the development of a stronger,
better fed, better living, better educated,
better cultured, more public-spirited, more self-governing people—to the democracy of opportunity and the democracy of well-being—then the tragic occasion of the war will have given birth to the greatest people
the world has ever seen.

But if this new wealth is directed to enriching the rich, to growing and making permanent a class of super-rich without material benefits to all, then it will be destruction—destruction to those who grasp more than their share, destruction to those who are disinherited, destruction to the nation, destruction to democracy.

If this country has profited by the lesson
it learned from the developments between the Civil war and the revolt of the people in this century, it will exert every effort, every possible patriotic thought, to the equalization of opportunity, to the promotion of the common well-being and the prevention of plutocracy.

If this new wealth is devoted, as President Wilson says, to high ideals, it will be a blessing, a means to a higher level of national life.

If this new wealth is devoted, as the older wealth was largely devoted, to the creation of a rulership of wealth, then it will be a curse, and a means of destruction to all in the American experiment that embodies the hope of democracy.

Wisconsin has 215 new game laws this year. And yet there are those who institute the last legislature didn't look after the interests of the state sufficiently.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.

Word comes from London, by way of Washington, that England no longer fears the submarine peril, that it has destroyed
from fifty to seventy under-sea marauders,
and that it has developed such effective means of meeting them that the submarine has suddenly fallen from its suddenly gained eminence.

All of which is important if true, and it is not to be believed too readily even though it bears the attest of "official" sources.
But if it is true it is going to make a great deal of difference. American naval authorities have not agreed at all with the public in its conception of the submarine
as a supplanter of navies, and have continued to demand giant battleships and great cruisers. If the newest report is correct, they find themselves justified.

Yet it would be no great surprise if the menace of the submarine had been met by new devices, born of necessity, that great mother of invention. Precisely that sort of thing has been the most notable factor in the history of the development of war machinery.

The next step, obviously, would be the invention of a submarine proof against these new defensive devices, whatever they may be.

It must be the war has held the attention of the cigar men, or we surely would have had a smoke named after Villa by this time.

HOLLER-THAN-THOU "CULTURE."

Katherine Fullerton Gerould writes in the October Atlantic on "The Extirpation of Culture," and rejoices that the war has brought about a renewed use of the word
"culture," even though it is German culture—which is not at all the thing the English word means—that is meant.

"The fact is," says this writer, "that for twenty years to speak of culture has meant that one did not have it. The only people who have talked about it have been the people who thought you could get it at Chautauquas. Now I have always thought it a pity that so good a word should go out of the best vocabularies; for when you lose an abstract term you are very apt to lose the thing it stands for."

Whereupon our author proceeds to show that this country has lost whatever "culture" it had, and to tell why. One of the reasons for this sad loss, the first on her list, is splendidly illuminating, and explains why "culture" has gone out of fashion by becoming a term of reproach:
"The increased hold of the democratic fallacy."

This exposes at a single stroke the character of "culture," and the reason why it has died—and the reason why it is a good thing that it has died. The kind of "culture" this writer seems to have in mind is like the religion of the Pharisee: "Thank God I am not like these others."

That kind of culture is a pretense. It is an attempt to set up an artificial caste or aristocracy, and like all aristocracies of pretense it simply makes itself absurd. It isn't half so respectable and solid as an aristocracy based on the fact that many generations back an ancestor fought a king's battle nobly, or even an aristocracy founded on the fact that a grandfather kept a brewery to his large financial profit.

Culture—the culture of knowledge and appreciation and gentleness and nobility of character—is democratic, and so partakes of the highest aristocracy of all time, the aristocracy of human brotherhood. That kind of culture broadens and deepens character. It makes its followers nobler men and women, better fitted to serve.

Sham culture—the holler-than-thou brand of culture—the kind of culture that has died
—narrows instead of broadens, makes character shallow instead of deep, and un-fits its followers for service instead of fitting them for it because it breeds a contemptible contempt of those less gifted by luck, environment or opportunity. Snobocracy is the stupidest of all "ocracies" because it never rules anything—not even itself.

Even the harsh materiality of German

Kultur is vastly better than the sham culture the Atlantic writer celebrates.

Culture, she defines to be "contact with the best that has been said and thought in the world." That is a desirable thing—desirable to have, desirable to find in those one must associate with. But it is desirable only because it broadens and deepens character—only because when it makes its possessor better fitted to mingle with his kind and to serve his kind. Of sham culture the world cannot have too much, and it has now more of it than it ever had before.

But when it comes to worshipping culture for its own sake, making a cult of it,
and arrogating a pretense of superiority
because of it, it ceases to broaden and deepen character, and produces a silly clique of puny souls that wither and grow pitiful and contemptible in their self-chosen isolation.

To worship "culture" for its own sake,
and not to regard it as a heaven which sweetens individuality and makes it more serviceable to democracy, is as absurd and cheap and contemptible as to worship gold for its own sake, and not to regard it for what it will bring.

If Pharisaical "culture" has dwindled and died in this land, the Atlantic writer is unquestionably correct in assigning the blame to democracy—not to the "fallacy" of democracy, but to the eternal truth of democracy, which does not hold that all men are equal, but that all men shall have equal opportunity and that men shall be regarded not for what they have, but for what they give.

Maybe those European commissioners
went to Chicago mainly to see the stock yards in the hope of getting some new ideas
in the line of slaughtering.

PRATSE BEATS FAULTFINDING.

The usual way of training a boy is by telling him what he may not do; and then he goes and does it.

And he wouldn't be worth a hang if he didn't.

Every man who has been a boy knows this, because he has illustrated it in his own experience; yet the boy who when told by his parents that he mustn't do a certain thing immediately went and did it, when he grows up and has a boy to train starts in
by telling him what he mustn't do.

Yet any boy—or anybody—can be trained in the right way by being praised when he does the right thing, and taught that the right way is interesting and pleasant and better.

It's boy nature—and some people never get over it—to feel an instant desire to do the thing one is told can't and shall not be done.

The nations of Europe that are at war
are already face to face with the grim necessity of economy. Thrifty though some of them already were, the insatiable demands of war compel them to take new lessons in thrift. And after the war, when these countries emerge burdened with an unparalleled war debt and with their producing manhood enormously reduced in numbers, it is inevitable that for a long period of years this necessity of economy will persist.

England, France, Germany, Italy and Russia are in for a long period of plain living, no matter what the outcome of the war may be.

This will not be all loss, by any means.
Luxury is bad—for the individual, for society, for the nation. It softens the physical, mental and moral fiber of those who enjoy it, and it incites to revolt those who are barred from its enjoyment but still can see its flaunting evidences on every side.

Plain living, shorn of frivolity, is wholesome, and has produced great peoples.
Plain living, that is, not the sordid deprivation that destroys as surely as luxury destroys and that is less than "living."

It is still to the inspiration of New England's decent poverty and abundant plain living that the United States owes the greatness of its traditions and of its present.

The abounding but largely concentrated wealth that the nation has produced since the Civil war has not brought strength, but weakness. The present strength of the nation is not because of, but despite of, its great wealth. The backbone and sinew of the American people is composed of the great middle class that is cursed neither by inordinate poverty nor by inordinate wealth.

If we, too, are compelled to plainer, more sober living, with less ostentation and fewer-flaunting luxuries, ours will be the gain.

Yet more than ever, in Europe as in America, will measures to assure a fair division be necessary, to avert the tragedy of poverty, made poorer, looking with grim discontent upon the excesses of the favored few. For in that grim discontent lie, inert but menacing, the seeds of revolution.

than others. Some of my bills, like taxes, insurance, lodge dues, etc., come due annually, semi-annually or quarterly. Living as we were, up to our income and beyond
it, it is easy to understand why these payments bothered us so when they came due.
The first thing we did was to find out how much these necessary overhead charges came to a year. We divided that by twelve, and then determined to put into a special fund, out of each month's pay check, the amount that resulted from the calculation.
That comes out first, and though it pinched
us a little every month at first, it distributed the pinch through the year, and enabled us to meet these obligations when they came due without difficulty.

The next step was a further analysis of our accounts, to see where the leaks were.
Of course it was folly to live beyond our income, and we wouldn't have done it if we had known it. It would take too long to tell the whole story, but we found the leaks, all right, and set ourselves to stopping them.

"Another thing we did was to keep an account thereafter of all income and outgo, no matter how small the items. We found that that helped, too; indeed, we couldn't have done without it.

"We drew in our horns quite a little. We figured what we ought to pay a month for groceries, meat, clothes, etc., and we kept within the allowance. At first it was hard —bitterly hard—but it wasn't long before it became easier, and now it is as much a habit as the old practice was.

"We adopted this rule, both of us, to govern every expenditure: No matter how small it was, before we made it, we asked and answered these questions—Do we really need it? Can we afford it? Unless 'yes' was the answer to both, we didn't buy.

"Not only did we get within our income and stay there, but we began to save. We have saved something every year since.
Moreover—and perhaps this will be hard for some to understand—we are living just as well as we used to, and getting more out of life. In the old days we had little to spare for books and magazines and what you might call culture; now we have found it possible to enlarge our lives a little by admitting these influences, without sacrificing anything really worth while.

Are We Sheeplike?
Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce is putting through new rules and regulations in regard to ship and boat inspection and without waiting for the final reports and red tape details connected with the Eastland disaster. He is wise in taking such timely action, but he will meet with opposition to everything he may devise or suggest, excepting only such rules as will prevent a vessel's sailing over. For that is the way we do things. We learn and profit by our seasons piecemeal and only in regard to some one detail, one at a time.

Take fire prevention as an example of our appreciation and grasp of a problem in all its phases and ramifications. The experts know the dangers that await all classes of buildings and have, for years, endeavored to show the necessary safeguards about them, all, devising proper rules and regulations for new buildings and the essential changes for old ones.

There is as much danger in a church and in a department store as in any other class of buildings, but do you suppose that until there is a terrible holocaust in a church or store we can get public opinion centered enough on those classes of buildings not to oppose—and successfully oppose—anything attempted to make them safer? Not a bit of it.

After the Iroquois fire the terrible lesson was not taken broadly, intelligently, but simply applied to theaters. Bless you, for a while then we could have exalted that the stage be on the roof and the box office two blocks away if we had said that such a thing would be a practical suggestion. The fires and no one would have objected. The building laws relating to theaters are now top notch and no one kicks.

Then came the Collingwood school fire with its hundreds of victims and the public attention was centered on schools. After that we could get anything we wanted for the protection of schools, too, but think of the classes of buildings there are and how much useless destruction of life and property there must be if we have to have a horrible lesson
given us in each case!

So with ships and boats: we've had the Slocum disaster, the Titanic, the Lusitania, and the Eastland and we'll be a bit careful about fires, icebergs, torpedoes and capsi-ngs, but nothing else, nothing else until we get a specific lesson.

Some time ago I timed a crowd leaving a big church. There were 1,540 people and but two narrow entrances at the front through which it took sixteen minutes to empty that church. In a fire there would be panic and catastrophe. I mildly suggested to the gyman in charge that a couple of emergency exits near the sanctuary might mean the saving of hundreds of lives some day.

He rather resented my impertinence, besides the church didn't exact it and there had never been fire in the church.

Soon we'll have a frightful lesson in a church fire or a department store fire and then something else unexpected will happen to a ship and we'll have a couple more lessons and a hurrying and scurrying to apply prevention to their repetition but nothing else, nothing else.

Just a Moment

Watch Strength had Cheer.

Consulted by John G. Quinn, the Bumble Man.
Set a daily, O Lord, before my mouth;
keep the door of my lips.—Ps. cxli, 2.

What! never speak one evil word,
Or rash, or idle, or unkind!
Oh, how shall I, most gracious Lord,
This mark of true perfection find?

—C. Wesley.

"And it shall come to pass in that day,
saith the Lord of hosts, that I will cut off
the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered; and also
I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirits to pass out of the land."—Zech. xiii, 2.

God cannot be rightly worshipped except in truth, sincerity, and sincerity. But we must at the same time observe, that this effect is ascribed to God's word; for it is that which can drive away and banish all the abominations of falsehood, and whatever is uncongenial to true religion. As then, by the rising of the sun darkness is put to flight, and all things appear distinctly to the view, so also when God comes forth with the teaching of His word, all the deceptions of Satan must necessarily be dissipated.

Whosoever then desires to perform all the duties of a good and faithful pastor, ought first to resolve not only to abstain from all impure doctrines and simply to assert what is true, but also to detect all corrup-
tions which are injurious to religion, to reform men from the deceptions of Satan, and in short, avowedly to carry on war with all superstitions. We may learn how much pursue of doctrine is approved by God, since He will have us feel a horror as at something monstrous, whenever the name of an idol is mentioned. The church cannot be preserved in a pure state except the madness of those who pervert sound doctrine be restrained.—

Once Independent,

New York Times: It is the duty of the national chairman of any party to sound the alarm, give the rallying cry, fire the party heart, so that a good deal of what Victor Murdock said to the Progressive councilman and to the reporters was the necessary part of a political leader, and not mathematically exact. But mingled with it there was a good deal of sound sense; in fact, wherever he departed from the harmless, necessary rainbow chasing expected of a chairman, it was all sound sense. For instance:

In 1912, 4,000,000 voters broke their old party ties, and few voters who have once become independent will ever worship a party label again.

The slightest acquaintance with political history will verify this statement. Every important secession has made permanent extra-its of most of the seceders. Many of the bol-ters of 1872 came back; but even they remained independent and troublesome: the Mugwumps of 1884, the silver Republican bolters of 1896, the Barnburners of 1855—the same thing is true of all of them. The secession of 1912 was on a greater scale than has ever been seen before in either party. The habit of independence is easily acquired and sticks.
Hitherto the Democratic party has suffered chiefly from the acquisition of that habit by its members; 1912 evened things.

Unequal Competitors.

Horace Greeley held Stephen A. Douglas to be the greatest debater of men ever known, and Greeley was no mean judge of such matters; but common sense tells us that Douglas was an ignoramus. Douglas knew nothing of political history from the inauguration of Lincoln down to the inauguration of Cleveland, and he was not in the senate he rarely addressed himself to anything else. Greeley disagreed with him that frequently, and said of Seward, or Chase, or Fessenden, Douglas was lame at the beginning, but in a little while he would be lame at the end. In his adversary which he used with terrific effect to overwhelm him. But Douglas a match for Robert Toombs, one will take the trouble to read the closing debate on the senate Nebraska bill in 1854, he will discover was a big giant the "Little Giant" was.

I never knew John G. Carlisle to engage in a "tuning debate" but once. He was a "tuning" man, but not on one occasion he was "set speech" on a tariff question. The McKinley bill, he was, and though the matter of his record was not the cotton schedule he discovered many knowledge of a cotton mill than the average man. He had spent most of his life in sight of one of the great coal mines of Pennsylvania, and he had a deal of money invested in the business. Carlisle spoke from a printed paper and he was a "tuning" man. He was a "tuning" of a piece of cotton cloth and he spoke and ad valetum duties and matters. Carlisle when it came to mathematics was as simple to him as the multiplication table to the average man, and he was a "tuning" man. His mind faster than a man Aldrich could read.

Every presidential election since the Federal Reserve has held the purse strings. Republicans have been fighting to wrest it from them. Now all that is left is to hang on, as we believe, change it.

Senates Fell From People's Eyes.

For years those who love us have asserted that we were a party of negation, that we did not have a party enough to legislate. Unfortunately for them, we believed their gibberish for the people have proved them wrong. In the wilderness as long as we have been, our scales fell from the people's eyes. Last year we succeeded in intrusting us with power once more.

What happened? In two brief years we have written two books more constructive legislation of books more beneficial character than the United States has ever known. Legislation so good that, in addition to the constructive ones, nearly all the Progres-sives and a large per cent of the Regular Republicans voted for our Regular construction bill.

A Great Tariff Bill.

We passed a great tariff bill—the greatest since the tariff statute books. It contains many monstrous provisions, but the new feature that would make it the new tariff bill, even if the rest of it were as bad as the old, is the tariff bill, most emphatically it is the tariff bill. It is the income tax. I make no mistake, it is the income tax provision never will be held of the lawmaking party gets it. It is said the Underwood tariff bill does not make a cent of revenue as the Payne-Adlrich-Smoot bill. When we make the Underwood bill known for tariff taxes would not be as large as the Payne-Adlrich-Smoot bill under the old Republican bill. We are a progressive party; that was one of the ends sought.

The cadet corps of the University of Minnesota National guard, which is the largest organization, make it possible, in fact, for a man to receive over 2,000 hours of military training on the university campus.

BIG LEDGE'S NEW MINES GIVE $40 VALUES TO THE TON

Producing Properties Just Taken Over Make Great Showing.

Purpose of Purchase Mixing of Ores Ideal for Reduction Plant.

Shares Reach New High Level and It Is Predicted
Will Go to $25.

BY GEORGE REID.

The Big Ledge Development company, which is proving up a great copper property in the Black Hills range of Arizona, has just taken over additional copper properties which are on a producing basis, with copper, gold and silver values running as high as $40 per ton.

advice which have reached me from time to time, the purpose of the new acquisition by the company being to provide a special quality of ore which, combined with the Big Ledge ores, will provide an ideal ore for treatment in the reduction plant which the company will install. This course is following out an engineering policy that has served to place on a maximum profit basis many large copper mines
now in operation.

Shareholders in Big Ledge were greatly elated when the following telegram was received at the company's offices in the Siltwood building from J. H. Shockley, consulting engineer, Humboldt, Ariz.:

Value $40 Per Ton.
"As intimated in my last message,
Big Ledge is now taking over important copper properties, with large reserves blocked on two or three sides.
The lowest cost of seven just shipped went 5.62 per cent copper, ($19.87), 17 gold, six ounces ($2.95) silver to the ton.

"Fault assures thirty feet wide shoot up, ten feet high-grade. There is no question but this is mine's ore
of the first-class or that ore will go down as deep as man can mine. The purpose of the acquisition is to establish a supply of ores suitable for our reduction plant now being planned.

Completely Equipped With Railroad.
"The new properties consist of many patented claims, a mill, complete equipment, electricity and facilities for 100 miners, with railroad in connection."
The total of values given for one of seven cars being shipped is $39.82 per ton, adding up the values as given in Engineer Shockley's telegram. It is developments like these on which shrewd New York copper brokers base their predictions that Big Ledge shares will go to $25 before the first of January.

Supplementing Mr. Shockley's telegram, Ernest Le Duc, president, and Charles Batte, vice president of Big Ledge, who are also at the mines in Arizona, wired:

Early Shipments of Ore.
"This means early shipments of ore.
These are patented mines of high-grade copper, gold and silver, and assure the success immediately of our company. The character of these ores, combined with Big Ledge ores, will make an ideal mixture for our own smelter. With the addition of these mines, already developed and patented, our stock is good for $25 a share this year, as soon as reports are completed."

Dealings in Big Ledge on the New York and Boston stock markets are heavy. The shares reached a new high level at New York this week, touching $37.75. In the middle of the Big Ledge shares were listed on the New York curb at $1. Since then they have increased 24 per cent
in value and are steadily rising.

GOOD PROSPECT THAT THE TUOLUMNE MAY "COME BACK"

Strike on 2,600 Level Is Best Since the Bonanza Days.

North Butte May Soon
Begin Work on East Side Properties.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shareholders of the Tu-olumne Mining company may get a measure of encouragement from the fact that an important strike has been made on the 2,600-foot level of the mine, about 200 feet from the station. The 2,600-foot level has been opened. The ore body has been opened about seventy-five feet and the size and quality of the ore body is holding out. The width of it is about five feet and it runs 8 to 10 per cent copper. "Of course we cannot tell the exact value of the ore," said the president, "but we feel pretty good over it, but I believe it will hold out and verify the prediction of the ore body."

will be followed by a return of the glad days. Present plans are for sinking the shaft 200 feet deeper, as recommended by the engineers, but work on it will not begin for some time
yet. The company is conserving its resources and it is desired to pay back the money advanced before any expenditures for sinking are made.

There are expectations that the North Butte company will shortly start work on its east side properties, but it is known that it has not been made public.
It is known that the company has been work a few months ago, but some hitch in a property deal caused a postponement at that time. It is generally understood that the company's plan involves some leaching system for the treatment of the east side ores. Because of increase in earnings by the North Butte, the increase in the dividend, from the 40 cents paid three months ago, to 80 cents recently declared, was expected. Many stockholders have thought the company should have paid more, but a very conservative policy governs and directors who aim to build up a reserve to be used in the east side. With the current dividend of 80 cents the North Butte has paid a total of $23.80 a share, or about what the stock of the company is now selling for on the market. The initial offer of the company was paid in 1905 and since then the annual dividend has been distributed greatly, as indicated by the following figures: 1905,

ITASCA ROADS TO HAVE MUCH CARE

County Plans to Keep Highways Already Built in Condition.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners are doing some good work on the roads just now in Itasca county. They have placed road drains in several parts of the county, with instructions that they be used on the roads after every rain. It is their idea to "rattle up" and level off the roads and get them ready for the fall freezeup. If the roads are smooth and free from ruts when the freezeup comes, the water from the melting snow and the spring rains will run

County Commissioner Passard states that he has placed seven or eight draggs in different parts of this district, with instructions that they be liberally used where needed. "We don't propose to let these roads that were built last year and this year go to ruin," said Mr. Passard. "It is our intention to give them the best possible maintenance with the means at our command."

In the other commissioner districts the commissioners are using the same methods as Mr. Passard is in this district, and draggs are being used where needed. As in this district, ore drugs will be put in as soon as they can be used to advantage.

Paul Sartori's Brother Tells of Situation in Austrian

Buhl, Minn., Oct. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Not one foot of the ground gained by the Twenty-sixth battalion of the Twenty-first regiment on the Austrian front in Tyrol since Aug. 16, when the Italian advance began, has been retaken, according to a letter received today by Paul Sartori, a local merchant, from his brother, Pio Sartori, dated Sept. 6, and written from the Italian front.

at 2 o'clock on Aug. 18 our men reached the summit. The enemy writes: "We were sent to protect our artillery. We crossed the mountain, taking the enemy's first trenches and many prisoners. Our Third battalion co-operated in this movement and on the morning of Aug. 17, the advance was continued. On Aug. 18, the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 1st and 2nd regiments were given the order to advance and we took the second trenches from the enemy. We were supported by the 1st and 2nd battalions of the 1st and 2nd regiments. The position we are now in is a very critical one. At this time, we are in a very critical position. We have the enemy's position on the front and both sides. The

Good Faith of Carriers Considered in Enforcing Seamen's Law

Washington, Oct. 2.—When enforcing stringent provisions of the new seamen's law on the Great Lakes during the remainder of the present shipping season there, the department of commerce will take into consideration the good faith of carriers who signify their intention to meet the legal requirements as rapidly as practicable.

The law's effective date is November 1, and navigation on the lakes will close about Dec. 1. Secretary Redfield, in a letter of instructions to George Uhler,

"The problem, which your force of inspectors must face during November, will be that of enforcing the law, with one hand, and suspending the traffic or, upon the other, permitting themselves to be blinded by the temporizing methods of any who in the possible save the present expense in the law may be secured during the coming winter.

"The question may in part resolve into a question of faith. Those who in good faith do the utmost that they can be ready, and who, when the law takes effect, are striving to comply with it, the facts may warrant the consideration that penalties for non-compliance should

TOO REGULAR IN HABITS, CHARGE

Wife, Asking Divorce, Declares Husband Got Drunk Too Frequently.

On the grounds of cruel and inhumane treatment, Louise W. Baker, 36, started suit for divorce in district court this morning against her husband, William H. Baker, 36, to whom she was married at Hoboken, N. J., on Aug. 12, 1910.

Mrs. Baker alleges that her husband had a habit of getting drunk regularly and calling her vile names. On one occasion, she says, he blackened her eyes. On Sept. 1, 1913, while they were residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., she left him. There are no children in the household. They were married on Feb. 16, 1905, and Peterson alleges that she deserted him on June 1, 1914.

HELD FOR GRAIN THEFT.

Two Young Men Draw Suspended Sentences for Work Farm.

Trying to emulate grain men who are making a fortune in wheat because of the war, brought grief to Nick Gennare, 18, and Axel Nylund, 17, today.

The youthful financiers did not know anything about board of trade methods, but they planned a campaign among the box cars in the Rice Point railroad yards, determined to deal in cash wheat only.

Special Officer Seawell caught them when their bags were only half full of wheat, and brought them to police headquarters. Judge F. H. Cutting sentenced them to the work farm, but granted a three months' stay upon their promise of good behavior.

OFFICER CALLAHAN BACK.

Callahan broke his arm while chasing a half dozen boys who were disturbing residents near First avenue and Fifth street. He stumbled over a rope in the dark, falling on his hand.

BULGARIA FORCED TO SHOW HER HAND AT ONCE; CONTINUES TO DENY ANY UNTOWARD ACTION

NOTE UNSATISFACTORY, BUT SITUATION WITH GERMANY NOT CRITICAL

Message From Berlin Not Specific Enough on Points Involved.

Does Not Make Disavowal of the Sinking of the Arabic.

Matter Will Be Taken Up
With the German Ambassador.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Although Germany's new note on the Arabic case is not entirely satisfactory to the United States, the situation is not considered critical at this time. This was stated today on high official authority.

The view held by President Wilson and state department officials in the note handed to Secretary Lansing in New York Saturday by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, is that it was not specific enough on the points insisted on by the president.

These are a disavowal of the sinking, assurances that the act would not be repeated and proper reparation.

A careful reading of the note delivered by the German ambassador has convinced administration officials that further negotiations on the question are possible and that the United States wants cleared up.

It is understood that the note gives satisfactory assurances that Americans traveling on unarmed liners will not be endangered by submarine attack in the future, but a satisfactory disavowal of the sinking of the Arabic is not given.

U. S. SUBMARINES ON WAY TO HAWAII

Four Submersibles Start on Long Trip of Over 2,200 Miles.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 4.—The United States submarines K-3, K-4, K-7 and K-8 were proceeding today under their own power for the naval station at Honolulu. They will make the voyage in about 10 days, and yesterday a new long distance record for United States submarines, it is said, will have been broken. Ten days will be required for the trip.

The cruiser Maryland, naval collier Nashua, tug Ironside and torpedo boat destroyer Lawrence, are acting as convoys.

The K submarines will replace the P group, which were withdrawn from service following the sinking of the P-4 off Honolulu last March. The P submarines will be towed to Mare Island navy yard from Honolulu.

LOAN CLOSES ON TUESDAY

No Subscriptions Will Be Received After 10 a. m.

Success of Half Billion-Dollar Deal Shown By Announcement.

New York, Oct. 4.—An announcement indicating the success of the Anglo-French loan, the success of the loan, J. P. Morgan & Co., to the effect that no subscriptions to the underwriting will be received after 10 a.
m. tomorrow.

The statement of J. F. Morgan &
Co., follows:

In behalf of the managers of the underwriting syndicate of the Anglo-French loan, J. P. Morgan & Co., announce that no subscriptions to the underwriting will be received after 10 (Tuesday) morning.

John D. Rockefeller was reported today to have subscribed $10,000,000
to the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan.
It was said that his subscription was among the largest taken by individual investors.

At the Standard Oil company's offices here, a member of the Rockefeller staff declined to comment on it.
Mr. Rockefeller is now at his home at Pocantico Hills.

FEAR TROUBLE WITH MINERS

Police Officers Are Facing Delicate Situation at Clifton, Ariz.

Arrival of Militiamen May Precipitate Rioting
Among Men.

Clifton, Ariz., Oct. 4.—(By telephone to Phoenix.)—Police officers of Clifton faced a delicate situation here today in their efforts to preserve order among hundreds of striking copper miners. What would happen with the expected arrival late today of an expeditionary detachment of forty-eight Arizona militiamen under command of Maj. H. H. Donkersley of Yuma no one in direct authority could predict, except to say that serious disorders were feared.

Adj. Gen. Harris of Arizona, who left El Paso Sunday, was expected today to visit the disturbed copper section with a view of reporting to Governor Hunt if the situation demanded
a proclamation declaring martial law.
No serious disorders had occurred in Clifton last night, but reports from the Metcalf and Morenci camps said serious trouble was threatening.
Reports from the Morenci camp, however, gave no definite information.

The most serious trouble here occurred during Sunday when a mob of angry strikers assaulted Engineer
Thomas Simpson and Fireman Mike

TO FIGHT EXTRADITION TO HIS LAST DOLLAR

Thomas Kelly, Canadian Contractor, Engages Eight Lawyers.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Plans for a determined fight against extradition were laid today by lawyers acting for Thomas Kelly, millionaire contractor of Winnipeg, Man., held under arrest here in connection with alleged fraud in the construction of Canadian government buildings.

Kelly has engaged eight lawyers to defend him. From his cell in the county jail at Waukegan he charged that he was a victim of a political plot and that he would fight his return to Canada to the last dollar of his property.

Horace Nugent, British consul in Chicago, who signed the complaint against Kelly, conferred with R. A. Bonnar, king's counsel, and J. C. McLean, provincial superintendent of police of Winnipeg, regarding extradition proceedings. Kelly is scheduled to appear before United States Commissioner Macdonald tomorrow in the first step of his fight against extradition.

Secretary of State Lansing, it was said, probably will be appealed to tomorrow to issue the necessary papers for extradition.

Paris, Oct. 4, 2:28 p. m.—French troops have continued to make progress to the north of Arras, according to the announcement given out by the French war office this afternoon.

There has been almost continuous fighting between the trenches, accompanied by artillery exchanges in the vicinity of Nouvron and Queneviers.

There has been also artillery fighting
in the Champagne district.

A squadron of French aeroplanes has thrown down some forty shells of heavy caliber on the railroad station at Metz.

The text of the communication follows:

"We have continued to make progress to the north of Arras in the forest

we occupied the crossroads of five highways.

NO LONGER ANY DOUBT OF THE INTENTION OF GREECE TO ENTER WAR

Will Begin Hostilities on the Side of the Entente Allies.

French Troops Landed at Saloniki for Purpose of Aiding the Greeks.

So Announced By Official Organ of the Government at Athens.

Athens, Greece, Oct. 3, via Paris, Oct.
4.—All doubt as to the entrance of Greece in the war on the side of the entente allies has now been disposed of.
The official organ of the government says that the landing of French troops at Saloniki is for the purpose of aiding Greece.

In regard to the landing of the French troops the governmental organ says that if for the present the government considers the assistance of the allies as premature it is none the less to aid and support Greece that the allies are at Saloniki. France and England enter the Balkans as traditional friends of Greece and not otherwise.

The Greek government has seized the Macedonian railways, of which two are Austrian and one French.

Inspected by Hamilton.

Rome, Sunday, Oct. 3, via Paris, Oct.
4.—A telegram from Athens to the Tribuna says that General Sir Ian Hamilton, British commander at the Dardanelles, has been at Saloniki to inspect arrangements made for the landing of troops.

communication with Honolulu, a distance of 4,600 miles, all the engineering force of the American Telephone & seventy head of Guernsey and Holstein

the result of the appearance among them of the foot and mouth disease.
The value of the herd is $25,000.

RUSSIA DEMANDS OPEN BREAK WITH ENEMIES OF SLAVS

Well-Informed Diplomats Are Inclined to Think That Bulgars Will Not Elect to Enter the War.

Troops of Entente Allies Ready to Act
If King Ferdinand Decides to Espouse Cause of Teutons.

London, Oct. 4.—Bulgaria must make her choice today for an open alliance with the Central powers and Turkey or for neutrality.
When her decision will be made known publicly rests with the censors, but it is regarded as unlikely that there will be delay in satisfying the widespread anxiety to know the best or worst.

There is a marked division of opinions in London as to which side King Ferdinand and Premier Radoslavoff will choose. Notwithstanding the signs of hostility toward Serbia on the part of Bulgaria, the opinion is expressed by some well-informed diplomats that Bulgaria will not fight and that even though the government should elect to do so, the Bulgarian people would resist such a policy.

In the meantime, Sofia continues to deny the existence of the minority Slav cause, which the Russian ultimatum is based. Negative action, however, will not satisfy the allies who demand that Bulgaria shall openly break with the enemies of the Slav cause.

Explains Russian Action.

If the reports from Paris, Bucharest and Athens of the concentration of Teutonic troops on the Serbian frontier are correct, the promptitude with which Russia has taken up the German challenge is explained.

According to these reports, Field Marshal von Mackensen has quit the Serbian border at the head of 250,000
German and Austrian troops, with 2,000 guns. It is reported that he is ready to repeat against Serbia his phalanx movement which cleared the Russians out of Galicia. In addition to this force Bulgarians which cleared the Serbians out of Bulgaria, 350,000
are said to have been massed along the Serbian border of Serbia.

If action by the Entente powers should become necessary when Bulgaria makes final disclosure of her intentions, this action would be undertaken by troops which are now in readiness to take the field. It is tenuously expressed here that a prompt movement, such as would be undertaken, would be likely to disturb the councils of Roumania.

Danger to Central Powers.

British military writers affect to see in this situation a great danger to

DROP BIG BOMBS ON BELGIAN CITY

Five Aeroplanes of Allies
Bombard Zeebrugge; One Craft Brought Down.

Amsterdam, Oct. 4, via London.—The Telegraph announces that five aéroplanes of the allies yesterday bombarded Zeebrugge, on the Belgian coast. Some of the bombs which were dropped weighed seventy-five pounds. The aeroplanes were attacked by anti-aircraft guns, which brought down one machine. Another was compelled by a defective motor to land near Nieuwilet on Dutch territory. A British officer was interned.

BULGARIANS DENY GERMANS IN CONTROL

Sofia, Oct. 3, via London, Oct. 4.— (Delayed in transmission.)—Formal denial that German officers have taken control of the military affairs of Bulgaria and that Germany is supplying that country with funds are contained in an official statement issued through the Bulgarian news agency.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

French troops have made further progress on the western front. The Paris war office reports advances in the forest of Givenchy and at Hill No. 119, where the allies are thrusting at the defenses of Lens.

Counter attacks by the Germans in the Champagne region north of Meuse have been repulsed. It was declared.
In other sectors of the Champagne front and along the line in the Artois region
there have been artillery combats.

French aeroplanes have been active behind the German lines and a squadron of them has dropped forty shells of heavy caliber on the Sablon road station at Metz, the official statement says.

The situation in the Balkans continues tense. An announcement by the official government organ at Athens indicates that French troops have been landed at Saloniki to assist Greece.
This announcement is regarded as resolving all doubts as to Greece's entry into the war.

The Greek government has seized the Macedonian railways, an official announcement says.

Besides the Russian ultimatum giving Bulgaria twenty-four hours to dismise German and Austrian officers now with its army, it is reported in Rome
that the quadruple Entente powers, acting jointly, will present a note to Bulgaria, demanding that she explain her attitude.

According to Bucharest reports Field Marshal von Mackensen is on the Serbian frontier with 250,000 Teutonic troops and 2,000 guns.

Concentration of the Bulgarian army has been begun according to Athens advice through Sofia.

A dispatch from Sofia under Saturday's date carries an official denial of statements that German officers are taking a hand in Bulgarian military affairs and that Bulgaria is to receive monthly payments of $10,000,000 from Germany as long as the war lasts.

Plans Complete for Opening Night Classes in Public Schools.

G. M. Paulus Will Be in Charge; Good Instructors Provided.

Between 300 and 400 persons are expected to enroll in the night schools at the Central high, Monroe Irving Junior high and Harriett B. Stowe buildings tonight.

Of this number, a majority will be foreigners who are eager to qualify for citizenship, and W. H. Schilling, assistant superintendent of city schools, is planning the work for the schools, is providing especially for the language and grammar classes.

The pupils will convene at 7:30 o'clock on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and will be under the same regulations as regular school pupils, Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays will be given them on the same days as at the public schools. The course starting tonight lasts until March 26.

Mr. Schilling today announced the faculty members who will be in charge of the classes. At Central high school, G. M. Paulus, principal of the Merritt school will be in charge.

With him will be George P. Anderson, principal of the Whittier school, W. D. Burke, instructor at Central high school, and J. B. Jones, Miss Mollie Astell will be in charge of the seventh and eighth grade pupils who will be allowed to take the extra work.

Miss Gertrude Burke of the Central high school faculty will teach the bookkeeping classes, and Miss Katherine Meehan, also of Central high, will be in charge of the stenography and typewriting. Prof. George Gregory, instructor at the senior class at the manual training high school, will teach the manual training class and Miss Mary Closson, head of the city domestic science and art department, will teach cooking and sewing.

At the Monroe school, twenty-sixth avenue west and First street, B. A. Leonard, principal of the Monroe school, will be in charge. At the Irving Junior high school, Otto Wieland will be supervisor. George O. Anderson, principal of the Harriett B. Stowe school, New Duluth, will be supervisor of the night classes and the social center work at that building.

We have been giving more attention to the non-English speaking element this year than ever before," said Mr. Schilling, and expect a big increase in these classes. The nominal tuition fee of $1 is proving an attraction.

TRAFFIC CZAR FAVORS USE OF SEMAPHORE SIGNALS ON "CORNERS"

After two months of safety zones, no-parking zones, whistle signals and near-side stops for street cars, Duluth's traffic system may be changed further to include semaphore signals. Mich. and George Wood, czar of trafficked, who is supreme at the busiest corner in the city, Third avenue west and Superior street, consulted for practical suggestions before the recent traffic system was installed. Soon after the system was installed, a month's vacation, and made a specialty of seeing busy corners of the United States.

He stood at the corner of Madison and State streets, Chicago, and wandered along Euclid avenue, Cleveland; in Toledo, Ohio, and Detroit, Mich., and went on East, ending up at the busiest of all corners, Forty-second and Broadway, New York.

They are using semaphore signals in most of the Eastern cities," said Officer Wood today, turning his back to the west so that he could talk, and dodging a street car. "I should like to see them installed in Duluth. The beauty of the semaphore is that it makes any misunderstanding of signals impossible. An automobile driver can no more drive past a 'stop' signal than a railroad engineer can drive past a closed block, without knowing it."

Commissioner Silberstein has considered a semaphore similar to the one at the corner of Madison and State streets, raised, stopping east and west-bound traffic, and an automatic gong sounds twice. When the east and west arms are lowered the north and south "stop"

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF GEN. VON HINDENBURG

East St. Louis, Ill.; Sioux City, Iowa, and Milwaukee. She can't remember the home addresses of the rest of them, but he deserted them all, she says. No. 9 further says that she was not the only one deserted on Sept. 7, when Charlie left her, for he was a scaman on the United States revenue cutter Tuscarora, and she thinks Uncle Sam is looking for him too.

Berlin, Oct. 4, by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's sixty-eighth birthday was celebrated here Saturday in a notable way. The feature of the celebration was the driving of nails by 1,000 children in the "Iron Hindenburg," the colossal wooden statue of the field marshal that was recently erected and which is being sheathed with gold, silver and nails bought in the interest of a fund for rehabilitating East Prussia. An address was delivered by Count Ernest von Reventlow.

CRIMINALS BUSY DURING SEPTEMBER

Have Big Business in City; Swindling Case a Feature.

Burglars, pickpockets and just plain thieves did a land office business last month in Duluth, for more lost and stolen property was registered at police headquarters than in any previous month of the year.

The monthly report of Lieut. N. U. G. Terry shows that property representing an aggregate value of $8,673.38 was stolen. Recovered property was valued at $5,757.70, the percentage of recovery being 71. June and July were the other two big months of the year. In June, thieves secured $4,426 and in July $6,396. Only $3,143.67 was stolen in August.

The largest single item on the list was for $1,600 in currency, stolen from S. L. Reichert, treasurer of the Duluth Street Railway company, in a First National Bank building elevator on Sept. 25. Ralph H. Miller, known as a pickpocket, is awaiting grand jury action on a grand larceny charge in connection with this case.

There were forty-two cases of petty larceny during the month and twelve cases of grand larceny. Twelve cases of burglary, one of larceny from the person and one of swindling, were also reported.

One of the features of the report was the swindling case, the only one of its kind called to the notice of police in months, according to Lieut. Terry. On Sept. 26 two swindlers, looking for an honest man, persuaded William Larson, 327 West Second street, to put $50 in a box with $5,000 of their money, as evidence of his good faith in the deal. The money was not found.

Larson took the box home, and was to hold it over Sunday. He became suspicious and opened it, to find it filled with old newspapers. The "philanthropists" were not found.

MAYOR PRINCE WILL INTRODUCE NEW ELECTRICAL ORDINANCE

Has Been Passed Upon By Workers of Duluth; Will Create Office of Inspector at $1,500 a Year; Tells of Informal Objections to Act.

Mayor Prince will this afternoon introduce the new electrical ordinance at the request of the electrical workers of this city.

Although a request for criticism was made by the mayor more than two months ago, when the ordinance was first submitted to him by the electrical workers of the city, and non had been made to date, and this morning the commissioners, at an informal session, decided to introduce the measure this afternoon, a request to its effect having been made by the workers several days ago.

The ordinance creates the office of electrical inspector, who will receive a salary of $1,500 a year, and establish rules and regulations relating to electrical wiring, conduits and appliances and for licensing those engaged in doing electrical work.

In a communication received by Mayor Prince from City Attorney Greene last week the latter stated that few questions have been made to date, although copies were sent to all those that requested them, and council to take action at an early date.

He also goes into detail regarding some of the informal objections that have been made, including the one against the electrical inspector, who is granted the electrical inspector's own men at work on small jobs, the provision preventing from putting their electrical work for himself, unless he is given absolute control of all electrical apparatus in the house and the charge for special inspections to be paid by the owner.

The electrical ordinance has in all, a total of thirty sections and is being presented by the council so that the public can read the ordinance against any of the provisions. The measure is being read by the council several times before it comes up for passage.

The accident at Grand avenue occurred after dark. The machine was thrown a number of feet from the tracks. In the car besides Elmon were Edward Anderson, 1308 Seventeenth street, who was thrown on his head twenty feet away from the tracks and sustained a severe scalp wound, and had his chest and back badly bruised; Wallace Melver, 217 West Sixth street, and Bowman Gullacher, 1215 Twenty-first street. The latter only received slight injuries. The driving rain clouded the vision.

Announcement to that effect was made this morning by Supt. E. Clark. Promptly at 2 o'clock the elevator will be shut down for five minutes in Mr. Larson's honor. The services were held at that time from the Concordia Lutheran church.

The superior court of Douglas county will begin the October term of court today. The principal cases to be tried during the term will be the trial of Joseph Naughton, on a charge of falsifying returns at the November election, and that of W. J. Gordin, who is alleged to have stolen $225 from Oscar Leason a week ago Saturday.

Superior Football Team Wins.

The Superior city football team, in driving rain yesterday afternoon, defeated K. M. A. football team by a score of 58 to 0. Forward bucking, trick plays and runs and line the scoring of the winners and the goal in danger.

Normals Beat Alumni.

The superior normal football team won Saturday's game with the alumni by a score of 6 to 0. The game was made by a score of 6 to 0. Forward bucking, trick plays and runs and line the scoring of the winners and the goal in danger.

Judge Refuses to Preside.

Judge Charles Smith of the superior court will not try the Naughton case today. At this time, the court is alleged to have refused to preside in the election in November.

There has been considerable criticism in court from both sides contending that the case should be tried by the circuit court or it may be turned over to the circuit court for trial.

Scoring Butters.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 4.—(Special to Herald.)—The October scoring of dairy and food department began this afternoon. The state scoring will be held in Minneapolis in connection with the annual meeting of the State Butter and Cheese Makers' association.

EASTERN EDITOR DELIGHTED WITH DULUTH

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Newspaper Man Writes Glowingly of What He Saw on Visit Here and What He Expects of City.

Duluth is shown in his conclusion: "And still it is some town after all. Near 10,000 vessels arrived and cleared there in 1914, and they carried tonnage of more than 33,000,000 tons. They have over 600 vessels enrolled, with a net tonnage of 735,000 tons. They shipped 55,000,000 bushels of wheat last year, 17,000,000 tons of ore, and over 218,000,000 feet of lumber. Their bank clearings were $252,000,000. The population is 30,000.

"This is the city made famous by the 'Sunset' Cox. 'When you go up hill you progress at an angle of 45 degrees, and when you come down you slide.' Strictly speaking, it is up town and down town.

"It is heaven, of course. Any place is heaven where the angels of commerce and industry are at work. It is more of a town than it was ten years ago, when we saw it first. It will be more of a town in the glowing future when they build more ladders to get up with. They now have an aerial bridge under which the tallest mast may pass, and on which travels a car that drops to the street level—only one of its kind in America."

City of Enchantment.
"A short pleasure trip on the Great Lakes, or a swift rush on any one of the fifteen railroads radiating from Duluth as their common center, and summer in all her soft enchantment welcomes the delighted visitor. In to 'Summer-time Duluth is verily a city of enchantment. A hundred leagues and more, the winds come over the tossing waters to play in the streets and on the terraced hillsides. Borneal light is hers; the ceaseless breezes, fragrant with all the scents of the enduring pine forest, temper the air to a refreshing coolness.

"When night smears the city in her diamond net of pin-point lights, flashing far to the left and right, and over the brow of the hill, sleep, restful and dreamy, wows the visitor with compelling charm.

"Hailing with renewed strength, once more filled with the pure joy of living, the stranger finds a thousand things of beauty and of interest claiming his regard.

"The virgin forest flings its feathered tops over millions of acres, a scant few miles from the limits of the Summer plow and the reaper's sickle. And here, whole herds of them, as wild as when the Polaris plied his puny weapons against their speed and cunning, await the league-long bow of the modern marksman.

"To her less strenuously inclined visitors, Duluth offers a harvest of more sedate happiness.

Boulevard Drive Delights.
"The first of her lures is the boulevard drive, along the crest of her mighty hill; seven miles of sweeping driveway, four hundred feet above the lake.

"Tall firs and autos make periodical trips over this scenic highway; the visitor may feast his eyes upon a panorama of beauty and of interest claiming his regard.

"Of sweeping streets, intermingled with deep-set glens; of splashing cataracts plunging down the city from left to right; while, over all, a sky of matchless blue reflects the immense curve of the bay.

"Not without reason is Duluth called the 'Naples of North America.' The Mt. Clemens editor could not pass without his little joke: 'At Duluth, they are putting ear-muffs and overcoats on the cows!'

PRINCIPLE OF BUSINESS HOLDS GOOD IN POLITICS

To the Editor of The Herald: Beliefs that a man will bank on are practical beliefs. If it is a matter of eternal salvation, a man may or may not take it seriously; but when you hear him say, "I will bet money on it," you know that is the real thing.

For example, the saying, "The meek shall inherit the earth," as a matter of fact, it does not refer at all to the soul or the next world. It doesn't say the meek shall inherit heaven, but the meek shall inherit the earth. However, as much as it is associated with truthfulness, it is a worldly matter, most people do not regard it as practical. Yet every man in his business follows the same idea.

The most successful business men adopted as their policy. The customer is always right. The meekness—that is going further in the way of meekness than anybody you know who is called a meekly religious impulse. As a business policy, a man confesses to a weakness that he is in the wrong. It was adopted, not because it was highly moral, but because it was a business policy. And the people who adopt that business policy made such a prodigious success of it that it was adopted.

It is a practical, working belief that the meek shall inherit the earth. Since it has been proved, it is easy to believe it.

It is easy now, but it took courage at first. A man would expect to be imposed on the other side. He would be robbed right and left, and swindled and gouged all day long. Nothing of the sort. There is a law of fair exchange that operates in the world.

He who gives faith wins faith. So of nations. The United States has not assumed that the other fellow is always right, and has no idea of going that far. But the United States has said, "The other fellow may be right." And as we have seen that that we have removed any possible cause of war or means of aggression.

To rely on the other fellow's honesty is a sure way to ruin. The United States has always been a nation of the honest. It has always been a nation of the honest. It has always been a nation of the honest.

There are a few people who think we should be safer if we put up the bars and kept the doors locked. But the body of the people are thoroughly committed to the American system of national defense.

Giving us faith, the United States gains the faith of other nations. Innocent bystander. Duluth, Oct. 2.

RESURRECTS OLD AND FALSE OPPOSITION

To the Editor of The Herald: I just want to know if it's true that for every dollar that goes into the hands of the Associated Charities from any source, they keep 75 cents to pay themselves or living 25 cents out of the help. Now this is being told all over the city and is creating a feeling of opposition.

against the Associated Charities and many are saying, "Do away with the tape business and let the deserving poor get the benefit of the donations assigned to them."

Please place this in Open Court and give the Associated Charities a chance to let the public know the truth. Is a LOVER OF THE CHARITIES.
Duluth, Oct. 2.

This is an old lie which organized, systematic scientific charity has had to encounter from its birth. It is true that the Associated Charities do not spend all its receipts in direct aid to the poor. It is true that a considerable proportion of its funds are absorbed by its overhead charges. But invested than money spent in indiscriminate aid which gives some more than they need while overlooking others more deserving but less clamorous. Many by teaching them to rely on themselves. Organized charity investigates and directs. It aims to help the deserving poor by direct aid, not by indiscriminate giving. The money it spends in detecting frauds in equalizing the distribution of charity and in the aid of the afflicted to stand on their own feet is money abundantly well invested.—The Editor.

WATER AND LIGHT MANAGER DEFENDS DEPOSIT PLAN

To the Editor of The Herald: In your discussion of the subject of "Water and Light Manager" in the Sept. 8 issue of The Herald, attention was called to the fact that the water and light departments, which also regulate public utilities, have a plan to require all public utility companies to discontinue the practice of requiring consumers to make cash deposits to insure against losses from unpaid bills. In the latter part of this article you called attention to the fact that in Duluth the water and light departments have adopted a system similar, in which the consumer has the alternative of making a deposit or having his bills guaranteed by a water or light company, and suggest that it might be well for the Duluth utility to abandon this plan.

On this matter of further information, it is to be noted that the water and light departments have adopted a system similar, in which the consumer has the alternative of making a deposit or having his bills guaranteed by a water or light company, and suggest that it might be well for the Duluth utility to abandon this plan.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability. The right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Ralph Snider—Answer to a recent question in the Open Court: If you dropped two ball weights exactly at the same time and exactly the same size, containing the same amount of weight, regardless of their weight, they would both strike the ground at the same time, it being understood that they are both started at the same distance from the center of gravity. A ball of lead weighing one pound would not reach the ground as fast as the ball of lead weighing two pounds, because the two-pound ball offers less resistance to the air in proportion to its volume. It is true that the two-pound ball contains twice as much volume as the one-pound ball, but it only contains about one and a half times as much surface. This same principle applies to the 1½ and B.B. shot. The No. 1½ shot does less resistance to the air in proportion to its volume than the No. 1 shot does. To lessen the resistance of the air means to secure greater penetration. This is why rifle bullets are made slim and pointed to pierce the air and strike first. Both the No. 1½ and B.B. charges used as there will be a slight difference in weight, they are slightly different. Momentum also enters into the question of penetration. Momentum is the moving body. Momentum equals the mass in weight multiplied by the velocity, or the weight of the kernel of lead, times the number of feet per second that the shot is traveling at the muzzle of the gun. As the B.B. shot is larger than the No. 1½ shot, its momentum would be greater, hence greater penetration. Shooting against the wind retards penetration. Shooting towards the east on a still day aids and retards penetration.

SPRIT LAKES DUCK.
F. F. Counselman, Duluth—Will the "weather man" or some one else who knows, kindly answer an inquiry regarding this thermometer? I have a supposedly first-class outdoor thermometer. "Taylor Tyco's," but the colored spirits or fluid have become quite colorless towards the top. What is the cause of this?

cause of this? And how can it be corrected? Is it just gravitation of the coloring matter, would sun or rain have any effect? Towards the bottom the fluid is all right.

Ans.—Relative to above, Mr. Richardson of United States weather bureau says that the fluid in the thermometer may have become colorless from both causes mentioned. As a remedy he suggests that the thermometer be turned upside down for a short time. The sun may have faded the coloring matter, or the coloring may have settled in the bottom. By inverting the thermometer the coloring will undoubtedly again become equally distributed, as Mr. Richardson's belief.

SAYS MR. FINNEGAN

Mr. Regan, seated at his favorite table, was busily engaged in listening to the merrily changing of his cash register as his white-clothed helpers exchanged drinks for cash with the thrifty multitude, when in walks the friend, Finnegan, who, seeing him at the bar, called him by name and seating himself, asked:

"Mr. Regan, are ye familiar wit' political questions?"
"If ye mane questions av national character, I only know what any well-to-do man would know," replied Mr. Regan. "I mane questions pertaining to the state, county, city, ward or precinct, I have th' best av thim skinned takin' a fling," said Finnegan.

"Not meself, in person," answered Mr. Regan. "I mane questions pertaining to the state, county, city, ward or precinct, I have th' best av thim skinned takin' a fling," said Finnegan.

"Th' papers be mentionin' two from mane Joe," said Mr. Regan. "D' ye mane Joe?"
"Sure, th' Charley I mane," replied Finnegan. "I don't know th' other lad, only be sight."

"Charley is th' foin' lad," said Mr. Regan. "He mane a good story about him not long ago. He mane he loked t' hear ut, Finnegan."

"But if ye mane Charley, th' last time av court he brought suit agin a woman who had been plantin' corn or somethin' on some land he owned an' she come back at him be sayin' she had been doin' ut so long th' statoot av mane Joe," said Finnegan.

ROCKEFELLER OFFERS PLAN

Industrial System Answer to Demands of Mine Workers.

No Discrimination Against the Members of Any Union.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 4.—Collective bargaining, insured by a contract signed with a term of years, was promised by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to the employees of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. The contract was embodied in the industrial plan submitted by Mr. Rockefeller at a meeting of officers of the company and grievance representatives from the various coal camps. The plan carries a guarantee against discrimination against members of any union, but does not provide for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

The industrial system outlined at the conference is looked upon as the Rockefeller answer to the demands of the United Mine Workers—demands which industrial conflicts in the history of the company have steadily maintained.

The plan carries a guarantee against discrimination against members of any union, but does not provide for recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

company reserves the privilege of relieving employees from duty on account of lack of work.

Employees are guaranteed the right to hold meetings to purchase supplies where they please and to employ check weighmen.

How to Present Grievances. A minor or group of miners with a grievance against the company shall take the matter to the camp's elected representative. The representative must first seek adjustment from the foreman or superintendent. Failing to receive satisfaction he then is at liberty to appeal to the president of the district, or to the higher officers of the company up to President J. F. Welborn.

Another method of settlement open to the miners, after the initial appeal to the foreman or superintendent, is a hearing before the district joint committee on conciliation. If the committee fails to hear, it may select an umpire, whose decision shall be binding on all parties.

If the joint committee fails to adjust a dispute, it provided that it shall be settled by arbitration or by reference to the Colorado state industrial commission.

The company guarantees the grievance representative of the men against unjust dismissal of the men, and provides that a representative who thinks shall not be a victim of discrimination may appeal to the Colorado state industrial commission.

Additional Stipulations. "It is mutually understood and agreed that in the future the rights and privileges guaranteed the employees and the company in the industrial representation plan herewith stipulations respecting employment shall govern the parties hereto on Jan. 1, 1918, and shall continue in effect until superseded by either of the parties."

Charge to employees for dwelling without both heat and light shall be $2 per month. Charge for electricity shall not exceed 25 cents per month, shall not be increased on porches, shall not be charged on the company.

There shall be no charge for domestic labor in cases where the company is obliged to purchase the same; in such cases the charges shall be substantially cost to the company.

The rates to be charged employees for powder and dynamite shall be substantially their cost to the company.

To encourage employees to cultivate flowers and vegetable gardens, the company agrees to furnish, free of charge, each house lot owned by its employees with a supply of manure for the purpose of removing garbage free of charge.

As the need becomes manifest, the company will continue its present policy of providing, as rapidly as possible, bath-houses and social centers in the nature of clubhouses for the employees at the several mines.

Eight-Hour Day. "Eight hours shall constitute a day's work for all underground employees. This shall mean eight hours, exclusive of the time required to get to and from the mine opening to the place of employment."

Work for all outside labor, except firemen and engineers, shall be paid monthly by check.

No deductions shall be made from earnings, except where authorized by employees.

No change affecting conditions of employment with respect to wages or hours shall be made without giving thirty days' notice as provided by statute.

The schedule of wages and the working conditions in force in the several districts shall continue without reduction, but if, prior to Jan. 1, 1918, a general increase shall be granted in competitive districts in which the company does not operate, the company shall be bound to make a proper increase in its wages.

For this purpose a joint meeting of the miners' representatives and proper officers of the company shall be called within thirty days after the increase in competitive districts is effective to discuss and determine a method for fixing the schedule in the new districts affected."

The contract is to be signed by the president and secretary of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company and by the representatives of the miners.

It is presumed the mail bags were opened at Hongkong, except first-class mail.

A Timely Message To the Women of America

Only a few months ago, the greatest and most important corset-invention of all time was placed on sale—the new

SELF-HELP
WONDERLIFT

Its far-reaching and beneficial effects were immediately recognized by hundreds of physicians and surgeons, by fashion writers and hygienists; also by every intelligent woman who had the good fortune to see it and test it.

This new corset-invention furnishes the medical profession with helpful assistance in preventive as well as curative treatment of certain female weaknesses; also—far more important—it gives all women the means of SELF-HELP to HEALTH.

To make this boon to womankind quickly known, and to place it speedily within the reach of the greatest number, we have induced representative stores throughout this country to participate in a great trade event during the first week in October—

A "Self-Help" Exposition Beginning Monday, October 4, 1915

—the purpose of which is to forcibly bring before the public the exclusive merits of this new WONDERLIFT Corset.

During this period every Corset Department will become, for the time being, a branch of the NEMO HYGIENIC-FASHION INSTITUTE. The thousands of graduates and students of this Institute who are employed in many stores throughout the country, as well as the regular staff of every Corset Department, will unite in a great effort to demonstrate and instruct the women of the United States in the latest and most scientific method of SELF-HELP; and our own staff of instructors will visit, during that week, as many stores as possible.

These experts will explain the new feature of this remarkable Corset; how it gives the most healthful natural support, with delightful comfort; how it gradually and effectively reduces the size and also the weight of the figure; how it keeps the healthy woman healthy, and relieves those who are physically weak.

They will fit the "Wonderlift" on you, and show you how to adjust it YOURSELF, so that it will give you symmetrical lines and a stylish, fashionable figure.

It is the Imperative Duty of Every Woman

—to get acquainted with this corset, which soon will be recognized, the world over, as a great blessing to womankind. Every woman owes this to herself, and to those who are near and dear to her.

The most important function of the "Wonderlift" is to PREVENT the ill effects to women—bearing-down pains, backaches and so on. But it has proved a wonderful help in CURING these disorders, or at least in relieving the distressing symptoms.

The Wonderlift Corset, in style, workmanship, material and durability, is far superior to most of the ordinary corsets (having no particular feature) sold at the same prices. The benefit of this invaluable, epoch-making invention—the new Nemo "Wonderlift" Corset—comes to you entirely FREE OF EXTRA CHARGE.

Prices, in all sizes, $5.00 and upward.

STAR HARNESS NAGS TO RACE

World's Best Trotters Competing for Castleton Cup
at Lexington Today.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4.—The Castleton cup, a free-for-all trot for a purse of $3,000, which will bring together one of the greatest fields of trotting stars that has ever been seen here, was the stellar attraction of the opening of the Grand Circuit meeting today. Peter Volo, 2:02; Etawah, 2:02; Lee A. worthy, 2:03 1/4; Margaret Druten, 2:04 1/4; Joan, 2:04 1/4; Rhythmell, 2:04 1/4, and others will compete.

The other events of the day were the 2:10 trot, 2:07 pace and the 2:14 pace, each for a purse of $1,000.

As a special attraction William will try to break his own world's record to a season of 1:55 1/2. He will be driven by his owner, C. K. G. Billings.

Judging from the number of famous starters that are entered, many new records should be hung up during the two days of racing.

A total of $35,000 in purses has been set aside for the harness horses, and while the annual stake events have attracted the cream of the harness world, the daily purses for trotting and pacing classes, have not been neglected by race performers.

CHAMPIONS TO TRAVEL WESTWARD

Winners of World's Baseball Series to Play Picked Team.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—The Boston Red Sox will go to San Francisco to play a picked team in a special series if they win the forthcoming world's series.

Whether the Philadelphia Nationals will make the trip in the event of their success in the big series is still uncertain, President William F. Baker told the national commission.

President Lammie said that according to the plans the new world champions will meet a team selected from the best players in both major leagues. Games will be played on the way west, the trip taking about a month.

DULUTH AND ST. PAUL IN REAL FOOTBALL BATTLE

Zenith City Eleven and Banhausers Play a 2-to-2
Game in the Mud of Athletic Park; A Fumble Robs Local Team of a Great Victory.

Duluth's crack independent football team and the Banhausers of St. Paul played a desperate game of football yesterday, the final whistle finding the teams locked in a deadly struggle in St. Paul's territory. Score, 2 to 2.

The playing of the local team proved a revelation to even its most ardent followers. The locals outplayed the greatest independent team ever assembled in St. Paul, and had the contest gone a few minutes longer it is certain that the bright bird of victory would have been brought home to Cub Lajoie's eleven.

Duluth scored a safety in the second quarter, St. Paul getting the ball on a fumble on its own 1-yard line, attempted to rush the oval out of danger. The heavy lineups of the local team crashed through and swung the visiting backs over the line for a down.

St. Paul's score came in the third territory. Twice in attempting to rush the slippery ball out of its own territory, Duluth backs fumbled the ball from the porous protection of its own line. Duluth fumbled and the visitors scored a safety, tying up the count.

No such playing has ever been witnessed on a local independent field as that witnessed in the fourth quarter of the game. Both teams went in with a do or die effort. Slowly Duluth worked the ball down the field. The heavy line forwards were going through and breaking up the play of the opposing team. Time brought an end to a contest that will live long in the memory of the few fans that witnessed the game.

Banhausers Slipped In.
The Banhausers—not the Kents—played against the local stars, and thereby hangs a glistening tale. Anxious to put Duluth out of the running for the state independent title, the scheming independent managers of the Zenith City organized the best team that could be recruited from the crack Banhauser players, and then added the great colored star, Hopkins, to the collection.

President Lammie said that according to the plans the new world champions will meet a team selected from the best players in both major leagues. Games will be played on the way west, the trip taking about a month.

Carney pierced the opposing line, while husky McDonald proved a tower of strength in the forward defense. Times innumerable the plays of the visitors were broken up by the Duluth forward line. The Duluth forward line, like that of the Philadelphia Athletics, was a deadly machine. The Duluth forward line, like that of the Philadelphia Athletics, was a deadly machine.

Duluth Gains Most Ground.
One St. Paul goal line. In the first quarter Duluth rushed the oval over the field by a series of brilliant and runs and plunging line and off tackle plays. The St. Paul goal line, but dropped the rain-soaked oval just as he fell, a St. Paul man falling on the ball and preventing the score that would have won the game for Duluth.

In the second quarter the locals had the ball on the visitors' one-yard line, when a fumble robbed Duluth of what appeared to be a certain chance of scoring.

The oval was in the visitors' territory the major portion of the time. Not satisfied with this list of casualties, the Duluth forward line, with twenty times its volume of safety solution, filtered it as before, instilled a wee sample into the nostrils of thirty-six victims and the satisfaction of seeing fifteen of them languishing with acute rhinitis within the next few days.

All of which is of very little or no significance to us, except in so far as many kinds of "colds" on the part of the Duluth forward line, and perhaps to accent any little "colds" we may have already played.

If any of our readers still harbor the great delusion we do hope they will never again doubt that at least some "colds" can be passed from person to person by the nasal secretion—as, for instance, in an open-face sneeze.

Those who still live in close confinement under the weather and in the "taking cold" are perhaps too well acquainted with the fact that it is not only a matter of time, but of time to change their minds now, but if there is any still possible of fitting their theories with our own, we up to the Duluth forward line, and perhaps to accent any little "colds" we may have already played.

House-broken air—nice, comfortably.

HEALTH TALKS

Very Refined "Cold" Microbes

Another new cause of "colds" has been discovered by the famous bacteriologist, Dr. William Brady, M.D.

Yes, really and truly refined microbes or "cold" bugs, you can take your pick of terms. An investigator—we almost said a bacteriologist—by the name of Kruse has discovered that the virus of many cases of "colds" (head colds) is a bacterium, like that of infantile paralysis and other infectious diseases.

Kruse diluted the secretion in acute solution and passed the mixture through an unglazed ceramic filter. The filtered material was instilled into the noses of twelve fearless volunteers, and in from one to three days afterward four of the martyrs came down with the sniffle-sneeze.

Not satisfied with this list of casualties, the bacteriologist took the secretion with twenty times its volume of salt solution, filtered it as before, instilled a wee sample into the nostrils of thirty-six victims and the satisfaction of seeing fifteen of them languishing with acute rhinitis within the next few days.

All of which is of very little or no significance to us, except in so far as many kinds of "colds" on the part of the Duluth forward line, and perhaps to accent any little "colds" we may have already played.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Dispatches to the war department last night announced that there was little prospect of reopening the Panama canal before Nov. 1. Since the canal was blocked by a slide from the east bank north of Gold Hill, Sept. 20, the movement has continued steadily, pouring earth and rock into the waterway while the dredges worked in a vain effort to keep it open.

GOOD BULGES IN MARKETS

Wheat Advances on Strong Millers' Inquiry and Higher Cables.

Flaxseed Bulges Sharply With Active Crushers Bidding.

Duluth Board of Trade, Oct. 4.—The market was strong at the close on fresh bidding. December wheat closed 1½¢ up and May 1½¢ up. October durum closed 1½¢ up. November 1½¢ up; December 1½¢ up, and May 2¢ up. Oats closed ¼¢ up at 31½¢ for on the track, rye unchanged at 90¢ for on the track, and barley unchanged at 45¢ to 50¢.

At Winnipeg, October oats closed unchanged at 30½¢, and December at 31¢.

Flax quotations were advanced over 1¢ in today's market during the first three hours of trading, under the spur of good inquiry from Eastern millers and higher cables. Inspections for the two days came in 1,400 cars, and all the offerings on the tables were readily absorbed, with the premium advanced to 2½¢ over December. Light receipts of fall wheat are serving to divert the flax inquiry toward spring wheat, and the calculations of many operators in respect to probable values in view of the heavy marketings have been very materially upset.

Durum was a feature in today's local market, quotations in it being advanced to the extent of 2¢. That was attributable to active Eastern inquiry, and the probability of substantial export shipments in the near future.

The lake and ocean freight situation is attracting the attention of operators these days. With 600 cars for grain for shipment from the Canadian Harbors of the Lakes to Buffalo, that rate was asked by vesselmen here 90¢. Considerable chartering was done last week, however, at 50¢ for this week's loading, and with Winnipeg and Duluth dealers both bidding for fresh vessel space, tonnage is scarce. As showing the heavy loadings of late, it is to be mentioned that shipments at the elevators from the houses here during the last three days aggregated 2,200,000 bu of all grains. Of that, 1,641,000 bu was spring wheat and 559,000 bu durum.

It is reported that 75,000,000 bu of this season's wheat crop has been already sold at Winnipeg. The tonnage to be moved up the close of navigation depends mainly upon the number of ocean boats made available by the British admiralty, operators up there say.

December wheat opened 1½¢ up at 91¢, reacted ½¢ and stood at 94½¢ at the noon hour. May opened 1½¢ up at 94¢ and gained ½¢ more.

October durum opened 1½¢ up at 96¢, bulged 2¢ more and then weakened to 97½¢. November opened 1½¢ up at 97¢, gained 2¢ more and weakened 1¢. December opened 1½¢ up at 98¢, advanced to 97½¢ and weakened ½¢. May opened 1½¢ up at 91¢, advanced 2¢ and then weakened to 91½¢.

Flaxseed showed strength again, advances extending up to 5¢ being recorded. The bulge was brought about through good bidding by crushers and some anxiety over the close of the season of supplies. Stocks are now down to a low point, and marketings of the new crop are thought to be limited for some time to come. Opinions are expressed by operators that threshing returns will be disappointing.

October flax opened unchanged at $1.80, and closed 1½¢ up at $1.81. November opened 1½¢ up at $1.80, and closed 1½¢ up at $1.81. December opened 1½¢ up at $1.79, and closed 1½¢ up at $1.80. May opened 1½¢ up at $1.81, and closed 1½¢ up at $1.82.

Chicago Market.
Wet Foreign News Strengthens Wheat
Chicago, Oct. 4.—Wheat prices showed some firmness today owing to wet weather northwest and because of the fact that the harvest in the Dakotas and Minnesota, threatened to stop threshing and to delay the movement of the spring crop. Meanwhile Liverpool advances continued to tell of unabated demand and of supplies being which varied from the same as Saturday's close to 2½¢.

October 98½, and May at 98¢, was followed by slight advance to 99½¢. A reaction followed. Buying of futures here for Eastern account led to a reaction of ½¢. There were also advices that large export sales of wheat had been made from the seaboard. The close was unsettled, 1½¢ to 1½¢ of 2¢ net higher. Duluth and Minneapolis 98½¢ and May at 98½¢.

Predictions of frost advanced the corn market. On the advanced, however, pit traders turned generally to the selling side, and a range varying to 1½¢ higher, prices tended to 1½¢. Later the market rallied with wheat. The close was firm at a range varying from 1½¢ to 1½¢ of 2¢ net higher. Duluth and Minneapolis 98½¢ and May at 98½¢.

Oats had no independent action. The slight changes noticeable seemed to be governed by corn. High quotations on hogs gave

SUBMARINES CROSS THE ATLANTIC SAFELY

Boston, Mass., Oct. 4.—American-built submarines, which ventured across the Atlantic to join the British naval forces at Gibraltar, made the passage safely under their own power and without much discomfort for the crew, according to letters received here from men who shared in the expedition.

Involved by larger warships, the little squadron of four vessels, fresh from the yards at which they were assembled in Montreal, passed down the St. Lawrence river and after a stop at St. John's, Nfld., put to sea.

Encountered, no rough weather was encountered, and all the boats were able to make the trip under their own engines. Provision had been made to tow them if they got into any trouble. The crew had the time of the trip very much enjoyed.

ASHLAND CLAM BAKE BIG AFFAIR

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 4.—There were several hundred clam bakers on board the steamer Slater when it returned from Madeline Island Saturday, the scene of the big annual clam bake. Representative business men from all over the state and the Twin Cities were included in the party.

Close to 100 prominent local men are members of the Ashland Clam Bake club and to each member is accorded the privilege of inviting a friend.

The clam bake is always a big event. R. W. Parsons, who is in charge, said the party was a success. The nature, was in charge.

Troops Protect Themselves
By Using Glasses and Other Appliances.

Rome, via Paris, Oct. 5.—The official statement from general headquarters of the Italian army says:

"Artillery actions have occurred on various parts of the front. The enemy artillery threw many shells on the Cormona railway station without doing any damage. Our artillery bombarded with good result an enemy battery observation post and a column of wagons on the road.

"The enemy is now using hand

our troops protect themselves adequately

"The heavy rains in the lower Isonzo

ARE DETERMINED TO

Canadians Prepared to Spend All Necessary
Money, Says Attorney.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Thomas Kelly, millinaire building contractor of Winnipeg, Canada, who is alleged to have defrauded the province of Manitoba out of $125,000 in the construction of government buildings, was ready today to begin his fight against extradition.

Kelly, who is head of the Thomas Kelly & Sons, contractors, was to appear for a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Mason to show cause why he should not be extradited. He was arrested here last week by a private detective and has since been held in the county jail at Waukegan, Ill.

Representing the province of Manitoba was Attorney B. A. Bonnar, K. C., of Winnipeg. Police Commissioner John C. McFie of Manitoba and two Chicago attorneys acting for Horace D. Nugent, British consul in Chicago. Nugent is the complainant against Kelly.

"We are prepared to spend as much money as necessary to get Kelly extradited," said Attorney Bonnar. "We expect a long, hard fight, but we do not care how long it lasts; we are determined to bring him back to Canada."

Appeal will be made, it was indicated, to Secretary of State Lansing for the necessary papers for extradition.
Kelly engaged four Canadian lawyers, assisted by Chicago counsel, to defend him.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 5.—An explosion

soon extinguished, but was decided by

Serbian Believe Russian Ultimatum Will Bring Matters to Head.

Nish, Serbia, Oct. 5, via London.—
Close observers of the Balkan situation are of the opinion today that if Bulgaria does not at once denounce the German officers who have been brought into the country to take part in Bulgaria's threatened military operations, an extension of the war in the Balkans is inevitable. Russia's ultimatum to Bulgaria is regarded here as having brought this situation to a head.

The arrival here in a few days is expected of the first detachments of troops of the Quadruple Entente.
The Serbian army is declared to be better prepared than ever to go into action. The entire Serbian people is indulging in enthusiastic manifestations of its purpose to defend the rights and integrity of the country.

Even Heat in All Parts of the Room with a STEWART Circulating HEATER

THE STEWART will keep you comfortable and burn less coal, giving a greater heat and more comfort than any heater made. We'll be glad to prove this to your entire satisfaction. The floor is kept warm by the double heating flue in the base. You don't have to crowd the Stewart. Every unit of heat is used and no unused heat passes up the chimney.

Let the Mighty Stewart Keep You Comfortable!

The Stewart Fine System is the most perfect system known. It has accomplished two important things—increased the direct radiating surface of the stove without decreasing the radiation from the main bottom or main back and by surrounding the hot air flue entirely by heat, an extra strong hot air flue of large capacity is secured.

A Stewart Base Burning Heater will circulate every ounce of air entirely through the stove and into a room size 12x15 feet, with a 12-foot ceiling, in 50 minutes, so that you can readily see that by circulating this air through the stove in this time, it makes warm to a comfortable and even degree all parts of the room. Another important point, a Stewart heater will give one-fourth more heat with one-fourth less fuel than any other heater of equal size. These few facts explain why there are more Stewart stoves in use at the head of the Lakes than all other makes combined.

Official messages reaching London from Athens say the Bulgarian authorities, immediately after the conclusion of the recent convention with Turkey, seized all Greeks and other Christians who had fled from the ranks of the Turkish army to take refuge in Bulgaria and delivered them to Turkish authorities. At the same time, according to these advices, large quantities of food and other supplies have been sent to Turkey from Bulgaria.

No official report has been issued concerning the landing of allied troops at Saloniki. According to Athens, three-fifths of the Bulgarian forces are to go to the Serbian frontier and the remainder will hold the Greek line.

Delivered 4 p. m. Monday.
Petrograd, Oct. 5.—Russia's ultimatum to Bulgaria was not delivered to Premier Radoslawoff until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This statement was made officially here today.

The foreign office at noon today stated that no answer had been received from Bulgaria to the ultimatum. It is not expected by the foreign office that ultimatum will be presented by Russia.

Russia did not insist upon demobilization by Bulgaria, but it is expected that this is not done at once. Bulgaria will gradually reduce her army to a peace footing, in case her reply is favorable. The Russian minister at Sofia may remain indefinitely as a private citizen, owing to ill-health, even should diplomatic relations be severed.

Previous advices from Petrograd had been delivered on Sunday and that the twenty-four hours limit within which a reply was required expired yesterday. At this time did not begin until the ultimatum, the Bulgarian government has until 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Armenian women and children, but as soon as the Turks and Kurds had been driven away from the town, virtually all of the Armenians turned out to the atrocities they had previously been practicing upon the Armenians. It was with great difficulty that they were restrained.

Voices of Extremism.
"The Turks and Kurds have declared a holy war against the Armenians and vowed to exterminate them. The population of Van was poorly armed and forced to use brass bullets. Three small trinkets to make bullets. The cannons were made of scrap metal. The supplies of ammunition were running short, and the Russians arrived just in time to save the Armenians from being wiped out."

Mr. Yarrow said many Armenians were killed from typhus and other diseases, and when he left, conditions almost everywhere in Armenia were terrible. Half of the missionaries were taken ill during the siege and six of them died.

According to Mr. Yarrow, many of the atrocities practiced by the Kurds on the Armenians were indescribable. He confirmed all of the reports of out-rages which have reached the United States, and said only a portion of the real story had been told.

Allies Lose 150,000.
Berlin, Oct. 5, via London.—A correspondent to the official state press states that the French losses in killed, wounded and prisoners in the recent fighting were 150,000, and those of the British 60,000 while the German losses were not one-fifth of this number.

The German official estimate of the loss by the Entente allies of an aggregate of 150,000 men follows within a few days of an official estimate of German casualties made by the French war office, which declared in a statement of Wednesday, Sept. 29, that the allies had lost since the beginning of the war a total of 1,500,000 men, wounded and prisoners which amounted to "more than the effective strength of three army corps," or about 120,000.

MINNEAPOLIS SALOONS STAY

That this will be done is said to have been Mr. Safford's intention when he spoke of "holding our time."

The decision was most bitterly contested by the "wet" forces, who were making every effort to get out of the city as soon as possible.

Rev. George B. Safford, at the head of the "dry" forces, said that "there is no chance of a veto being placed on the law by the 'wets,' wagon load having been taken to the polls."

During the day charges of fraud were freely made by both sides. Much bitterness was shown at the polls, but the election was held in a quiet manner.

At the Seven Corners, charged with testing the corrupt practices of the city, a large number of the "wets" were employed of a brew-house and the "wets" were distributed "wet" handbills.

More than 100,000 people are in the county is within the jurisdiction of Minneapolis, and as there are saloons in all the villages, it was feared that the "wets" would be victorious everywhere.

At the head of the "wets" were "dry" forces, many of whom were received during the day, making inquiry into the election, outcome of the contest, and showing the widespread interest in the election.

Scenes on the downtown streets last night surpassed anything of a similar nature in recent years. Extra editions of newspapers appeared on the streets, and the "wets" were eagerly scanned for the last standing of the "dry" forces.

In front of the newspaper offices large crowds watched bulletin boards while thousands waited for the results of the election. The "wets" were victorious everywhere.

Order By Joffre.
Berlin, Oct. 4, by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., Oct. 5.—The war office yesterday made public an order issued by Gen. Joffre in connection with the recent attack of the allies in France and Belgium, supplemented it today with the following statement: "On Sept. 14, before the beginning of the great attack on the whole front, Gen. Joffre issued an army order a copy of which has been found in the hands of the Germans."

The officers were to tell them that the intention was to enter the German territory from France's soil, and that this would influence nations hitherto neutral to enter the war with the Entente powers.

"Gen. Joffre then told of the exceptionally favorable conditions for the attack. Territorial were to be used in this French plan, thus freeing the younger men for the assault. The commander-in-chief held several conferences with the staff, and the heavy guns replaced by new ones. The amount of ammunition was increased and was unprecedented in the history of the movement. Gen. Joffre said the attack should be made on every important front and consist of several combined assaults. When the German line should be taken, the German formations would follow and break through the second and

BAR DULUTH HERDS FROM BIG FAIR

Jean Duluth Cattle Not Going to San Francisco.

Red Poll and Guernsey herds of the Jean Duluth farm that captured all the best prizes at the recent cattle shows held in North Dakota, Helen, Mont., and Salem, Or., are now on the way home. They will arrive in Duluth Sunday.

It was the intention of the owners to have exhibited the herds at the Panama-Pacific exposition, but for the reason that all the Eastern cattle were barred from the competition, the Duluth herd did not enter.

In telegram received yesterday by John G. Williams from George F. Cron, superintendent of the Jean Duluth farm, it was stated that the reason for the embargo on Eastern cattle was made by the fair authorities through the competition, the Duluth herd might have the foot and mouth disease.

From a financial and an advertising viewpoint the exhibiting of the Duluth herds has been highly satisfactory. However, they would like to have had their stock exhibited with the world's best, for to believe that they could have annexed the highest awards.

ENGLISH COURSE FOR MATURE MEN

Quick Route to Good Expression Offered at Y. M. C. A.

A special open meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. to which all young men are invited. At this meeting the new Pace and Pace standardized course in English will be fully explained. It is a new course never before offered in Duluth and will likely attract every man who desires to improve his use of English.

It is unfortunate that the average boy leaves school with so little facility in the use of his mother tongue," said Secretary L. A. Turner today. "So much of business today is done by correspondence that the man who would succeed to his fullest capacity, must have a reasonable mastery of tongue and pen."

This new course is designed to give mature men a practical working knowledge of English without wasting years or hours on nonessentials. "The meeting will be brief and the presentation interesting and should prove the initial step to progressive advancement toward greater success for many young men through effective use of English," said Mr. Turner. "Whether a man's need arises from never having had the opportunity to secure a thorough training or from the need to review some work, which has been rusting for years under a technical education, the opportunity is the same."

ASKS DAMAGES FOR TIES UNLAWFULLY TAKEN

In Judge Ensign's division of the district court today, a jury was drawn to try a lawsuit instituted by the Zenith Cedar company against Martin brothers, to recover treble damages for ties and posts claimed to have been unlawfully taken by the defendants. The forest products in question, it is alleged, were located at Spur No. 317, four miles northwest of Remer on the Soo line.

NIGHT SCHOOL DRAWS MANY

About 500 Pupils Expected to Be Enrolled This Week.

Large Numbers Would Qualify to Secure Citizenship.

Two hundred and sixteen students, from 14 to 40 years of age, enrolled last night for the six months' night school course to be conducted at four public schools. This number will be doubled by the end of the week, it is believed.

Results of an extensive campaign among Duluth's large foreign-speaking element were apparent, according to the principals of the various buildings, as 142 of the 216 were full-grown men who wanted to take the course as a means to qualifying for American citizenship. At Central high school, G. M. Paulus, who is in charge, announced that there were 143 students enrolled. Eighty of these were foreign-born, and the remainder were persons wanting instruction in bookkeeping, stenography and typewriting; eight were eighth grade pupils with special permits; eight were girls who wanted sewing, and one boy wanted to take manual training.

B. A. Leonard, principal of the Monroe school, Twenty-sixth avenue west and First street, reported that eighty foreigners and eight eighth-grade pupils were enrolled.

At the Irving junior high school, Fifty-sixth avenue and Nicollet street, Principal Otto Wieland reported an enrollment of nine foreigners and four eighth graders.

At the Harriet Beecher Stowe school, New Duluth, Principal W. E. Anderson enrolled thirty-five foreigners who hope to become naturalized citizens.

Because of the large foreign element which is employed in Duluth's factories, and the steel plant, Principal Anderson expects a considerable increase in the classes which will be conducted there.

Present plans provide for two hours work starting at 7:30 p. m., on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, until March 26.

These night classes will have a larger enrollment than any ever before held in the city of Duluth," said Assistant Superintendent of Schools W. B. Schilling, who is in immediate charge of the work.

Duluth Floral Co. Flowers for Dress-up Week. INSTRUCTION FOR C. E. SOCIETIES School of Methods Opens at Duluth Y. M. C. A.

A school of methods for the Christian Endeavor union of the Duluth district was opened at the Y. M. C. A. at 5 p. m. yesterday with an address to pastors delivered by Charles E. Smith, secretary of this district. The speaker outlined what he considered the duties of the pastors to the C. E. societies.

At 7:30 o'clock another meeting was held at the Y. M. C. A., where several Duluth clergymen and Endeavor men spoke. Arthur E. Manthey, district president, acted as chairman. E. H. McAllister, first vice president; Rev. J. A. McGaughey, J. H. Hocking, and others spoke. Mr. Evans said he wanted to see five new societies in this district within the next year, and at least 500 new members. He said $500 for mission work would not be too large a sum to raise in this district.

The conference tonight will be held in the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock. Delegates from range cities are expected to be present.

CHARACTER GREAT ASSET IN NAVY

Recruits From This District Show High Standard of Conduct.

Statistics received today by Peter Coyle, local naval recruiting officer, show that the recruits received by the Minneapolis navy recruiting district, which includes Duluth, are a very desirable class of men, which bears out the views of Officer Coyle, who states that farmers' sons and young men from small cities make the best gun pointers and mechanics.

Of seventy men received at the naval training station of the Great Lakes from this district during the last quarter of the year, only one was given a bad conduct discharge; one purchased his discharge, and one was discharged on account of physical disability, giving the district an average of 97 per cent desirable recruits.

Every effort possible is being made to keep up the present high standard of character of the enlisted force of the United States navy, and no man of bad character or questionable character is accepted.

BARACA ANNUAL. Club of First Methodist Church Has Banquet and Election.

Dr. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First M. E. church, and Rev. Robert E. Miller, associate pastor, addressed the Baraca annual of the church at its annual banquet last night at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting was one of unusual interest. Officers were elected as follows: President, R. W. Fietwell, vice president, J. R. Batchelor, secretary, J. M. Sanders, treasurer, S. W. Harris is teacher of the class. A committee was appointed to outline activities of the class for the ensuing year.

MUNICIPAL COURT CALENDAR OPENS

Judge Windom Unperturbed By St. Paul Hearing in His Case.

At 10 o'clock this morning, just as the state supreme court convened to decide whether or not to grant writs of habeas corpus to Judge W. L. Windom, the municipal court, Judge Windom rapped with his gavel and began consideration of the October civil calendar.

Neither Judge Windom, nor any of his clerks showed any anxiety as to the outcome of the quo warranto proceedings brought by the state's attorney general, to show cause why Judge Windom did not honor Governor Hammon's appointment to the office of H. Smallwood and turn over the office to him.

The October calendar, though not as long as the September one, is large, containing forty-one cases. Nine of these cases will be tried before a jury. The jury list includes: O. W. Olson vs. Morris Silk; Louise Plisson vs. A. Vancalberg; Belnet In. vs. M. K. Stack & Co. vs. Henry Casey; Max Snider vs. Joe Ponkin; Andrew Carls vs. the City of New York; Polinsky et al vs. Louis Hagen; E. G. Windom vs. the City of New York; Fred Miller Brewing company vs. E. J. Anderson et al.

CANADIAN MONEY BEING RESTORED

Discount Likely to Be Eliminated Soon on Better Conditions.

Duluth bankers are of the opinion that Canadian currency will soon pass at its par value in this city.

That will be brought about through the improving position of Canadian currency, the change owing to the large quantity of grain passing through from their country to the United States, and the marketing of considerable agricultural products from across the border in this country.

Early in the summer it became necessary for the local banks to make a charge of 1 per cent on Canadian currency received by them as a result of the unsettled condition of exchange. To protect themselves against heavy loss, the majority of the stores were compelled to take similar action in accepting Canadian money at a slight discount. Their position to express pleasure over the prospect of better conditions.

MILLER HAS TO FACE GRAND JURY

Bound Over for Alleged Robbery of Traction Official.

Harry G. Miller of Omaha, arrested as one of three professional pickpockets who stole $1,000 in bills from S. L. Reichert, treasurer of the Duluth Street Railway company, Sept. 26, was examined before Judge F. H. Cutting in municipal court yesterday and bound over to the grand jury.

A witness Miller refused to waive examination on a charge of first degree grand larceny and demanded a hearing. The court found the claim of evidence against him strong enough to warrant holding him. Walter F. Reichert appeared as Miller's attorney. Mr. Reichert testified that he was jammed by Miller and his two companions while standing in an elevator in the First National Bank building a moment before he succeeded in his loss and seized the one nearest him, who happened to be Miller.

W. B. Richardson, elevator operator, testified that Miller was in the car, standing near Mr. Reichert, and John J. Haley, restaurant proprietor, swore he saw Miller, with two companions, in the bank building the day before the robbery.

BUSINESS POLICY OF RISING ABOVE COMPETITION

To the Editor of The Herald:
Business men believe the best way to meet competition is to cut loose from it. Whenever there is a desperate struggle in any trade, the man who rises above competition saves himself while all the others are bringing one another to their knees. That has been done.

I took courage for the first man who tried it. When he raised prices while everybody else was cutting them, his friends said he was crazy. But he got away with it, didn't he? He established his safety when all the rest were staggering in the dust. And since then it has been done over and over.

The United States had its choice whether to join all the rest or to be world in the competition of armaments that bowed the nations of Europe and at last brought the United States and the United States elected to rise above that competition. We would defeat the nations and bring them to their knees. We would defeat the nations and bring them to their knees. We would defeat the nations and bring them to their knees.

The American policy so far has won. In every contention, we have reached results by which the nation's rights, its honor and its dignity did not suffer.

But some good people are not satisfied with that. They think we ought to be prepared for the struggle in case it should reach us. If we do that, of course there is no half way about it. If we are to be prepared for anything, we must make colonial preparation. If we are to compete we must get right down to their heels. We can enter in that competition only by yielding to it. The probable answer is that the United States will do nothing of the kind.

In business the man who has risen above competition, has no notion of returning to it. The American people, being a practical people, are not likely to depart in their national conduct.

INNOCENT BYSTANDER.
Duluth, Oct. 2.

A "STRICTLY NEUTRAL" ZIMMERMAN.

To the Editor of The Herald:
It is with amusement combined with disgust that I note by press dispatches that the long-promised note by President Wilson to Great Britain is again "about to be presented," and that the tone of the same will be "near drastic." Considering the fact that this long-promised note is presumably to deal with the famous "orders in council," which has tied up commerce between the United States and a "neutral" country, which has been the subject of more than some men have hair on their heads, it causes a strictly neutral American to wonder why this long-promised note has not been sent before, and also leads one to have very little faith in the promised "near drastic" tone of same when sent—if it ever is sent before this country has a man in the White House who was born north of the Mason and Dixon line.

I voted for Mr. Wilson once, but am one of thousands and tens of thousands who will never repeat the error. This country needs a man as president who will be right irrespective of political influence, who will not subvert all honor and all principle to an inordinate desire to hold office, who will do justice to all instead of spreading the hypocritical cant of "neutrality," the length and breadth of the land for political effect while showing by his every official act that he never possessed the meaning of the word "neutral." And I believe such a man will be elected president by the people of the United States in 1916—but his name will not be Wilson.

E. F. ZIMMERMAN.
Bruce, Wis., Sept. 28.

WHY THE HATRED?

To the Editor of The Herald:
Why the Duluth morning paper has such an ingrown hatred for such brainy men as President Wilson and Mr. Bryan is beyond the comprehension of most newspaper readers. It used to be some ten years ago more or less that newspapers were designated Democratic and Republican. Since that time the intelligent reader don't care a snap. Most readers, in fact, feel sorry for a newspaper editor who thinks himself fit to criticize such great men. That the United States Constitution should be quoted to make Mr. Bryan out a traitor to his country because he has lived a life devoted to the highest and noblest cause, that of establishing universal peace, is about the most infamously piece of business that worthy trouble maker has undertaken so far. Would it not be an awful thing to behold, for his troublesomeness, if that wonderful Mr. Bryan would succeed in bringing the warring nations to their senses? Yes, to their senses, which is all that would be necessary to bring this awful war to a close. All the anti-administration and all the military preparedness speech-making, while appealing to a few capitalists and militarists, will never, never convert the masses or stop the peace movement, such, for instance, as Mr. Bryan is carrying out. Yours truly,
FRANK WITZKE.

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to leave all that are outside of its scope to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear a postal address of the person sending it. Questions not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

F. H. Duluth: Would you kindly answer the following questions in the "Questions and Answers" column of your paper: Name and locate the national forest reserves in Minnesota. To whom would I apply to get a position in the forest service? Where are the civil service examinations for rangers held? From where could I get more detailed information about the national forests of Minnesota?

Answer: There are two national forest reserves in Minnesota—the Superior national reserve in Northern St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, up to the Canadian border, and a reserve at Grand Marais. Inquire of Mr. M. Barker, local secretary of the Federal civil service board, as to how to apply for position and when the examinations will be held. Mr. Barker is in charge of the registry department of the Duluth postoffice. For further information, write to the State Forestry board, Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

WORST SLIDE IN HISTORY OF CANAL

Panama Waterway Will Be Blocked Until November
If Not Longer.

Panama, Oct. 5.—Lieut.-Col. Chester Harding, the engineer in charge of the Panama canal, has sent a message to the secretary of war at Washington recommending that President Wilson issue an executive order officially closing the canal until Nov. 1.

Col. Harding explains that it will be impossible to clear the channel before that date, and perhaps not then. He favors refunding the tolls to those ships which have paid them and are now awaiting passage, and also that arrangements be made to transship the cargoes of the vessels and forward them to their destinations. It is estimated, however, that it would require at least a month for the Panama railroad to complete the transshipment of the cargoes of the ninety vessels now in canal waters.

The conditions caused by the new slide, the worst in the history of the canal, according to Colonel Harding, More than 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth must be removed before the channel is again deep enough to permit the passage of ships.

Explosion Damages
TO BE PAID BY ROAD

Ardmore, Okla., Oct. 5.—All claims in cases of death and injury and loss of property resulting from the explosion of a tank car of gasoline here last week, will be assumed by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad system, adjustments to be made as soon as the merits of the individual cases can be determined. This was announced by Mayor Mullen, who said he had received a telegram from E. P. Ripley of Chicago, president of the Santa Fe.

Following out a suggestion in a telegram the mayor appointed a committee of six business and professional men to act as a "compromise committee." This committee is to report all cases of death, injury and property loss to the railroad.

SCHOOL BOARD MAY REFUSE
FURTHER AID FOR PLAYGROUNDS

Supt. Denfeld Says Schools Should Be Equipped Before Giving Money for Supervision; Urges Buying Vacant
Lots for Children's Games.

Requests for an appropriation to insure the continuance of municipal playgrounds in Duluth may be refused at the monthly meeting of the board of education, to be held next Friday at Central high school.

Last summer, after considerable deliberation, the board agreed to give $500, which was added to $500 given by the city and used to give the municipal playground plan outlined by T. S. Settle, playground expert, a trial until Oct. 1. Later the board and the city council each appropriated $700 to continue the work until Jan. 1, and today, and the entire expense of supervising the three grounds, at Chester Park, Twenty-fifth and Central, and West Duluth, probably will have to be paid by the city alone, if continued at all.

"I am a firm believer in playgrounds for children of school age," said Supt. Denfeld, "and I believe that practically every public school building in the city needs additional ground adjoining it for playground purposes."

"At every opportunity recently I have urged upon the members of the board the necessity of purchasing adjoining lots, so that the children would have room to play, and so that playground apparatus could be fitted up and installed whenever possible."

"Equip Schools First."

"I do not believe it is the best policy to spend school money for supervised play on municipal playgrounds until each school is properly equipped. Of course the two cover very much the same field, but I believe that the schools should be equipped first."

"We need playground space at all the schools, and the money not needed for maintenance should be used to acquire. Run the grounds in connection with the schools."

Before the new school building at Morgan Park is erected Supt. Denfeld hopes to secure more than the four acres offered as a school site by the city. He says that the playgrounds will be room for playgrounds, on education, and call for even more playground room than the average school.

Supt. Denfeld's attitude may prove an obstacle to a continuance of the playground work, as it is advocated by members of the Citizens' League, as other members of the board of education are believed to hold similar views.

L. B. Curry Meets Duluth Officers at Peoria With Divorce Decree.

Illinois Governor Refuses to Honor Extradition Papers.

Infatuation for women, other than his wife, is alleged to have prompted Clinton L. B. Curry, 24, twice to forsake his wife and two children and has brought him face to face with a charge of bigamy. Curry is under arrest at Peoria, Ill., for having a wife too many. But whether the charge against him will be pressed is rather uncertain, owing to the fact that he claims to have secured a divorce from his first wife, Nellie M. Curry of this city.

Curry was arrested at Peoria last week for the Duluth authorities, who wanted him on a charge of wife desertion. From Peoria he kept up a desultory correspondence with his wife, but failed to send her money for household expenses. He contributed nothing towards the support of his little family and asked for it.

Curry has a criminal record in his past. In April, 1913, he first abandoned his wife and children in this city. From Peoria he kept up a desultory correspondence with his wife, but failed to send her money for household expenses. He contributed nothing towards the support of his little family and asked for it.

Curry secured his release from custody on the wife desertion charge at Peoria by depositing $1,000. He was immediately re-arrested on a charge of bigamy. He is being held on a charge of bigamy. He is being held on a charge of bigamy. He is being held on a charge of bigamy.

DEAF CLASS HARD TO ORGANIZE HERE

Only Five Have Reported
for Studies; Ten Needed; Parents Are Blamed By Physician.

A month's search for children of school age, qualified to enter a class for the deaf, with a special teacher, has disclosed only five prospective pupils in Duluth, according to Dr. J. H. Andrea, city school physician.

Even though we have secured a special permit from State Superintendent of Schools C. G. Schulz to take on from school districts near Duluth, said Dr. Andrea, "we may not be able to find enough to warrant the establishment of a class."

Parents of deaf children refuse to report to school authorities, according to Dr. Andrea, who says that even persons who took the annual school census last summer were unable to obtain the desired data.

"It is plain that parents misunderstand our purpose in wanting to know if there are any deaf children in the family," said Dr. Andrea. "At first we thought it would be comparatively easy to enroll fifteen pupils for a class of this kind."

At the last session of the legislature, a bill drafted by J. C. Howard, president of the national and state associations for the deaf, was passed, allowing each city in the state $100 for three or four deaf children in the school. It is believed, but otherwise each family will have to secure a special teacher.

No Special Session of Senate.

Washington, Oct. 5.—President Wilson practically has decided not to call a special session of the senate here the meeting of congress in regular session. Although he is anxious to have the senate's rules amended so as to give the majority power to limit debate, he is understood to have become convinced that it is better not to call the senate together at this time.

Your money back if you want it is the way in which all the leading drug stores are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

A check for the better will be sent from the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and is continued until you are on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What relief possibility could be made?

You can get Mi-o-na on this money back guarantee from practically every druggist in this vicinity, including Brown Drug store.

WOMAN BAGS DEER; ARRESTED AND COURT RELEASES HER

Mary Horak, 30, a quiet, motherly little person who lives on a farm near Grand lake, about twenty-six miles from Duluth as the crow flies, has the distinction of being the first woman ever to be arraigned in Duluth's municipal court for violating the game laws.

This morning Mrs. Horak, who was arrested while hunting for deer, was arraigned in the municipal court, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Burdick.

She watched in open-eyed wonderment while Judge F. H. Cutting disposed of twenty cases of drunkenness, many minutes and then her turn came. "You, judge, I killed the deer," she said simply, after which she was arraigned on a complaint sworn to by Game Warden Archie Boyd, alleging that she had a green deer hide in her possession.

It developed that the Horak family was without meat one day several months ago and that Mrs. Horak thereupon calmly went out, killed the deer, brought back the carcass, and prepared a choice steak for the next meal.

When the judge learned that the four children depended upon Mrs. Horak for their bread and butter, he dismissed the case and the mother, with a smile, thanked him and started for the door.

FARRELL SIDESTEPS ANOTHER FREE TRIP

His anxiety to save the city about $100 caused Commissioner Farrell to abandon his trip to the Northwestern Road congress, which opened at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, yesterday.

Several weeks ago Mayor Prince appointed the works head as Duluth's official representative to the congress, but he announced this morning that there was no need of spending $100 so soon after his trip to Chicago and Detroit several weeks ago.

"I learned very much on the trip early in September," he said, "and might as well save the city the $100."

One new pavement was opened to traffic yesterday, while another will be opened next Saturday, according to an announcement made this morning by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division. The former is Twentieth avenue west and the latter Exeter street, from Grand avenue to Pacific street.

With these two new pavements, there will be a total of seven already completed and in use by the public. The others are:

Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to Kent road; Ninth street, from Seventh to Fourteenth avenue east; Minnesota avenue, from Twelfth to Fifteenth street; Sixth street, from Twentieth to Twenty-fifth avenue west; and the east side of Commonwealth avenue, from the south line of Gary street to the south line of Grand avenue.

Farrell expects to open Sixth street, from Fifteenth to Eighteenth avenue east, while First street, from Twentieth avenue east to Congdon park, will be opened in two weeks.

There is a stretch of 100 feet open on this side of the Grand avenue pavement, which is laid from Eighty-fourth avenue west to Zimmerman avenue. This improvement will not be completed until November, according to the works head. Rogers & McLean, the west side of Commonwealth for use and the bricks will be laid within a few days.

Contractors on the Highland street pavement, from Fifty-seventh to Sixty-fifth avenue west, have completed about 75 per cent of the improvement, Mr. Farrell said this morning.

ELECTION FIGHT WAS VERY WARM Minneapolis Man Does Not Believe "Dry" Will Contest.

"Minneapolis was more than all 'het up' last evening, and, in fact, all of yesterday," said R. R. Hoopes of Minneapolis, at the Holland today. "We've seen all the big football celebrations down there, carnivals of various sorts, and other things in the celebrating line, but the demonstration of last evening had them all beat a city block before the train for Duluth shortly after midnight. Then the going was strong. All the cafes were filled, there were crowds on the streets, and the old town seemed fairly alive with noise and excitement."

The "wet" were jubilant. They made no secret of the fact. While most of the persons conversant with the way the majority of the city generally go—or those who make a close study of things of a political nature—believe that the "wet" would close their eyes to the fact that the "dry" have the majority in the city, Mr. Hoopes said he did not believe that the "dry" would make a contest.

"Personally, I don't believe very much will grow out of the charge of crooked work as early as yesterday noon in the downtown section. I don't believe that the 'wet' would close their eyes to the fact that the 'dry' have the majority in the city, Mr. Hoopes said he did not believe that the 'dry' would make a contest."

Leaders of both sides have been simply making a show of strength from various parts of the city. The liquor problem, while St. Paul is the center of the city, is being dealt with by the city fathers of Minneapolis, and it is not only made an interesting study, but it is causing much speculation as to what would have occurred had the saloons been voted out of existence in Minneapolis.

GOMISKEY LOSES HIS PET MOOSE

Thinks It Has Strayed to Minnesota; Offers $300 Reward.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Gomiskey, of baseball fame, lost his pet moose recently and today he informed the state game and fish commission that $300 reward was offered for its return.

The animal, a large moose, was recently escaped from Mr. Gomiskey's private game preserve in Wisconsin.

According to Mr. Gomiskey, the moose, when it left the preserve, was headed for Lake Superior and he is confident that it is now on the Minnesota side of the lake. The animal bore Mr. Gomiskey's tag, which he is confident anyone will find.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the First Swedish Baptist church, has just returned from Brainerd, where he has been assisting Rev. A. B. Colom in a series of missions. The pastor, who was in attendance at the Rev. A. O. Landen's private game preserve in Wisconsin, met with Mrs. Ruth Palm, 815 North Twenty-first avenue west, Wednesday at 2 p. m.

Rev. and Mrs. Swaney Nelson will attend the Baptist state convention at Minneapolis next week as delegates from the First Swedish Baptist church. The blue evangelist, J. Freeman, and his daughter, Miss Esther Freeman, will conduct a series of religious meetings at the Swedish Baptist temple beginning Oct. 28 and continuing until Nov. 2. Mr. Freeman and his daughter were here three years ago and were heard by large audiences and the evangelist is a strong preacher.

POMPEII OLIVE OIL AWARDED GOLD MEDAL SAN FRANCISCO EXPOSITION

MAYOR GAVE NO WARNING

Chicago Executive's Order
for Sunday Closing Came Like Bomb.

Inform Council and Then Takes Train for San Francisco Expo.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—Mayor Thompson's order to close Chicago saloons on Sunday in accordance with the provisions of a state law which has been evaded or ignored locally for two score years was the general topic of conversation today.

The mayor gave no warning, except to his intimates, of his intention. He dropped the bomb at the council meeting today this morning, and it was shortly on his way to the exposition at San Francisco.

"Why did he do it?" was the question most commonly asked. The mayor himself said he acted because Corporator Council Polson had threatened to take action. The mayor said he had been "double crossed."

The "dry" were jubilant and the "wet" were busy planning meetings to take action. There was talk that the liquor interests would insist that the law be enforced to the letter and that certain reformers who reform stores, milk deliveries, baseball games and the like, would be the first to get together. They were talking with their attorneys, Mayor, Meyer, Austrian & Platt during the day.

"It is strictly a legal matter," said William G. Legner, president of the association.

Anton J. Carmack, head of the executive committee of the United Societies, which includes all the liquor interests of the city, called a meeting of the committee. Leopold Neumann, general organizer of the United Societies, said he charged Mayor Thompson with breaking his word. He was not in favor of closing the saloons on Sunday and that he would not enforce the law to obtain the indictment.

The present situation, said Mr. Carmack, is a very serious one. The liquor party is perfectly well known and certain reformers who reform stores, milk deliveries, baseball games and the like, would be the first to get together. They were talking with their attorneys, Mayor, Meyer, Austrian & Platt during the day.

GREAT LOAN COMPLETED

Over Half Billion Dollars
Raised in Less Than Week.

Subscription Books Closed and Bonds Will Soon Be Ready.

New York, Oct. 5.—The task of floating the largest loan ever established in this country passed into history, completed today. Less than a week had elapsed since the borrowers and the lenders of the money—the Anglo-French financial commission and a group of American financiers—announced the terms. Within that time the $500,000,000 credit loan to Great Britain and France had been subscribed, with bankers and millionaires from all over the world participating.

There was, in fact, an over-subscription, but just how much was pledged probably will never be known definitely except to the underwriters and the commission. There will be no public announcement of the amount of the subscription. The subscription was $500,000,000. That is what the commission wanted, and that is what was subscribed. A representative of J. P. Morgan & Co. issued on the bonds, consequently it is all that will be distributed among subscribers.

Amount of Over-Subscription. Failure to announce the amount of the over-subscription led to the belief in Wall Street that it was smaller than it had been anticipated. Published reports that the over-subscription would be approximately $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 were regarded as absurd. Some authorities thought today that the over-subscription would be between $20,000,000 and $100,000,000, and from this figure estimates ranged as high as $50,000,000.

As soon as the engravers can complete their task, the bonds will be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. and distributed to the underwriters. Within ten days the first installment of 25 per cent becomes due.

Arrangements have been made to list the bonds on the New York stock exchange and the usual rule, providing for a banker's fee of one-eighth of 1 per cent has been waived. Brokers, loan, may charge less than the usual fee if they desire to do so.

Fire Insurance Companies
to Fight New Duluth
School Rate.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. D. Works, state insurance commissioner, was today served notice of an appeal by the General Insurance company of Minneapolis from his recent order reducing the rate on public school property in Duluth.

Mr. Works directed a reduction of the rate from $1.64 per $100 for a five-year period to $1.43 per $100. He held that the old rate was discriminatory.

This was the last day on which the fire insurance companies affected by the recent reduction in rates on the Duluth schools had the right of appeal. It is believed that the companies will be sustained, and that the rate on public school property in Duluth will be $1.43 per $100.

Some authorities thought today that the over-subscription would be between $20,000,000 and $100,000,000, and from this figure estimates ranged as high as $50,000,000.

As soon as the engravers can complete their task, the bonds will be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. and distributed to the underwriters. Within ten days the first installment of 25 per cent becomes due.

Arrangements have been made to list the bonds on the New York stock exchange and the usual rule, providing for a banker's fee of one-eighth of 1 per cent has been waived. Brokers, loan, may charge less than the usual fee if they desire to do so.

APPEAL AGAINST DULUTH REDUCTION

Fire Insurance Companies
to Fight New Duluth
School Rate.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. D. Works, state insurance commissioner, was today served notice of an appeal by the General Insurance company of Minneapolis from his recent order reducing the rate on public school property in Duluth.

Mr. Works directed a reduction of the rate from $1.64 per $100 for a five-year period to $1.43 per $100. He held that the old rate was discriminatory.

This was the last day on which the fire insurance companies affected by the recent reduction in rates on the Duluth schools had the right of appeal. It is believed that the companies will be sustained, and that the rate on public school property in Duluth will be $1.43 per $100.

GREAT LOAN COMPLETED

Over Half Billion Dollars
Raised in Less Than

Be Ready.

New York, Oct. 5.—The task of floating the largest loan ever established in this country passed into history, completed today. Less than a week had elapsed since the borrowers and the lenders of the money—the Anglo-French financial commission and a group of American financiers—announced the terms. Within that time the $500,000,000 credit loan to Great Britain and France had been subscribed, with bankers and millionaires from all over the world participating.

There was, in fact, an over-subscription, but just how much was pledged probably will never be known definitely except to the underwriters and the commission. There will be no public announcement of the amount of the subscription. The subscription was $500,000,000. That is what the commission wanted, and that is what was subscribed. A representative of J. P. Morgan & Co. issued on the bonds, consequently it is all that will be distributed among subscribers.

Amount of Over-Subscription. Failure to announce the amount of the over-subscription led to the belief in Wall Street that it was smaller than it had been anticipated. Published reports that the over-subscription would be approximately $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 were regarded as absurd. Some authorities thought today that the over-subscription would be between $20,000,000 and $100,000,000, and from this figure estimates ranged as high as $50,000,000.

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Don't Stay Headachy, Sick, or Have Bad Breath and Sour Stomach.

Wake Up Feeling Fine! Best Laxative for Men, Women and Children.

Enjoy life! Remove the liver and bowel poisons which are keeping you head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive, and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarogs from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest, most effective bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarogs never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and cathartics. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give cross, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascarog any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.

TWO BRIGHT WINNERS IN BRAINERD GARDEN CONTEST

JOHN GEMMELL. ALICE R. JOHNSTONE.

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the winners in Brainerd's school children garden contests were John Gemmell and Alice R. Johnstone. First prize for the best garden was won by Master Gemmell, whose father, W. H. Gemmell, is general manager of the Minnesota & International railway. Alice R. MAHOMEN KEEPS UP RAPID GROWTH

Recently Constructed High School Building Already Crowded.

Mahomen, Minn., Oct. 5.—The Mahomen high school building, erected in the summer of 1913, replacing a five-room building, is already full, and it is taxing the ingenuity of Supt. Jedlicki to arrange the different grades, so that all will have plenty of room. At the time the schoolhouse was built, but about two-thirds of the rooms were completed. And it was thought that it would be some time before the entire building would be needed. All the rooms have been finished. All are occupied and in use. Two teachers were added to the faculty at the beginning of the year and another one will be needed immediately, as some of the grades are too crowded now.

URGENT RESTRICTIONS ON APPROPRIATIONS

North Dakota Officials Suggest Legislature Put State on Cash Basis.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—A legislature that would not make appropriations available until January after the session or a state board of equalization that would have the moral courage to levy sufficient taxes for eighteen months for just one year would, it is asserted by officials here, place North Dakota on a cash basis and save the officials of the state some gray hairs. Under the present arrangement the legislature makes appropriations that will become available in July. This is before the assessments are completed. The state board of equalization meets five months before the taxes to meet these appropriations even become due. And it makes the assessments, five months before they become delinquent. One of the results is a raid on the general fund of the office of the state treasurer July 1 by the state institutions until that is exhausted and the state is left with insufficient money to carry on its routine business and to pay salaries. The last legislative session made unusually large appropriations. In addition the state supreme court cut off

SWEDISH HOME FOR MARINETTE

Lutheran Church to Build Institution for Lake Superior District.

Marinette, Wis., Oct. 5.—The old folks' home of the Lake Superior district of the Augustana synod of the Swedish Lutheran church will be erected in Marinette. Land has been purchased and actual construction work on the institution will begin next spring. It will cost between $25,000 and $30,000. The site selected is eight acres adjoining Pine Beach on the road that runs into the beach from Eleventh street. The purchase was recently completed and the conference now owns the property. The first building to be erected will be of solid brick and will cost $8,000. It will be so built that additions can be made from time to time, so as to make a completed structure to cost about $25,000. Rev. P. O. Linder, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church in Marinette, is president of the charities committee of the conference. Besides an old folks' home, the new institution will also be a receiving place for orphans. It will serve sixty-nine confessions in the Lake Superior conference, which includes the Upper Peninsula and Upper Wisconsin from Green Bay to Abbotsford north.

EMPLOYEES DISAPPEAR; RAILWAY FUNDS SHORT

Ortonville, Minn., Oct. 5.—S. W. Fowler, operator for the St. Paul road for more than twenty years, has quit a new employee of the company, and Mrs. Fowler left here suddenly for Aberdeen, S. D., where the two men disappeared. The company's funds at the station were short $750 and funds of the Wells Fargo Express company were short $230. The three were traced to Milwaukee and Upper Wisconsin from Green Bay to Abbotsford north.

ASHLAND HAS 14,370 PEOPLE

Ashland, Wis., Oct. 5.—The population of Ashland as indicated by the new city directory compiled by R. H. Polk & Co. of St. Paul, and which has been received, is 14,370. This is an increase of 2,776 since the census was taken five years ago. It is a satisfactory growth and highly interesting to residents of this community. Present indications look as if the next five years would show a growth many times as large.

BRAINERD MAKES NEW POLICE RECORD

Brainerd, Minn., Oct. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The police records show that there was but one arrest here in September. In September, 1914, there were thirty-two arrests. The "dry" advocates point to this record as a vindication of their claims for "dry" town.

The list of incoming students includes scores of junior farm contest participants whose interest in scientific agricultural matters has been stimulated by the competition conducted by the agricultural extension department. More than 100 plump and chubby young women are in the class of freshmen.

Such youthful celebrities as Roy Halverson, whose reputation as the champion corn grower has received national attention, are in the list of prospective students. It is expected Halverson will appear in the remaining days of the school of agriculture was held this morning.

Thin Men and Women

DO YOU WANT TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG?

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestion, tract properly assimilates the food you eat.

There is a preparation known to reliable druggists almost everywhere, which seemingly embodies the missing elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. The preparation is called Sargol and much remarkable testimony is given as to its successful use in flesh building. Sargol, which comes in the form of a small non-injurious tablet, taken at meals and mixing with the digesting food, tends to prepare its fat, flesh and muscle building elements so that the blood can readily accept and carry them to the various portions of the body. You can readily picture the transformation that additional and previously lacking flesh-making material should bring with your own flesh filling out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappearing and your taking on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is harmless, inexpensive, efficient. Boyce drug store and other leading druggists of this vicinity have it and are authorized to refund your money if weight increase is not obtained as per the guarantee found in each large package.

NOTE:—Sargol is recommended only as a flesh builder and while excellent results in cases of nervous indigestion, etc., have been reported Sargol should be taken only when it is used as a flesh builder.

Always ready to serve—delicious, juicy and picked ripe. Fine for breakfast, luncheon or dinner.

Says Majority of Banks Are Charging Fair Rates
on Loans.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 6.—John Skelton Williams, comptroller of the currency, defended today before the Kentucky Bankers' association his efforts to force national banks to reduce their interest charges to borrowers during the days of stress in the financial and business world which followed the outbreak of the European war.

Of the 7,615 national banks in the country, Mr. Williams declared, 1,020 have sent in detailed reports showing that they have received an average of 10 per cent or more on loans. He cited, without giving names, instances in which the rate ran up to 46, 60, 1,000 per cent. In one case that of a woman who borrowed $2,500 for six days—she saw the bank charged $1, or 2,400 per cent.

These banks, Mr. Williams, "are authorized by the government to them the sanction of the great American nation—and lending $2 for six days to a washerwoman or a laborer's or a farmer's wife, at 2,400 per cent."

WILL COME HOME

Skinner to Have Leave of Absence to Discuss Trade Problems.

London, Oct. 6.—Robert P. Skinner, American consul-general, will sail for the United States within three weeks on a short leave. Mr. Skinner was unwilling to discuss today the report from Washington that the American note to Great Britain relative to the detention of American goods would be held up until his return to Washington. Skinner had no information to this effect. He added, however, that he expected to discuss Anglo-American trade problems with the American authorities.

Representatives here of American shipping interests welcome the news, for the hope that Mr. Skinner's visit to the United States will lessen their difficulties.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS NOT PARTY QUESTION

President Wilson Will Vote
for It as a Private Citizen.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson will vote for the woman suffrage state constitutional amendment in New Jersey, his home state, at the special election Oct. 12. He said today he would vote, not as the leader of the Democratic party but as a private citizen.

Mr. Wilson said he believed the question should not be made a party issue and should be decided by the states, not the national government.

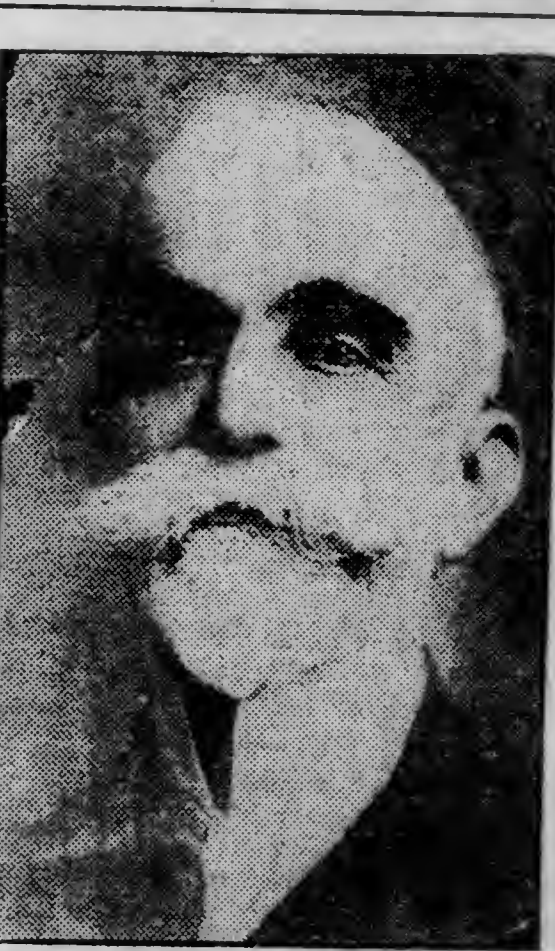

The following statement was given out at the White House:

"I intend to vote for woman suffrage in New Jersey because I believe that the time has come to extend that privilege and responsibility to the women of the state, but I shall vote, not as the leader of my party in the election, but only upon my private conviction as a citizen."

"My position with regard to the question in which this great question should be handled is well known. I believe that it should be settled by the states and that in no circumstances should it be made a party question, and my view has grown stronger at every turn of the agitation."

Secretaries Garrison, McAdoo, Redfield and Wilson, who will also vote on the question in the near future, have declared in favor of equal suffrage.

NEW PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC OF PORTUGAL TAKES OFFICE

DR. BERNARDINO MACHADO.

Lisbon, Portugal, Oct. 6, via Paris.—Dr. Bernardino Machado took the oath as president of the republic at a joint meeting of both houses of parliament today. Afterwards the retiring president, Theophile Braga, surrendered the presidential powers to his successor at the Belem palace.

In his address Dr. Machado pledged his administration to devote itself to internal and external defense. He assumed office on the fifth anniversary of the proclamation of the republic.

HAS NOTE FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Lansing to Take Up Question of Interference With Neutral Trade.

Settlement of Arabic Case Clears Way for Dispatch of Document.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Secretary Lansing today indicated that the settlement of the Arabic case had cleared the way for the dispatch of the note to Great Britain covering the general subject of trade negotiations and interference with American goods in neutral trade.

The note has been completed and is ready to be forwarded to Ambassador Page. It is a lengthy document, covering the general situation.

On the general situation the American note, it is understood, contends that the burden of proof is upon the British government to show that goods of neutral destination destroyed or seized are intended for Germany and that the assumption that all food products going to Germany are intended for German military use is not justified.

It is understood the note does not specifically cover the problems of the Chicago packers, who are pressing the state department to make representations in behalf of products valued at many millions held up, and in part confiscated by the British prize courts.

This subject will be covered in a separate communication probably, and Charles J. Fawcett, representing the Chicago packers, today drafted a letter setting forth the views of the packers which will be considered by the state department.

London, Oct. 6.—The landing of additional French troops at Saloniki is reported from Athens. The correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph company says that a number of transports carrying French troops entered the port at Saloniki this morning. He adds that the forwarding of French troops for Serbia is proceeding actively.

Suspended.

London, Oct. 6.—Word has been received from Athens that King Constantine has accepted the resignation of the Venizelos cabinet, which was unable to agree with the king concerning the country's next step in the fast approaching Balkan crisis. The retirement of the premier and his associates came unheralded after the chamber of deputies had registered a vote of confidence in the ministry.

Official telegrams from Athens to the Greek legation here today said Premier Venizelos relinquished his office at 9:20 o'clock last night. No reason was given, though the former chief of opinions between the king and the premier, resulting in the latter's temporary retirement from office involves the now familiar issue raised by M. Venizelos' insistence that Greece strike quickly in behalf of Serbia and the Entente powers.

Sittings of Chamber Suspended.
Athens, Oct. 6, via London.—After his conference with King Constantine, Premier Venizelos returned to the chamber of deputies and made a statement of the causes of the disagreement of the cabinet and the king.

Return Fire of Germans Causes Assault to Fail
With Heavy Loss.

Berlin, Oct. 6, via London 3:45 p. m.—An attempt by the French to resume the offensive on the Champagne front by heavy artillery fire against the German positions was frustrated with heavy losses by the German artillery. It was announced by army headquarters today. The text of the statement is as follows:

"Western theater of war: A French hand grenade attack on the hill north of Seville was repulsed."

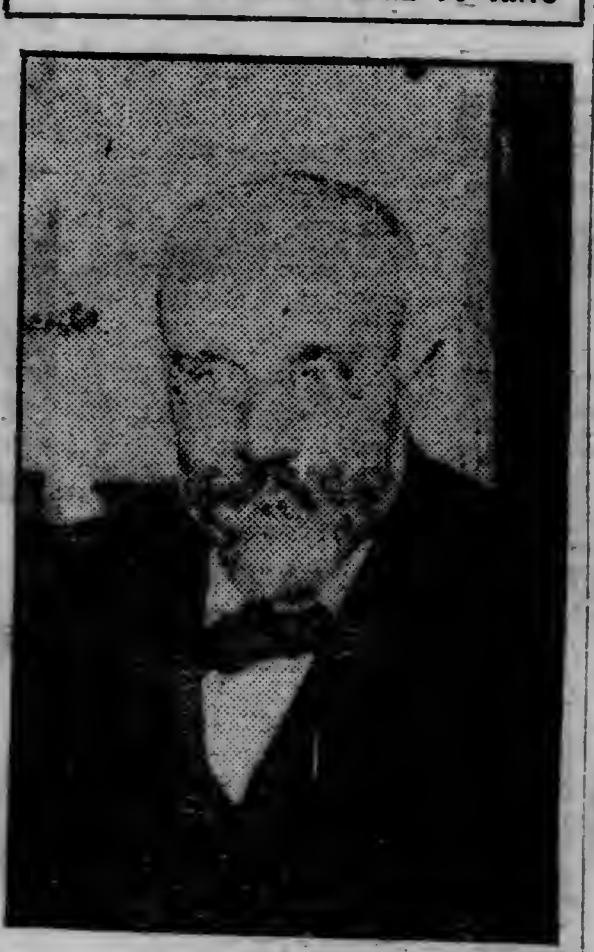

"In the Champagne the French yesterday attempted to resume the offensive on the front of their former attack, with heavy artillery fire which increased to the greatest intensity during the afternoon. The enemy hoped to prepare our positions for storming in a general attack he intended making. Simultaneously he was getting his troops ready for the attack along the entire front."

Driven Back With Heavy Loss.
Our artillery fire directed on the enemy's points of departure, the French were only successful at certain points in bringing their troops forward for the attack. Wherever they did advance they were driven back again with heavy losses.

CRUISER TORPEDOED.

New York, Oct. 6.—Private advice received here today from Athens says that a French auxiliary cruiser was torpedoed and sunk Sept. 9 while anchored off the Turkish island of Rhodes by a submarine of the central power.

Rhodes is the most eastern island of the Aegean sea. Since the Turco-Italian war it has been occupied by large forces of Italian troops.

NOW SEEMS CERTAIN BULGARS WILL ALIGN WITH THE TEUTONS

Landing of Allied Troops in Saloniki Will Probably Bring Question to an Immediate Decision.

Word of Bulgaria's Decision Reaches Petrograd Through Serbian Archimandrite; No Official Answer.

Petrograd, Oct. 6, via London, 4:14 p. m.—Bulgaria has rejected the Russian demands and has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to information which has reached the Serbian archimandrite, Michael, says a Moscow telegram to the Bourse Gazette.

Bulgaria demands that Serbia reply to the ultimatum within twenty-four hours.

To Align With Teutons.
London, Oct. 6.—It now seems certain that Bulgaria will align herself with Germany, Austria and Turkey. The matter doubtless will be brought to a head by the landing of allied troops in Saloniki. This procedure is regarded here as in effect placing Greece definitely with the Entente powers, as she is considered as having virtually acquiesced in this move against Bulgaria.

Although a time allotted for the Bulgarian reply to Russia's ultimatum expired yesterday afternoon, King Ferdinand, so far as has been made known, has not seen fit to make an answer in any form. It is assumed that hostilities in this new field cannot be averted.

Conditions Less Favorable.
If Bulgaria joins the Teutonic alliance she will enter the war under conditions less favorable than a few weeks ago. The Russians, with reinforcements and a slowly increasing amount of artillery seem to be striking harder blows daily, and the official German communications no longer register measurable advances.

The situation in the west has reached a stage of reversal, and the German following the recent allied offensive, and the German still are struggling to regain the ground lost. Intensive artillery action is again predominant on the French front, indicating that the positions won have been consolidated and that preparations for another attack are under way.

The grand duchy of Luxembourg, according to Russian advice, has protested to the Entente powers (Continued on page 10, third column.)

BE PREPARED FOR DEFENSE

President Wilson Outlines His Attitude on National Question.

Greet Members of the New Advisory Board of the Navy.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson outlined his attitude toward the national defense question today to the new advisory board of the navy. He believed, he said, that the whole nation was "convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared."

The president received the members of the board, headed by Thomas A. Edison, after they had held a preliminary conference with Secretary Daniels and navy officials in Mr. Daniels' office. The board later went with Secretary Daniels to the naval proving grounds at Indian Head, Md., on an inspection tour.

Welcomed By President.
"There is very little that I can say to you," President Wilson said, "except to give you a very cordial welcome and to express my very great pleasure in this association of laymen with the government. But I do want to say this: I think the whole nation is convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared."

DESTROYER LITTLE DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Cummings Returns to Port to Land Two of Crew Who Were Burned.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 6.—The torpedoed destroyer Cummings, on board of which two men were burned as a result of an explosion and fire at sea yesterday, arrived here today. The men, George Trullio, a first class fireman of James, N. M., and Thomas Shea, a water tender of Paterson, N. J., were taken to the naval hospital, where it was said they will recover. The destroyer was only slightly damaged. An investigation into the cause of the accident will begin today.

The fleet of battleships which came into Narragansett bay yesterday in the course of their operations as part of the defending fleet in the war game, put to sea again during the night. They were the battleships Arkansas, Virginia, Louisiana, Nebraska, New Jersey and Rhode Island and the destroyers Monaghan, Roe, Perry and Walke. It was understood that the Arkansas, which was reported last night as having had engine trouble, would be taken to the New York navy yard for repairs.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Bulgaria not only has rejected the demands of Russia, but has sent an ultimatum to Serbia concerning Macedonia, according to unofficial advice from Petrograd. It is declared that a reply from Serbia within twenty-four hours is demanded.

German guns broke up yesterday with heavy losses a French attempt to resume the offensive on the front of the former attack in the Champagne region. There was heavy artillery preparation and moving of troops by the French, the official statement asserts.

The French official report mentions only artillery firing in the Champagne district.

On the eastern front the Germans report having repulsed determined Russian attacks in the Dvinsk region. Initial successes are admitted, but were not maintained after the first assault.

According to a Constantinople dispatch to a Berlin newspaper the British consul and consular guards at Ispahan have been killed by Persians.

The resignation of Premier Venizelos and his cabinet has been accepted by King Constantine of Greece. Official advice to this effect were received in London today.

The Greek premier's resignation, which has further complicated the already decidedly uncertain Balkan situation, was because the king informed the cabinet's policy to the end, according to Athens advice. The premier had indicated that he favored strong support of Serbia in compliance with Greece's treaty obligations.

With definite development of the course to be pursued by Bulgaria, Greece and Roumania will indicate, the landing of allied troops at Saloniki continues.

Roumania is hurriedly sending troops to the Bulgarian frontier, and taking other military measures. It is stated in news agency dispatches from Greek sources.

NEW SITE MAY BE SELECTED

County Board to Decide Upon Lots for Hibbing Courthouse.

Annual Tax Levy Will Not Be Fixed at This Session.

Action on the purchase of a site at Hibbing for the erection of a branch courthouse may be taken at the November session of the county board tomorrow. The commissioners, it is understood, have been investigating the proposition of buying suitable lots in the village for the new county building and have more than one location in mind.

When the matter first came before the board, it was decided to constitute the seven commissioners as a committee of the whole and visit Hibbing for the purpose of looking over the ground to be used for the new building. The committee visited Hibbing and was met by a delegation consisting of Mayor V. L. Fowler, former Village Treasurer D. D. McEachin and S. C. Scott, village attorney.

Only one site was shown to the commissioners by the Hibbing delegation and it was the same property that Mrs. McEachin, wife of the former village treasurer, who bought it for $3,000. The village paid $16,000 for it a few months later. The county has been asked to buy it from the village.

Kauppi Objects.
Charles Kauppi, county commissioner from the Fifth district and veteran member of the board, registered the only dissenting vote against the resolution favoring the purchase of the so-called McEachin lot. The resolution, which was passed, however, was merely an expression of the board's sentiment and did not legally bind them to buy the lots.

It is understood that since the matter was last considered by the board, other sites have been offered at a much better figure. Whether the board will take any definite action at this time, however, is largely a matter of speculation.

The annual tax levy for county purposes will not be fixed at the meeting tomorrow, although it may be determined at an adjourned meeting to be held later during the month. The board is passing on the usual large list of bills to be approved by the board tomorrow.

ELECTRICAL DRAFT LEAKS

Duluth Attorney Takes Hearty Rap at Proposed Ordinance.

Says It's Unconstitutional and Makes for Class Legislation.

Duluth's newly proposed electrical ordinance, which was introduced Monday by Mayor Prince at the request of the Electrical Workers' union, is unconstitutional and makes for class legislation, according to J. L. Washburn, prominent attorney and president of the Spaulding Hotel company, who submitted a statement of objections to the council this morning.

By limiting the licenses to master electricians, the measure conflicts with the state law, which includes master, journeyman and special electricians, according to Mr. Washburn. The section exempting corporations operating under a franchise is class legislation.

Mr. Washburn's letter, received by Mayor Prince this morning, follows: "My attention has been called to the electrical ordinance now being considered by you. While I have not considered every detail of this ordinance, upon such examination as I have made there are some objections which seem to stand out boldly.

First Violation.
"I notice in section 2 of the provision for the issuance of licenses, a licensed, which is not in accordance with the state law. It limits licenses to those holding a master electrician's license, whereas the state law provides for the licensing of master, journeyman and special electricians. This limitation would operate to put the whole matter into few hands, subject property owners in all their such few. Again this same section, in the interest of the few, provides for the licensing of corporations and firms. This is an enlargement of the state law, which does not recognize corporations and firms as competent licensees. No corporation should be licensed except through the licensing of all of its members. The clause should read 'so that the license be issued to master, journeyman and special electricians, the same as the state law provides.'

Must Not Discriminate.
"In section 3, providing for permits to be issued by the electrical inspector for the making of alterations in buildings, the name of the person to whom the permit shall be issued is given. Some provision should be added so that the permit shall not be arbitrarily withheld from any licensed electrician. If, for instance, the regularly employed electrician, being a licensed journeyman, is qualified to do the work, a permit should not be withheld from him in the interest of some other person. The phrase 'electrical workers' union' in section 2, should be eliminated and a licensed electrician substituted. The ordinance exempts from the provisions of this ordinance firms or corporations operating in the city of Duluth by virtue of any license or franchise. Such exemption will render, in my judgment, the validity of the ordinance very questionable. It is class legislation. If the ordinance is objectionable to such firms or corporations and burdensome to them, it must likewise be objectionable to the owners of buildings, both large and small, in the city. If the ordinance is bad for some, it is bad for all, and if it is to be good, it must be good for all.

"The provisions of the state law, with reference has been made, are found in sections 502-509, of the general statutes of 1913.
"I can better call your attention to these matters in this way in writing than by consuming your time in an oral interview. I am, however, subject to your call, if for any reason you care to have me appear before you."

MANY RED CROSS SEALS FOR DISPOSAL

Red Cross Nurse Looks Forward to Rushing Business During the Holiday Season.

Duluth will be asked to buy 150,000 Red Cross stamps during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Louise Schneller, one of the visiting nurses, who handled the sale of the Red Cross seals, each year, said this morning that during the first week in November an order will be sent to the National Red Cross society for 150,000 seals.

"Last year," said Miss Schneller, "we sold practically 140,000 seals and we expect to reach the 150,000 mark without any difficulty during the coming year. No definite plans have been made as yet for the sale, although the program will be similar to last year, when a large number of young women took charge of the Christmas department stores."

A total of $1,300 was realized from the sale of the seals last year and of this amount $982 was turned over to the local fund for the fighting of tuberculosis and assisting the victims of the white plague. Miss Schneller explained that during the last year several sleeping porches have been built for victims, while tents, garments and medicine were purchased for a large number lying in the outskirts of the city.

The local sale will be in charge of Misses Schneller and Eba Kerr, the visiting nurses.

PRESIDENT WILSON REAPPOINTS J. J. McNAMARA

Mr. Wilson, whatever may be said of him, has acted wisely in making appointments. He chooses men suitable for the positions. The United States government has on its board for the inspection and examination of all laws brought to the attention of a group of seven men, one of which, J. J. McNamara, is at the head of the "tea chain" of 213 bars and saloons, which company operates a chain of 213 bars and saloons, which is located at 214 West First street in this city. The above appointment was recommended by Manager Bousfield of the local store in the following language: "Our company in its effort to supply the best goods possible to obtain, know full well the importance of getting experts to do our buying. The fact that our Mr. McNamara, who has been in our company for many years, should receive this appointment is a compliment that we appreciate."

Mr. McNamara and I read his word as the sovereign word in the tea business. I have been in this business just twenty-five years in this month, and naturally, feel that at the top and Mr. McNamara is one of them. It means this for users of Grand Union tea. They have the assurance of full purity and purity of the tea. The department, presided over by our Fred and spice department, with Dr. John Glasford at their head, I can speak of for Mr. McNamara and his department. Advertisement.

LAKE FIREMAN IS TAKEN FROM BOAT

For the second time within a month police, this morning, commandeered a motor boat and pursued an ore freighter across the harbor to serve a warrant.

Early this morning Lieut. Frank Schulte and Detective Irvine learned that Charles Willis, 42, wanted here for wife desertion, was a fireman aboard the steamer Superior City, and that the vessel had arrived at the Milwaukee docks for an ore cargo.

A speedy trip brought the officers to the ore dock in time to see the Superior City cast off and start down St. Louis river, heading for the open lake and Erie, Pa.

Some quick action followed and shortly after the Superior City passed through the interstate draw bridge, outward bound, the officers called "ship ahoy!" from a motorboat.

They went aboard, found Willis asleep in his bunk, sent the motorboat back for a man to replace him, completed the transfer and lodged their man in jail, during the next hour.

Alice Willis, the man's wife, swore to a complaint on Sept. 6, alleging that her husband had failed to provide for Willis denies his guilt.

He will be arraigned in municipal court this afternoon.

SUFFERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

Duluth Dressmaker Has Warm Praise for Tanlac.

First Medicine That Has Given Her Any Relief.

"I have had to diet myself for twenty years," said Mrs. E. Dauphinais of 102 West First street, to the Tanlac man this week. Mrs. Dauphinais is a well-known dressmaker and ladies' tailor and numbers her customers by the score in the vicinity in which she resides.

"I have suffered from stomach trouble and on account of having to diet myself for such a long period, I was in a terribly run-down condition, and would frequently lay awake at night and suffer from severe pain.

"Tanicl advertised and decided to try some, since taking two bottles I feel this, have a splendid appetite, can eat anything without causing me inconvenience, and my sleep is regular and peaceful, when I get up in the morning I feel like doing a day's work.

"It is the first medicine that I have ever tried that would give me any relief," continued Mrs. Dauphinais, "and I certainly recommend it to those suffering from stomach trouble, indigestion and run-down condition."

Tanicl, "the system purifier" which Mrs. Dauphinais recommends so highly, may be purchased in Duluth from William A. Abbott, "the careful druggist," 218 West Superior street, where Mr. C. J. Meredith, "The Tanlac Man," is in charge to explain its merits.

Tanicl may also be procured from the Abbott branch stores, 101 West Fourth St. and 932 East Second St. —Advertisement.

Notables Coming.

A welcome to be tendered the delegates to the annual tri-district conference of the Norwegian-Danish Methodist church will feature the ceremonies at the opening of the joint conference of the Red River Valley, Minneapolis and Chicago districts this evening at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. An attractive program has been planned for the affair, which just closed in Minneapolis, will arrive early, this evening, and Rev. J. P. Anderson, superintendent of the Minneapolis district, Rev. Hans K. Madsen, superintendent of the Chicago district, and Rev. Paul J. Haugen, superintendent of the Grand Forks district, arrived during the day. Bishop Berry will preside during the meetings of the conference.

Opening of Conference.

Welcoming addresses will be given this evening by Rev. H. A. Ofsa, pastor of the local church, who will speak on behalf of the congregation and city, and by Rev. Paul J. Haugen, who will speak on behalf of his district. The response will be made by Rev. Hans K. Madsen, former pastor of the local church, who is now in charge of the Chicago district.

The program will include selections by the choir and instrumental music furnished by a string band of nine pieces from the Bethany Norwegian-Danish M. E. church of West Duluth. Following the program the women of the church will serve refreshments.

The examinations of candidates for the ministry by the church board of the district will be held between 8:30 and 9:30 a. m. on Thursday. GROCCERS WILL CLOSE EARLIER

Shopping Must End at 9 p. m. Saturdays and 6:30 Other Days.

Beginning Nov. 1 grocers of the West end will close earlier—Saturdays at 9 o'clock and on other days at 6:30 o'clock, according to a decision made last night at a meeting held at the Rex hotel. Dinner took place at 8 o'clock and was attended by nineteen grocers.

C. E. Nunan presided at the meeting. It was pointed out that customers of grocers could just as easily complete all of their purchases for Sunday before 9 o'clock Saturday evening as to wait until a later hour. The new closing order will go into effect on Nov. 1.

Several of the stores of the West end have been closing on other days of the week at 6:30 o'clock, but there were many that kept open until 9 and others until 10 o'clock every evening. The proprietors of these places were glad to enter the movement with the others to close earlier.

A committee consisting of David Olson, Edward Thorstad, H. S. Smith and Ed Olson was appointed to see that regulation was enforced.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT BAZAR OPENING

Says Hyphen Should Be Dropped From Word
"American."

Hyphenated Americans include all Americans except the few remaining Indians, according to Mayor W. I. Prince, who spoke on the subject of "Hyphenated Americans" at the opening of the bazar at the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, last night. He advocated the use of the word "true" in the place of the word "hyphenated" as representing the present generation of citizens.

The mayor said that the term should be entirely eliminated from use. He said that an American who stands ready and willing to sacrifice his all for America, is a true American and regardless of his ancestry. Many of the so-called hyphenated Americans, he said, are the country's best citizens. Conservatism should be observed in the discussion of the European war, he declared.

The program included musical numbers by Mrs. Gust Lindam, Mrs. Edna Loff, Mrs. J. J. Daniels, and Mrs. H. H. Hatcher. The church was handsomely decorated and many hosts conducted by the various societies of the church were well arranged. The program for tonight follows:

The Cheese Dealers' Association against the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company et al. and the Cheese Dealers' Association against the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad Company et al. The dealers allege that the icing rates of the railroads are too high.

When asked this morning if Duluth would be represented at this hearing, C. Roy Hall, traffic manager of the Duluth Commercial club, said he did not believe so and that the local club has not yet filed any protest. He said that a protest would be filed later but would be a little different.

Minnesota Will Fight.

As to the hearing that comes up next Monday in which many Minnesota concerns will be represented, John J. Farrell, says that this state will be muzzled out of $125,000 a year if the rule of the Eastern railroads are allowed to stand. But it will not be permitted to stand without a vigorous protest. Mr. Farrell will attend, not only as a state official, but as president of the National Creamery Butter Makers' association.

"Before the expense for icing the cars has been absorbed in the freight rate and this is as it should be, in our opinion. When the Eastern roads made a plea for an increase in freight rates the butter men made no protest. We were willing to leave the question of the sufficiency of the old rates to the judgment of the interstate commerce commission and when that body decided that the Eastern roads were entitled to a 6 per cent increase, its judgment was accepted without a murmur by the butter men, and I believe by those engaged in other lines of trade requiring refrigeration of their commodities."

Charge It, Ice or No Ice.

"Now on top of this 6 per cent increase the railroads demand 10 cents a hundred pounds addition for icing cars on the haul from Chicago to New York. One of the preposterous phases of the proposal is that the icing charge shall be imposed whether the service is performed or not. It is safe to say that during four and five months of the year no icing will be necessary. The creamery men are indignant and feel that the railroads are attempting to make them pay for a service for which they are entitled to compensation, we don't question that, but now they come with an extra charge right after having been allowed to increase their rates to a figure which was supposed to be satisfactory. We will make just as effective a protest as we are able and will come prepared with data and figures which will refute any allegations that the proposed increase is reasonable and fair."

UNCLE SAM AFTER MORE DEPOSITS

If there is any money still hiding in old socks and family chests, Uncle Sam wants to get it and turn it into the channels of trade. With this idea in mind, the postoffice department has just begun a vigorous campaign among the foreign societies and foreign population in general to get persons with hidden treasures to deposit them in the postal savings bank.

"The campaign is already on," said Postmaster William E. McEwen today, "and we have received publicity matter from Washington to carry on a population to deposit its savings in the postal savings bank. In this way the depositor will secure interest on his money and the government will turn the money into the channels of trade, thereby bettering conditions in general."

"There will be no effort to obtain money that would be deposited in the city banks. The government wants the money that would otherwise be idle."

"Just the Thing."

A tailor's work is sedentary. That is why most tailors suffer from constipation. G. W. Robertson, Wichita Falls, Tex., says: "I find Foley's Cathartic Tablets the most delightful. They are just the thing. They keep the stomach sweet and the liver active. Drive away headache, dizziness, tired feeling, biliousness, bloated and other results of clogged bowels. Prompt and effective, without griping or pain. Stout people praise them for the light, free feeling they give."

POTATO FAMINE IN NORTHWEST IS FEARED BY FARMERS OF DULUTH

Continued Rains and Consequent Dampness Have Caused Tubers to Show Rot; Many Spuds Mushy When Boiled; Much of Crop Still in Ground.

Conditions for a potato famine throughout the Northwest never seemed brighter than at present, according to many farmers in St. Louis county, in Wisconsin and in Michigan. While the crop of tubers this year is of about normal size, the quality of the spuds is far below the average. Much of the crop seems to have suffered seriously from the early summer rains and the general damp and cold temperatures that prevailed all summer and fall.

Many consignments of potatoes that have been brought to the Duluth market this autumn show inferior quality and many of them are affected with rot. Many of the spuds cannot be boiled, for when prepared in this manner, they become mushy and unpalatable. Others that are not mushy when cooked are decidedly mealy. While the crop of the crop can be baked in an appetizing manner now, it is believed that they will be unfit for use later when the weather improves.

Many still in ground.

Potato seed sown last spring in lowlands or in flat sections has produced little or nothing while the seed planted in the high lands has produced a large number of tubers of a not over good quality. Much of the crop in the Duluth district has not been harvested yet, many of the farmers believing it the better plan to leave the spuds in the hills until the vines have completely withered.

In just what degree the heavy rains of late September and so far this month have injured the spuds that are still in the ground is, of course, a matter of conjecture; but many believe these tubers will show decided signs of rot when they are eventually taken from the soil.

CALUMET COUPLE WEDDED 50 YEARS

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lewis, pioneer residents of Red Jacket, quietly celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at their home at 413 Eighth street this week. There were present only immediate relatives, a daughter, Mrs. Thomas W. Moon, her husband and children, and Miss Nellie Paton, a sister of Mrs. Lewis. The host and hostess were the recipients of telegrams of felicitations, flowers and gifts of gold.

Mr. Lewis, a native of Geneva, N. Y., and Mrs. Lewis, who was born in Solon, Iowa, were married in 1865. They came to Calumet and have made this their home since. For thirty-five years Mr. Lewis was the manager of the grocery department of the Edward Ryan store, and upon the retirement of that firm he took a traveling position.

RECORD SET FOR LABOR

Steel Trade Now Taking More Men Than in Years.

Domestic Orders Increase; Railroads Heading Off Higher Prices.

Steel plant operations in the leading centers are estimated to be approaching close to a capacity basis, and companies with war contracts on hand are, in nearly every case, working double time. It is, in fact, estimated that more men than in years are at present being employed in the steel industry.

Heavy increases in domestic steel business, apart from munitions, is commented upon as a gratifying development. At Chicago, it is said, that rail and car buying is affording the right sort of stimulus to the iron and steel market, which remains active and firm.

Iron for delivery in the first quarter of next year now brings 50 cents premium. Steel bars have been advanced and black sheets are stronger. Structural steel inquiries are increasing, being hastened by quotation advances recently made by the United States Steel corporation.

Rail Orders Increase.

Rail orders already placed for 1916 delivery now total nearly 300,000 tons and the buying is said to be gaining in momentum. The railroads are reported to be buying steel for car repair and structural fittings, shops for next year, and they are inquiring for freight cars on a broader scale. Steel will cost the railroads several dollars.

Members of the Duluth Real Estate exchange at their monthly luncheon at the Commercial club yesterday adopted a resolution opposing the proposed new electrical ordinance introduced by Mayor Prince last Monday at the request of the Electrical Workers' union.

A copy of which will be mailed to Mayor Prince today, following the resolution.

Resolved, That the Duluth Real Estate exchange is unalterably opposed to the creation of a monopoly in the electrical business and places its control in the hands of a few contractors and will thereby materially increase the cost to the public for all kinds of electrical work.

That the exchange is heartily in favor of proper regulation of electrical work and careful inspection, and if the ordinance now in force is not sufficient or if the inspection department has not a sufficient force to make proper inspection, this exchange favors amendments to the present ordinance to accomplish such results.

Disapproval of the ordinance was voiced by several of the members of the exchange, who declared that it would be impossible for small companies to continue in business and that the measure seeks to create another inspection monopoly. Among those who spoke were Charles F. Craig, R. E. Knox, N. J. Upham, Whitney Wall and W. E. Getchell, President J. E. Cooley presided.

at ten more for next year, and the leading systems are showing a disposition to contract for their supplies now in the belief that quotations will be still further advanced in the near future.

Another important factor noted in trade circles is that the steel demand from neutral countries is increasing sharply. This is in distinct contrast to the first year of the war when exports at all points were light.

Plans in Full Operation.

In the Pittsburgh district it is reported that all the large blast furnaces are in operation as well as all the open-hearth plants. The mills in the entire district are working day and night. On account of a rush of orders at the Farrell, Pa., tin mill of the American Sheet & Tin Plate company, orders were received to stop remelting running at capacity. The company had started overhauling the plant and it was expected that five mills would be closed each week until the work was completed.

E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation's board of directors, said on his return to New York from an extended trip over the West and to the Pacific coast, that the steel business is at present satisfactory and that prospects have greatly improved.

Our bookings are greatly improved, about equal to our capacity and in some respects sufficiently and reasonably remunerative, are on the whole fairly good and therefore result in substantial profits," he said.

RAINY WEATHER IS WORRYING FARMERS

Large Percentage of North Dakota Crop Not Yet Threshed.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 6.—(Special to The Herald).—Rain has put another damper on threshing operations in this section of the state, the rain falling for a period of several hours, with no present sign of letup.

Threshing machines in the district hit by the now fall of moisture had been operating only a few days, and the new setback is sufficient to keep the machines idle several days.

North Dakota and Northern Minnesota farmers are becoming greatly concerned at the continuance of the unseasonable weather conditions, and the great amount of grain that still remains to be threshed. Careful canvassing of the condition in this state indicates that from 70 to 80 per cent of all the grain still remains to be cared for.

No little damage is being reported from many portions, the principal damage, of course, being in the lower grade of grain. Threshing machine owners, who were assured a big profit for the season, now face the possibility of loss. The labor situation is growing more acute each day, as thousands of laborers have departed from the state because of the continued wet weather.

Attendance at the Matinee Musicales Is Enormous

President's Day Program Successful as Attraction and Delightful as Musical Event.

A short address by the president, Mrs. J. N. McKinley, vocal numbers by Miss Alice Sjosted and piano numbers by Miss Violette Jordan composed the President's day program of the Matinee Musicales, which was given yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist church. The audience was so large Mrs. McKinley expressed a doubt that all the members could be accommodated in the auditorium of the Masonic temple, where it was planned to give the next program.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Mutilating Property.

The mutilation of property is a positive mania with some people. Certain forms of partial destruction appeal to the growing boy and girl and those of advanced years.

Marking trees, rocks and telephone poles and barn doors with the initials of your name and those of the girl whom you favor at the time does not constitute a heinous crime. However, if it is not prohibited in the training of the young by wise parents who desire to bring their children up with some idea of the consideration due others in life that it may result in the mature mutilator of things more valuable and more worthy of preservation than barn doors or board fences.

Surely the board fence and the barn door ought to have been placed upon them unless either one belongs to the family and father is willing that his young hopefuls shall disgrace them to their hearts' content. It is all right to mutilate your own property but it is an altogether different matter when the property belongs to others, and then it becomes a nuisance and in many cases a violation of the law.

Depot sheds offer a splendid opportunity. The manipulator of a jack-knife, having a few minutes to spare while waiting for a train, may carve a space with his initials or any other mark on the woodwork. The knife isn't handy a lead pencil will suffice.

Only recently on the railing in the tower of the custom house in Boston, the second highest skyscraper owned by the government, a youth carved his name and was arrested on the spot. The judge who fined him $20 remarked at the time that he wished that it was within his power to compel this youth to take a scrubbing brush and soap and scour the walls and railings of the observation balcony daily for a period of six months.

I once saw three initials and a tiny cross roughly marked upon the headstone of an eminent man. I have seen objects of historical interest which have been chipped and cut away little by little at the hands of those who are moved by the instinct to possess some famous relic. I am always thoroughly disgusted and at a loss to understand the spirit that makes people do such things.

Concert orchestra, under the direction of Fred G. Bradbury, eleven programs given by members of the Matinee Musicales and the concert orchestra will be given under the auspices of the Matinee Musicales by the Kiesel quartet, Julia Culp and Percy Ganger. Mrs. McKinley announced that John C. Freund, who is "unique in the musical world as he asks no fee," will speak in Duluth Monday evening, Oct. 18, on the Musical Independence of the United States.

Miss Sjosted's Numbers.

Miss Sjosted opened the musical program yesterday with Wagner's "Elisabeth's Dream," which showed her dramatic ability and wonderful tones. Mrs. Fred G. Bradbury was accompanist.

The next number was given by Miss Jordan—"Aufschwung," by Schumann. The most remarkable part of which was the excellent way in which the melody was brought out in the second part.

After each musician had made her bow to the enthusiastic audience and had shown her ability, groups of numbers were given.

Miss Sjosted sang "Widmung" and "Er laß" by Schumann, "Auf Flugeln des Gesanges," by Mendelssohn, Strauss' "Morgen," and Wagner's "Liebestraße," giving an encore "Blue Bird" by MacDowell. Her group consisted of two Swedish songs, "Fascina Visa" and a folk dance, and three songs that are in manuscript, "Blackberries," "A Song in the Night" and "The Song of the Nightingale." The encore to this group was another Swedish song, "Winter Lullaby."

Duluth Artists Are Delighted.

Miss Sjosted made one want to forget the platform as a setting and picture of her ability, groups of numbers were given.

One of the charming features of her numbers was one which was given by her, showing that the recognition of her ability for foreign artists has not been lost in the city. Her naturalness and gracefulness.

Miss Jordan sang "Meditation," by Tchaikovsky, and "Meditation," by Rachmaninoff, and as an encore "Norwegian Song" by Grieg. Her interpretation of the extremely difficult Tchaikovsky, "Meditation," was excellent and her rhythm in all the numbers was wonderful. Her runs were most remarkable and clear.

Miss Jordan will return soon to the state normal school at Emporia, Kan., where she is head of the piano department.

Battle Over Peace Question

State Condonation of Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs Faces Fight for Peace Resolutions.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 6.—Prospect of a battle over the question of peace marked the opening today of the state convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs, attended by 300 women from all parts of Wisconsin, all the state and many of the national officers of the federation. The fight for peace is to be led by Prof. Charles Zuehlke of Boston, Mass., and Miss Florence Gale of Portage, Wis. So far as the peace question is concerned, the convention is divided into two camps, one for peace and one for war. The peace camp is led by Prof. Charles Zuehlke of Boston, Mass., and Miss Florence Gale of Portage, Wis. The war camp is led by Mrs. Charles Morris of Berlin, first president of the federation, who will not favor extreme action.

When the convention assembled today, one of the most prominent leaders of the state federation, one whose absence attracted considerable attention, was Mrs. Eugene F. Woods of Janesville, vice president, is the widow of one of the two victims of the steamer Arabic, torpedoed by a German submarine. Mrs. Woods reported that on the day before she came to La Crosse for the convention, she visited Mrs. Woods at Janesville and found her still prostrated with grief.

Morning and afternoon sessions are to be held for the next three days. The convention will conclude Friday noon.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin, Texas, national president of the organization, and national officers from other points will address the convention during its sessions.

Evening Drama Club Hears of Literature as Vital Asset

Mrs. J. C. H. Engel spoke on "Literature as a Vital Asset" at the first meeting of the season which was held by the Evening Drama club last evening in the library classroom. Mrs. Engel pointed out the importance of literature in the life of the individual and the community.

It was planned to hold a social meeting at the home of one of the members whenever there are five Tuesdays in the month. The first meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Cook. The members of the social committee are Miss Mary Parsons, Miss Bertha Sothman, Miss Edna Baker, Miss Hannah Strand and Miss Fanny Nussbaum. Twenty-four young women joined the class last evening. Quotations were given from Shaw's "Fanny's First Play."

Miss E. Pearl Preston gave the secretary's report. At the close of the meeting, Miss Bertha Mendelssohn, Miss E. Pearl Preston and Miss Helen Mae Geary served tea.

The class will take up the reading of Ibsen's "The Master Builder" at the next meeting, Tuesday night, Oct. 19, when Mrs. Engel will be the leader.

Mrs. Engel said in her address last evening:

"Our age has long borne the stigma of 'the age of materialism.' We are becoming hardened to the indictment of holding the almighty dollar as the paramount issue of life."

"How much is it worth? Is it the value of money? Is it the value of the dollar and the cent? We read and hear of commercialized everything, from commercialized religion, commercialized amusements, through the whole gamut down, commercialized warfare, and, finally, commercialized vice."

"Greed is the great vice of our age. How much is there in it for me? has become the conventional attitude of the average man and woman toward life."

WILSON'S GREAT VICTORY MADE COMPLETE.

Germany disavows the sinking of the Arabic, and has so notified the commander who made the attack.

Germany expresses regret for the loss of American lives.

Germany agrees to pay an indemnity to the families of Americans who were slaughtered when the Arabic was sunk.

Thus the demands of America, expressed by President Wilson, have been met in every detail. The incident is virtually closed, the way to the reconciliation of every similar issue between this country and Germany is opened, and President Wilson's victory,
which is the victory of the American people,
is complete to the last letter.

And this great victory, the greatest diplomatic victory in half a century, the only great victory of the war in Europe, was gained in peace, and by stern, restrained and well-poised determination which avoided the extremes of timidity and belligerency.

There are some who are disappointed because the United States pressed Germany at all, and did not submit tamely to anything Germany saw fit to do.

There are some who are disappointed that the end desired was not sought at the cannon's mouth, and that this country, though a mighty victor in one of the most critical controversies in history, remains unbelligerent, unimpaired.

Yet the great mass of the American people is well content not only that the victory has been gained, but that the splendid manner in which it was gained shows that there still are weightier weapons than the sword.

No president of the United States ever performed higher, nobler service to this country than Woodrow Wilson has performed in thus gaining the last detail of the nation's demands upon a great and warlike country without firing a shot or even leveling a gun.

THE ELECTRICAL ORDINANCE.

The proposed ordinance governing the installation of electric wires and fixtures in Duluth is now before the council and the community.

It should be studied carefully, and action upon it determined wholly in the interests of the whole community.

It should safeguard the community against loss from improper wiring and should provide adequate inspection to this end. It should contain no provisions intended solely to make work for electrical workers or contractors or to exact fees
from home-builders and home-owners.

Perhaps the ordinance in its present form complies fully with these requirements. It should not be adopted until everybody is certain that it will do what is required of it, and not what is not required of it by the public interest.

It may yet be necessary for the courts to decide whether a course at a citizen's training camp entitles a rookie to wear a military title.

THE SUCCESS OF THE FOREIGN LOAN.

The over-subscription of the half-billion loan to France and England is a good sign all around. It shows the amplitude of the credit resources of this country—indeed,
the credit resources still unexploited amount to four times as much as the amount subscribed to the loan. It enables this country to maintain its foreign commerce unimpeded by the prohibitive rate of foreign exchange. It means more business, more employment, more profits. It was a plain business measure, adopted not at all in the interest of any belligerent but entirely in the commercial and industrial interest of the United States, and it has been handled accordingly.

Moreover, the loan was subscribed without any need of calling upon those whose conscience made them averse to participating. That perfectly valid conscientious scruples actuated some of those who refused to avail themselves of this tempting investment is made clear in the explanation
by the large Wall Street banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of its reasons for not participating.

This house, in its announcement, first made it plain that its refusal was not based on sympathy with one side or the other,

because the members of the firm are divided as between the belligerents in Europe. Second, it expressed its belief that the loan will benefit American commerce. But Kuhn, Loeb & Co. refused to put its money into this loan solely because they could not be assured that Russia would not be benefited by it. Jacob H. Schiff, the senior member of the firm, opposes Russia because of its treatment of the Jews, and therefore none of the firm's money will go into a fund that may by any chance help Russia.
This firm, during the Russian-Japanese war marketed in this country a loan for Japan.

ful, small boy might also be called a hurricane.

AMERICA CAN AFFORD TO "DRESS UP."

We have been much interested in the progress of Duluth "Dress-up Week" campaign, and to note signs on every side that it is proving to be a success.

Not the least interesting point about this campaign is that it is a national affair, not a local affair, and that the time chosen for it is based upon the complete conviction of the business men of the country that this nation is rounding into the glad highway of the most abundant prosperity it has ever experienced.

This means that the enterprising merchants who got up this campaign to induce all of us to pick upon the same time for our normal fall dressing-up proceedings are convinced that we can now well afford to dress up.

One of the men responsible for the organization of this campaign sent out this ringing statement, every word of which is truth itself:

The immediate object of a "Dress-up" campaign is to increase the demand for and consumption of clothes this fall. The present business conditions are seemingly just right to make this possible.

Enormous crops are being sold at high prices. Industry is busy. Employment is disappearing.
NEVER IN THE WORLD'S HISTORY WAS A NATION SO FAVORED AS THE UNITED STATES TODAY.

The earth is about to give us TEN BILLION DOLLARS in crops. Our steel industry is working at, or close to, full capacity. At New Bedford the textile mills are so busy that they were obliged to dismiss employees time and time again.

Our banks hold two billion dollars in gold—probably the greatest reserve ever accumulated in any country. Each week is adding to our foreign trade balance.
The standard of foreign exchange
is at a high level.

All these things spell PROSPERITY.
Not the prosperity of a few, but a prosperity which will infiltrate through every stratum of American life.

Surely if this is true—and there cannot be the slightest possible doubt that it is true—we can all afford to "dress up" this October, and so the "Dress-up Week" campaign is timely.

Two robbers jumped off a C. & M. & St. P.
train as it entered Minneapolis the other night. Strange nobody saw in this a hint to the outcome of the county option election.

A THREAT AGAINST THE WELFARE OF THE COMMUNITY.

R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of the public schools of Duluth, was quoted in The Herald last night as being inclined to oppose further participation by the school board in the recreation work that has been so successfully established in Duluth.

It is sincerely hoped that Mr. Denfeld has been misunderstood. If he has not, it is hoped that he will change his mind. If he will not, it is hoped that it will prove that he is not the school board and does not speak for it.

This recreation work was vitally needed.
It was begun after a long demand for it. It was undertaken through co-operation by the city and the school district because this is the way it should be done and the only way
it can be done.

The work has proved its value. Its popularity is beyond question. The community needs it, the community demands its continuance, and those who set themselves against it set themselves not only against the community's best welfare but against the community's will.

The city is unable to continue it alone. A refusal by the school district to bear its share of the responsibility and the burden means the collapse of the work. That will be something the community will not and should not bear patiently. It would be a pity if it became necessary to make this the leading issue in school board elections hereafter, yet if that is the only way to make the district serve the community's needs,
then that way will become unavoidable.

But maybe October's merely weeping over the wetness of the months preceding it.

THE PRESIDENT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

New Jersey will vote next month on woman suffrage.

It is announced that the president, who is a citizen of New Jersey, will vote "yes"
on the question.

Of course he will. Nobody who has realized his fairness, the clearness of his perceptions and the soundness of his conceptions of true democracy, had expected anything else.

The president has declared himself against pushing equal suffrage by amendment to the Federal Constitution. He believes that this is a matter that the states should settle for themselves. And in this he is as thoroughly right as he is in his determination to vote for equal suffrage
now that the question is before the voters of his state.

Moreover, Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce, and the president's private secretary, Mr. Tumulty, who also are citizens of New Jersey, have announced that they, too, are to vote "yes."

Also, Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department, who is a citizen of New York, announces that when he goes home to vote

in that state next month, he will cast his vote for "votes for women."

Democracy means the rule of the people.
Unless women are not people, we have no real democracy until they share equally with men the duties and responsibilities of popular government. But women ARE people, and they have the same right to vote that men have—and it will not be very long before that right will be conceded in every state in the Union.

However much a man may be willing to have it said that he's broke, he'll jump into war if it you so much as intimate that he's meretriciously cracked.

Touching Political Societies

Henry Waterson in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Parties rise and fall; they cut and come again; they have their ebb and their flow;
and one party in its time plays many parts, it acts being made of the vices, hardly less than the virtues, of man.

Let us say at once that the Courier-Journal has always had a sneaking kindness for Victor Murdock. Not to mention the circumstance that into its own guild he was to the manner born and exceeding well bred, he seemed, when he first came to Washington, a young fellow of amiable spirit, and, as time gave him the opportunity to develop, he grew in length, breadth and the quality of apprehension. Sprung from good fighting stock—Kansas stock at that—it went without saying that he would impress himself upon the house and the country. Even if we thought that in his present pilgrimage he were up a tree, we should still admire his stunt.

But we think not so. On the contrary, we regard his adherence to Progressivism as far-seeing statesmanship and wisdom, practical politics—the which, as Truthful
the Republican of Lincoln did long ago.

BOSTON PLAYERS SHOULD BE COOL IN BIG SERIES

The Red Sox Have Been Tried Out in Gruelling Fire of Grim Battle of 1912; Fulton and Morris Possibility as Local Card; Pat Moran, Yesterday Unknown, Famous Today.

BY BRUCE.

MAYBE the world's series will devolve into a battle between the greatest pitcher of this and last year and one of the gamest and most persistent teams of the present season. Alexander is the pitcher and the Boston Red Sox are the team.

There should be no breaking upon the part of the Boston players. Carrigan is a tried veteran of a former world's series and the same is true of Cady. Speaker, Lewis and Hooper romped through the heart-breaking eight games of 1912. Gardner was at third and Wagner, if he breaks into the play, is as steady as a middle-aged woman who has definitely given up all hope of being wed.

Capt. Jack Berry has gone through the siege of four world's series games and should, in the ordinary course of events, experience no side jumping of nerves.

With the members of the Philadelphia team it may be different. Alexander naturally knows that the world, or a large part thereof, wonders what is going to do in the games that start on Friday. Knowing and heaving play its small or large part in the psychology of the game. This is merely supposition—but from now until the players walk upon the field, there will be hope and suppositions galore.

Fulton May Work Here.

Promoter Ed Whalen of the Duluth Athletic club talked over a Fred Fulton-Carl Morris heavyweight battle with Mike Collins yesterday. Morris knocked Fulton out when the Rochester boxer was a green and inexperienced novice at the fighting game. Up to the time the "kayo" was shipped over the fight was a vicious, slashing one, with Fulton battering Morris around the ring.

If there is one man in the ring Fulton desires to fight, that man is Carl Morris, the huge and hairy giant of Sapulpa, Okla. The Minnesota farmer boy wants to remove the stigma of the Morris victory from his pugilistic conscience. Fulton also believes that he can give the big engineer an awful lacing and thus step one point ahead in the scramble for the fling at the champion.

Dan McKetrick Busy.

Of all the pugilistic managers in the country, Dan McKetrick is the most industrious when it comes to writing letters. McKetrick was formerly sporting editor on one of the New York papers. It was this individual who promoted the Johnson-Moran fight in Paris, and it is the same McKetrick who handles Shorliff, Bartfield, Young Ahearn, Frankie Calahan and a multitude of other battlers.

Yesterday Promoter Ed Whalen of the local club received a letter from McKetrick in which the New York manager offered to bring any one or all of his fighters to Duluth.

There probably isn't a day in the week in which McKetrick doesn't mail out at least a score of letters to promoters throughout the country. Managing fighters—that is in big league manner—is no soft and looting job.

As Time Passeth.

Yesterday—figuratively speaking—Pat Moran was a third string catcher, an individual who sat in the shade of the dugout and dreamed, nayhap, of fame and things as they might have been. Today he is manager of the first team that has ever pulled down a gonfalon for Philadelphia in the National league and one of the most famous figures in baseball.

When Moran passed, in the drooping light of yesterday, men did not turn and gaze with open mouth, neither did they nudge one another and mutter his name. Yesterday he was Moran, the third string catcher; today he is Pat Moran, the miracle man of today as Stallings was of yesterday.

Such is fame and such is human nature.

Last year at this precise time the name of Connie Mack was on the tongue of many mortals throughout this land of ours. The glowing mantle of fame in his case has been changed for a gloomy coat of the somber shade of oblivion for the time at least.

Forgotten in the rush to the throne room where stand with gleaming countenances the managers of this year's teams, are the feats of Mack and the glories of McGraw. It isn't so much what you were, but rather what you are this minute.

They are wise parents who teach their kids philosophy at a tender age.

WINS BIG STAKE AND MAKES RECORD

Massachusetts Filly Trots in Record Time in Kentucky Futurity.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 6.—Mary Putney, owned by Chauncey H. Sears of Fall River, Mass., won the $14,000 Kentucky futurity for 3-year-old trotters, the feature of the Grand Circuit program, yesterday in straight heats, and broke the world's record for 3-year-old fillies by going the second mile in 2:06 1/4. At that, the filly was not quite extended. Humfast and Colorado Range finished second and third, respectively, in each heat.

William, world's champion pacer, driven by his owner, C. K. G. Billings, failed to lower his mark of 1:59 1/4, making the mile in 1:59 1/4. His fractional time was 29 3/4, 1:00 3/4, 1:31 1/4, 1:59 1/4. Mr. Billings will make another effort Friday.

In the first heat of the 2:13 trot, Governor Mason, on the pole, managed to stall out the challenge of Peter Billiken in the stretch. In the second, Governor Mason got away in front again, but Peter Billiken overhauled him at the head of the stretch, Governor Mason dropping back to fifth place. The third was easy for fifth Billiken, who led practically all the way. In the fourth, Governor Mason came back strong with Audrey Grey and Peter Billiken again finishing fourth.

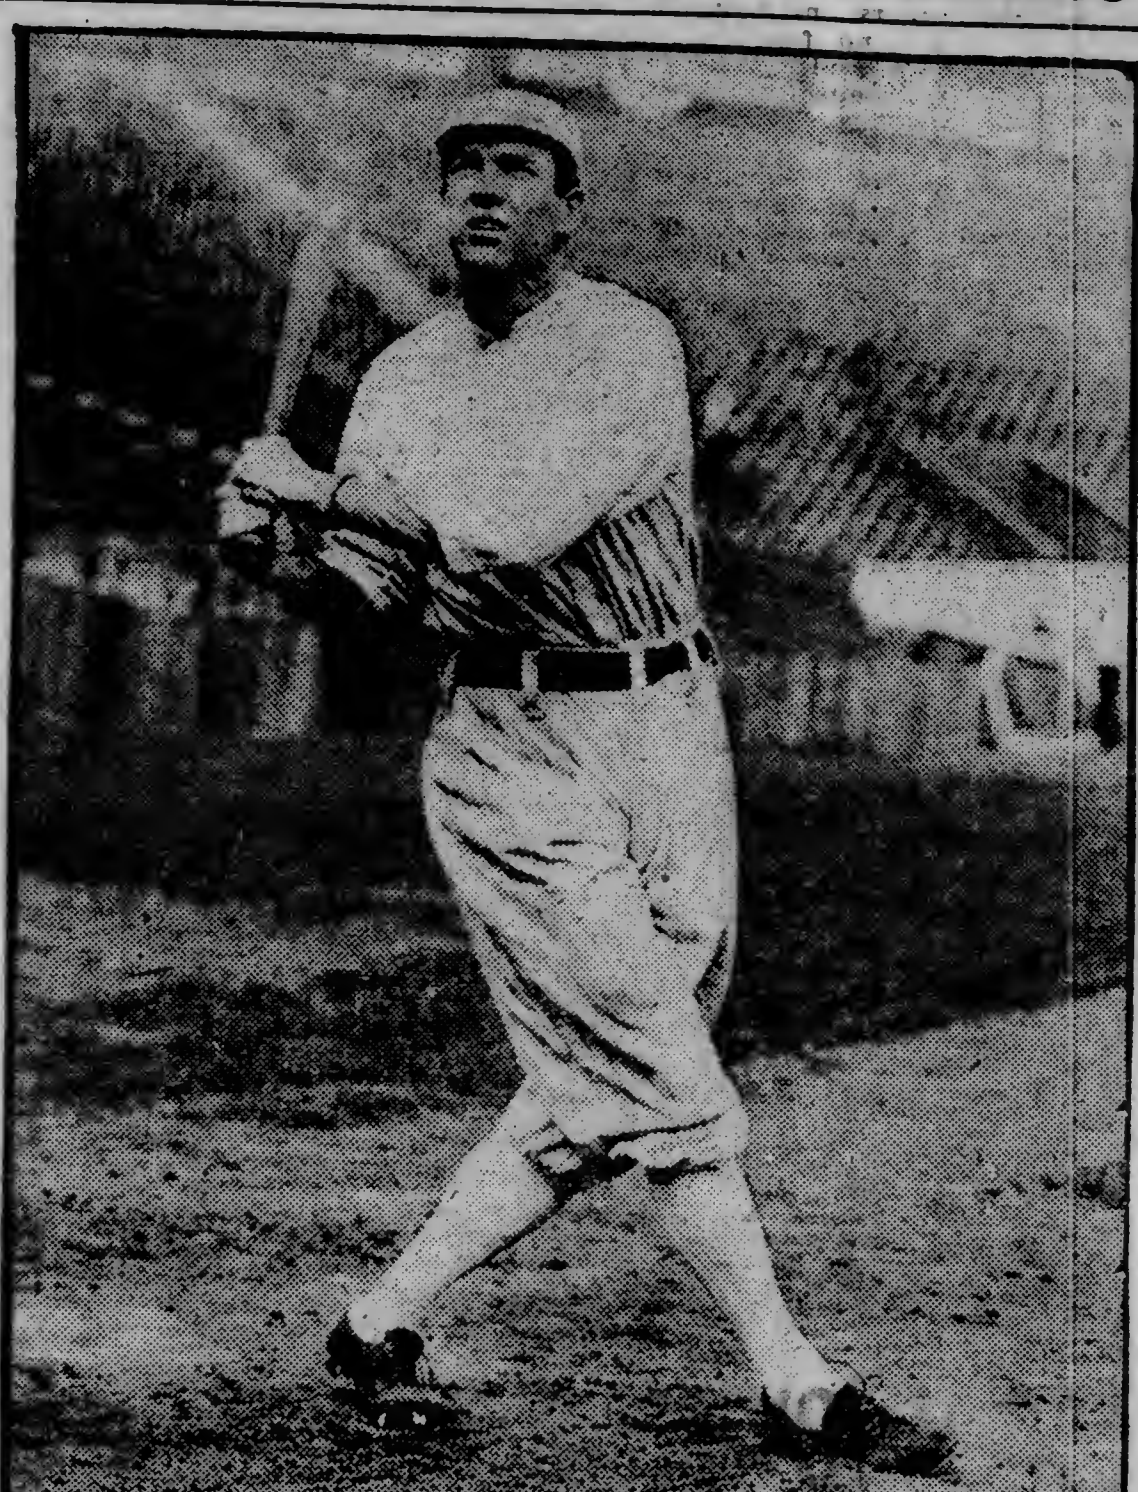

In the 2:04 pace, Cox laid back with Earl J., allowing R. H. Brett and Single G. to lead well into the stretch, when he shook Earl J. off by half a length. The pace was fairly fast, the quarter being reached in 31, the half in 1:04 1/4, the three-quarters in 1:31, and the mile in 2:04 1/4. Earl J., repeated in the second, taking command at the head of the stretch, and holding his lead spite of a burst of speed by Single G. at the finish.

Gray was fined $100 for pulling out at the upper turn, and allowing Single G. to come through on the pole. 2:20 pace when it went over until today.

IN THE FIRST ROUND

SPEAKER EXPECTED TO SHINE IN WORLD'S SERIES

TRIS SPEAKER.

Speaker is supposed to divide the stellar honors of the approaching world's series with Grover Cleveland Alexander—is supposed to. Oftentimes it happens that stars don't appear in resplendent roles in the titular clash. There has been the case of Cobb, for instance. But Speaker is one of the greatest players in baseball, perhaps the greatest outfielder of them all, and the big Texan is looked to show some real class in the world's series games.

RED SOX WILL GET NO REST

Will Not Complete Their Regular Schedule Till Thursday Evening.

Boston Americans Still Have Three Games With New York.

New York, Oct. 6.—A workout on Friday morning preceding the first game of the world's baseball championship will be the only opportunity which the Boston Americans will have for practice on the field of the Philadelphia Nationals. Owing to the postponement of yesterday's game between the New York and Boston American league clubs it will be necessary for the Red Sox and the Yankees to play two games here today and one tomorrow in order to complete their schedule. This means that the Red Sox will not have a day's rest before the beginning of the world's series.

Phillys Through Today.

Philadelphia, Oct. 6.—With but two days remaining until the opening contest for the supremacy of the world, the National league champions, the Phillies hoped to complete their regular playing schedule in a double-header with the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Americans. A double-header was generally expected yesterday in the camp of the Phillies, the new National league champions, because rain caused a postponement of team. It had been hoped that the regular season here would be completed yesterday, and that the two days intervening before the opening of the world's series on Friday could be devoted to secret practice in preparation for the big game.

If rain again interferes today, it was officially stated that the games would be called off in order to give Moran men at least one day of rest before the clash with the Boston Americans for premier baseball honors.

Manager Moran held a secret conference with his men during yesterday afternoon and it was said he imparted to them whatever knowledge he gained of the Red Sox in viewing their play at New York yesterday.

Mayor Blankenburg has accepted an invitation to attend the second game of the series on Saturday. Three seats in the private box of W. F. Baker, president of the club, were placed at

BRANDT TAKES BEATING BUT FIGHTS GAMELY

New York, Oct. 6.—Jack Dillon of Indianapolis administered a severe beating to Jim Savage of Orange, N. J., in their ten-round bout here last night. Savage was knocked down three times, but displayed great gameness.

Large Crowds Expected.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 6.—The world's series games to be played in this city next Monday and Tuesday probably will be witnessed by 45,000 persons, President Joseph J. Linn of the Boston Americans announced last night.

Charles Cheeking up of the capacity of Braves' field, he said, had shown that this number could be cared for without inconvenience. About 5,000 persons will be allowed to stand, either behind a fence to be erected in right field.

WHEN AND WHAT BIRDS TO SHOOT

Supreme Court Expected to Settle Conflict Between Federal Migratory Bird Law and State Laws.

Washington, Oct. 6.—If it were early morning and you were a duck hunter in hip boots in the marshes of Minnesota and should see a fine flock of fat mallards drop down within easy range, what would you do?

If you wanted to be absolutely sure not violating the Federal migratory bird law you might say: "Wait!"

First, consult an almanac to see whether the sun has officially risen before you shoot. You must not shoot before sunrise.

Second, consult an ornithologist to make sure the ducks are not of the restricted variety.

Third, consult a geographer to discover whether you are "on the banks of the Mississippi" between Minneapolis and Memphis.

Fourth, consult a lawyer as to whether the ducks are not of the restricted variety.

But by that time the ducks will probably be missing. The same question arises in the case of the migratory bird law. The Federal law fixes different seasons for many state laws for the killing of different kinds of wild fowl. For instance, a state law may declare an open season, but a hunter who shoots a certain kind of wild fowl in that season is regarded as guilty under Federal law. For this reason hunters all over the country are very much up in the air.

The relation of the supreme court is expected to settle things definitely so that hunters may know when and what birds to shoot. The Federal authorities declare the restrictions provided by the Federal law are absolutely necessary for an adequate protection of the fast disappearing wild fowl. The migratory bird law was enacted after a long fight, conducted principally by the National Association of Audubon Societies. The department of agriculture, in an official statement just issued, says that two years the Federal migratory bird law has been in effect. From Federal game wardens and officers show the increase in water fowl to be from 10 to several hundred per cent, according to locality.

CURLING CLUB RINK TO HOUSE CITY HOCKEY TEAMS

Amateur Association Officers Agree to Accept Proposition of Curling Club Directors and All Games of Coming Season Will Be Staged at Club; Charles Horn Succeeds Ray Fenton as Association President.

Everything is set for a great season of hockey. Last evening a meeting of the Duluth Amateur Hockey association was held in the Fenton-Duby store, when it was decided definitely to accept the proposition made by the directors of the Duluth Curling club. This means that the city league teams will play all of their games during the approaching season in the big curling club rink.

Charles Horn, a former hockey player, who has worked heart and soul in the interests of the amateur league for the past three years, and who has ever actively and vigorously advocated the cause of the city league with the president of the Duluth Curling club, was chosen as the Duluth Amateur Hockey association at last evening's meeting, succeeding Ray W. Fenton, another hockey enthusiast, who has given both time and effort to build up the league.

The other officers of the league will be chosen at a meeting of the association to be held within the next few days. The delay in the election of the full quota of officers was caused by the desire to get some influential men to act as league officials.

Great Season Looked For.

There will be but four teams in the league, the Northern, Bagleys, Big Duluth and Duluth Universals. This means that only the very cream of the hockey playing talent of the city will be able to take part in the games of the coming season.

It is probable that Arnie Olson and Russ Barkell of last year's curling club team will play with the amateur league. As there were a large number of rising young stars on the various teams of the league last season, it is expected that selecting the very best players for the four teams that are to compete for honors this season will make the amateur race exceptionally fast and well contested.

Fond Hopes Realized.

The directors of the curling club means that fond hopes that have been nursed for several years are at last realized. For many seasons it has been the radiant dream of the amateur league hockey officials to get into the curling club. It has been the dream of other officials of the league to build up a great league, modeled somewhat along the lines of the Winnipeg hockey leagues. Now that the league is to be housed in one of the finest skating and hockey rinks in the United States, it is believed that this dream will begin to materialize.

There are young hockey players of great promise in Duluth. Some real stars are expected to develop the coming season. All of the players of the four teams will be Duluth boys. Local interest should leap lightly into the air and kick its heels vigorously together in gleeful anticipation. For several seasons past interest has been growing in regard to the Duluth hockey league. The coming season is expected to prove a banner year.

BACKSTOPS OF CONTENDERS IN COMING WORLD'S TITLE SERIES

New York, Oct. 6.—Offensively and defensively there appears to be little advantage for either the Boston Americans or the Philadelphia Nationals in the catching department. In the coming world's series, both the Red Sox and the Phillies have a trio of backstops who are far above the ordinary in ability in this particular feature of the game. The American league champions, in Manager Carrigan, Cady and Thomas, have three experienced catchers who are thoroughly familiar with every detail of the position. Killifer is the veteran of the Phillies catching force, but Burns has shown, during the past season, that he is not far behind his chief in all-round ability while Adams, the third string catcher, is a youngster who, in his few outings, has given promise of measuring up to the standard of his two superiors in the near future.

While experience counts for much in the work behind the plate, it is not always the veterans who shine in the big baseball series. If this was the case the Americans would have a wide margin of reserve strength since Carri-gion and Cady both figured prominently in the famous night game struggle between the Giants and the Red Sox in 1912, whereas none of the Phillies' catchers have figured in a diamond game. Thus it can be seen that so far as experience is concerned the Red Sox have Carri- and Cady and Thomas, and are about equal in this respect, while Moran's third eligible is an unknown quantity.

son's work can be used for a basis of comparison, however, there is nothing to indicate that much difference in the players under consideration. Killifer has caught a majority of the games played by the Phillies this year, with Burns filling in as emergency and relief catcher. The former has a fielding average of .973 and batted .347, while Burns has batted one point four points below. Adams' record fails to show participation in play for the pennant.

For Boston Cady and Thomas have done the major part of the backstop-ping, although Manager Carrigan has handled the duty for the last few days from time to time. Cady is the best of the trio in judgment, as evidenced by the season's unofficial averages. In something over seventy games he has batted .277 and fielded .978. Thomas, in about an equal number of games has fielded .971 and batted .233. Carrigan has received credit for playing in a little more than half the number of games that Cady and Thomas have officiated in and his averages are: Fielding, .956; batting, .207.

The individual averages and the averages of the rival catching departments, considered as units, are as follows:

Carrigan	B. A.	F. A.
Cady	.297	.976

HIBBING TO PLAY DULUTH

Strong All-Range Football Team to Meet Local Eleven.

Superior After a Game With the Cub Lajoy Outfit.

Bill McAlmon, former Minnesota star halfback and a member of the mythical All-Western team, is said to be coaching the independent football of the Mesabe Iron range that is to meet the crack Duluth independent football eleven at Athletic park next Sunday.

While Duluth has one of the strongest football teams in the history of the city, as was amply demonstrated in the contest of last Sunday against the Banholzer aggregation of Twin City stars, reports of a coming wheel of busy circulation on the range, have it that the eleven that will line up at Athletic park for a smash at the locals, will be about the finest football proposition that has ever been gathered together in the range.

Following the strenuous drama of the muddy field, in which the plugging and end-aggression, the outplayed the supposedly invincible Banholzers, Condition assembled his boys last evening and through one of the hardest practice sessions of the season.

It is said that the members of the Banholzer team knew the signals of the Duluth football team in the game of last Sunday. One of the members of the Duluth team is charged with giving the signals to the Banholzers last night gave out a new set of signals and then spent two solid hours in getting the boys letter perfect in their new system.

If reports coming from the iron range are lived up to, in the game scheduled for Sunday, the Duluth eleven, strong as it has demonstrated itself to be, may be in for a dreary and unfortunate defeat at the hands of the local gridiron legion. The contest promises to fairly team with excitement and, as well as the remaining evening, the playing of "Corky" Caulkins will drill his team in the range.

Following the game, the team will be in great condition for the game against the Cub Lajoy outfit, which is scheduled for next Sunday.

DISAVOWED BY GERMANY

Denies Responsibility for Sinking of the Steamship Arabic.

Accedes to Demands of Washington for Settlement of Case.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Germany has completely acceded to the American demands for a settlement of the Arabic case. The imperial government, in a letter presented by its ambassador, Count Bernstorff, to Secretary Lansing, disavows the sinking of the vessel, announces that it has notified the submarine commander who made the attack, expressed regret for the loss of the lives and agrees to pay an indemnity to the families.

Official Washington was both gratified and relieved by the diplomatic victory. The communication delivered by the ambassador pursuant to general instructions from his government, was a complete demonstration that there would be no more submarine controversies between the United States and Germany. The document reveals that stringent orders have been given to the German navy to prevent a recurrence of such incidents as the Arabic.

Since this case embraces the principles for which President Wilson contended in his notes following the torpedoing of the Lusitania, and the Paluba, the concessions made by Germany to the American viewpoint were generally regarded as paving the way for amicable settlement of all the cases which have threatened a severance of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Count von Bernstorff left here last night happy over the results of his work, expressing the hope that relations between Germany and the United States would continue to improve.

Great Britain Next. With the settlement of the Arabic controversy, the dispatch to Great Britain of the long delayed American note on interference with trade, expected within a few days. President Wilson has consistently refused to send this communication while the issues with Germany were pending, because it would be interpreted as a recognition of the German position.

On the action which the United States took with one set of belligerents depended its own conformity to Germany's position on the issues with the United States. It is known, feels free to press Great Britain for a modification of the orders in council and restrictions of American trade.

It was not until the German ambassador submitted his letter yesterday that the change in the relations between Germany and the United States became definite. Until that time the suggestions which Count von Bernstorff had made were considered unsatisfactory. In New York last Saturday the ambassador had submitted a draft of a letter on the Arabic case, which did not include admission of liability and agreement to pay indemnity. Its terms were not acceptable to either President Wilson or Secretary Lansing, and he came to Washington at the request of Mr.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Ear Marks of a Competent Nurse

WHEN there is a good nurse caring for the patient, careful examination by the doctor elicits no crumbs under the covers, no medicine exhibits and no seeping ulcers on the what-not and no suggestive odor of Oriental incense in the deadly sick-room atmosphere. Even the air is kept fresh.

The one sign of a competent nurse that has never failed is this: She keeps the patient's tongue and teeth and we will tell you whether your nurse was well trained.

A good nurse is one who knows how to make her patient comfortable. Indeed, that is a nurse's whole duty. Many invalids do not know what real comfort is, because they have never employed a thoroughly trained nurse. The trained nurse habit grows on you; once you try one on suspicion she kind of spoils you—always afterward you wonder after her whether you can afford her or not. She makes you so comfortable and sweet and clean!

Deliver us forever from the old, experienced, practical nurse who fears to change the patient's sheets or nightgown for fear the poor thing will "take cold." Who surrounds the patient with divers and sundry barriers to keep off drafts—so the doctor has to tread his way to the bedside through a maze of quilts, towels and old clothes! Who talks of "living tissue" and "inward fever," of "turning" and "outward" and "attacks of neurology." Who is forever wanting "something to raise the gas!"

A good nurse never knows a single thing about what would be a good thing to take for that trouble. She has no remedies to suggest, having received no instruction in prescribing.

Whether your trouble is sciatica, lumbago or the dreaded articular rheumatism, the answer is the same. You must treat it through the blood. That is the only way to rid the system of uric acid, purify the blood and revitalize the nerves. If the blood is freed from impurities, rheumatism must go. This in short is the exact knowledge gained by the research laboratories of the S. S. S. Co., in Atlanta. There tests have been made for thirty years. They know what rheumatism is. They know that S. GERMAN FORCES GAIN FOOTHOLD IN SERBIA

GERMANS ATTEMPT TO REGAIN LOST POSITIONS BY DESPERATE BOMBARDMENT AND ATTACKS

REPULSED AT EVERY POINT, SAY FRENCH

Four Successive Counter Charges Fail of Success, Declares Report.

Intense Artillery Fire Kept Up All Night By Germans.

Attacks Most Stubborn Held in Check By French Troops.

Paris, Oct. 7, 2:30 p. m.—The Germans bombarded violently last night all the French front to the north of La Scarpe and at the same time delivered four counter-attacks against the positions recently conquered by the French near Souchez. They were repulsed at all points. There were further intense artillery exchanges at other points on the front.

This information was given out by the French war office this afternoon. In the Champagne district last evening the Germans delivered a series of stubborn attacks against the positions lost by them to the French to the north of Toul. These attacks everywhere failed and the Germans suffered heavy losses.

Damaged. At Eparges the French exploded two mines, causing serious damage to German works. The text of the communication follows: "The enemy last night bombarded violently all our front to the north of La Scarpe. They undertook four successive counter-attacks against the positions recently conquered by us in the forests to the west of the road between Souchez and Angres. Here they were completely repulsed. There have been intense bombardments in which both sides took part to the south of the River Somme; in the sectors of Amiens, Dancourt and (Continued on page 5, second column.)

BRITISH STEAMER ATTACKED AT SEA

San Melito Fired Upon on Voyage to South America; One Killed.

Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 7.—The British freight steamer San Melito arrived here today from Fuzum, Mex., and reported that she had been attacked at sea by an unknown vessel.

The captain of the San Melito reported that his vessel was attacked in the night, and that both sides exchanged gunfire. One sailor was killed and six were wounded. The vessel was damaged but managed to escape.

SERVED FIVE YEARS; NO CRIME COMMITTED

Man Released Who Counterfeited Notes of Georgia State Bank.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 7.—Gross S. Edson of St. Louis, a book agent, was ordered released from the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth yesterday, where he has served five years for a crime he did not commit.

Edson was arrested in St. Louis in 1910 on a $20 bank note issued in 1907 on a Savannah, Ga., bank. He was convicted in the United States district court of issuing counterfeit money and sentenced to eight years in prison on four counts.

A habeas corpus proceeding to get him out of the penitentiary on technical grounds was brought recently by Leavenworth attorney S. H. Harvey, deputy United States district attorney, examining the indictment which Edson was convicted. He learned Edson was accused of counterfeiting a Georgia state bank bill, which was issued in 1867 when state banks were permitted to issue bank notes. It was not the money of the United States government at all and therefore was not a crime under the Federal laws. Harvey placed the case before Judge John C. Pollock and he ordered the immediate release of the prisoner.

HOOSIER POET 62 YEARS OLD; INDIANS TAKE A HOLIDAY

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

HOOSIER POET IS HONORED

Indiana Takes Holiday on Occasion of Birthday of Riley.

Climax of Celebration Will Be Banquet Attended By Prominent Men.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7.—Indiana awoke today for a holiday. It is not a holiday to be celebrated with noise-making and parades, but one to be observed quietly in the home and school. It is James Whitcomb Riley's birthday, and the Hoosier state is leading the nation in paying homage to the poet.

The climax of the celebration comes tonight in a banquet tendered Mr. Riley by his friends. The guest list includes many distinguished names. Every school in every section of the country have come assurances that the Hoosier poet will be honored in their locality.

Showered With Congratulations. For the past two weeks Mr. Riley has been showered with letters and telegrams and poems congratulating him on his birthday. The poet reads all of them. His happiness over these tributes is patent to all who see him. "It is so good to be alive," he said yesterday, after reading a big stack of the messages. "I will try to answer every one of these."

Local newspapers have run columns of poems sent to them expressing esteem in which Mr. Riley is held. Hundreds of these humble offerings of the poet have been poured out their love for him. Some of their efforts are poor (Continued on page 5, fourth column.)

ORE SHIPPING IN THE BALTIC IS TIED UP

Stockholm, Oct. 7, via London.—Iron ore shipping is completely tied up, owing to rumors that a British submarine has mined the waterway in the Baltic between Trelleborg, Sweden, and Sassnitz, Germany. Twenty large and small German steamers laden with iron and wood are anchored in Swedish waters.

For the last two days ferries belonging to the Swedish state railways have been unable to cross the Baltic in the service between Trelleborg and Sassnitz. Traffic at Trelleborg is seriously congested and no German mail has arrived recently. Swedish shipping companies have decided to paint the national colors on the hulls of ships to avert danger arising from mistakes of identity.

The situation is as grave as well could be. The hour has come for the British government to break its inexplicable silence and tell the nation that vast and imperious are its needs in men.

NINE DEPUTIES HURT RESISTING STRIKERS

Trouble Occurs at Plant of Michigan-Alkali Plant at Detroit.

Detroit, Oct. 7.—Nine deputy sheriffs and three striking employees of the Michigan Alkali company were injured last night in a fight which started when about 200 strikers attempted to force their way through the gates of the plant. One officer and his arm dislocated and his head cut, and another received a laceration of the hand in the arm. Injuries to the strikers consisted of cuts and bruises inflicted by the deputies' fists and clubs.

The men, all laborers, walked out yesterday demanding an increase of wages from $1.75 to $2.10 a day. The night, when the shifts changed, they stormed the gates. The deputies on guard, at first used their fists and sticks to repel the attack, but in the end were obliged to draw their revolvers. They fired several volleys over the heads of the crowd, which did not disperse, however, until the deputies were reinforced by a squad of city policemen.

MIMIC ATTACK MADE ON BOSTON DEFENSES

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—While the main part of the Atlantic fleet is engaged in war maneuvers along the whole Atlantic coast, a detachment of torpedo boat destroyers was detailed today to participate in a mimic attack on the coast defenses of this city.

On the theory that the enemy had landed an army north of Boston and was preparing for a direct naval assault upon the harbor defenses, the main forts were called upon to sum up their powers of defense. Buoys, channel markers and lighthouse illuminations were thrown into use to hamper the approach of the hostile fleet.

Great Fire at Bombay. Berlin, Oct. 7, via London to Sayville.—It is reported from Bombay that a great fire occurred on Sept. 6, not the money of the United States government at all and therefore was not a crime under the Federal laws. Harvey placed the case before Judge John C. Pollock and he ordered the immediate release of the prisoner.

NEWS OF BULGARIA'S PARTICIPATION IN THE WAR EXPECTED AT ANY MOMENT

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS ARE BROKEN

Ministers of Allies, Stationed at Sofia, Demand Their Passports.

Former Premier Zaimis Is Forming New Cabinet in Greece.

Not Believed in England That Greeks Will Join Bulgaria.

 BRITISH CENSORS ARE WITHHOLDING NEWS. *****

New York, Oct. 7.—The London office of the Associated Press advises today by cable that thousands of words of dispatches from its correspondents in Sofia and western Bulgaria are being withheld by the British censors. *****

London, Oct. 7.—Sillies having broken off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, news is anxiously expected of that nation's participation in the war on the side of the Central powers. Her king and the late leader of her government being at odds, Greece is forming a coalition cabinet, pending the construction of which her policy will be obscure. There are no misgivings in England, however, that she will co-operate in any way with Bulgaria. The cabinet crisis has in no manner impeded the landing of allied troops at Saloniki and the fact that these forces are on Greek soil is considered the best guarantee that Greece will co-operate with the allies with the ultimate powers, with which Premier-elect Zaimis is in sympathy.

Declaring Battles. Champagne in the west and Dvinsk in the east are now the scenes of the struggles most likely to bring decisive results. The Germans are still engaged in concentration against Dvinsk, evidently bent on a supreme effort to take the city. The Russians, however, are delivering hard blows all along the line and the British and French press proclaim the Russian general Brusilov "re- (Continued on page 5, second column.)

PRESIDENT TO BE MARRIED

Will Wed Mrs. Norman Galt the First Week in December.

Ceremony Will Be Private at Washington Home of the Bride.

Washington, Oct. 7.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, whose engagement was announced last night at the White House, will be married probably the first week in December. The ceremony will be private, only a few close friends being invited, and will take place at the home of the bride on New Hampshire avenue near Dupont circle.

Plans for the honeymoon have not been completed, but it was indicated today that the trip might include a visit to the San Diego exposition. The president also has been invited many times, closes Dec. 4.

Third to Take Bride. For the third time in American history a president of the United States will take a bride. In choosing to have the ceremony performed, not in the White House, but at the home of the bride, Mr. Wilson follows a precedent set by President Tyler, who was married in New York in the Church of the Ascension. President Cleveland, the only other chief executive to be married while in office, was married in the White House.

President Wilson and Mrs. Galt will make their first appearance together in public during the anniversary of their engagement tomorrow in New York, where they go to a house party given by the president's close friend (Continued on page 3, third column.)

Light fittings and other works of art will be taken first but it is stated that the government soon will have to seize all the copper in Germany.

ACCEPTS KING'S INVITATION TO FORM NEW GREEK CABINET

Former Premier Venizelos Outlines Policy on Balkan Situation.

Says Greece Will Stand By Her Alliance With Serbia.

Paris, Oct. 7.—A delayed dispatch from Athens gives an interview with Premier Venizelos just after the meeting of the cabinet just before he resigned.

"One thing is absolutely certain," said M. Venizelos, "Greece will abide by the terms of her alliance with Serbia, not only in letter but in spirit, to the last man and the last drachma. More, the Greece-Serbia treaty foresaw only the possibility of a Balkan war. When it was made, none could predict the present European conflict with all its widespread complications. But the spirit of alliance was one of mutual defense, and because the danger threatening our ally increased with unforeseen conditions, there is no excuse for hiding behind the verbiage of the treaty to escape the responsibility of our pledge."

TROOPS CROSS BORDERS OVER THREE RIVERS

Unconfirmed Reports Estimate Strength of Armies at 100,000 to 500,000.

Not Believed in London That Teutons Can Spare That Number.

Many Troops Needed to Check Russians Who Are Active.

Berlin, Oct. 7, via London, 4:05 p. m.—Large German and Austrian forces have invaded Serbia. The Teutonic troops have crossed the Drina, Save and Danube rivers at many places, the war office announced today. It is stated that the invading troops have established firm footholds on the other banks of the rivers.

The German announcement indicates that the invading movement is in progress along a large part of the boundary between Austria and Serbia. The Danube forms the border from the Roumanian frontier to Belgrade, the Save from Belgrade to the north-western corner of the country and the Drina runs along the western boundary to a point not far north of the Montenegrin line.

From 100,000 to 500,000 men, London, Oct. 7.—Reports, which remain unconfirmed, are to the effect that an Austro-German force, variously estimated at from 100,000 to 500,000 men, with 2,000 guns, is proceeding through Serbia. Military observers here, however, are not so sure. On some points they would be nearer the truth, declaring that there is no evidence of Teutonic heavy withdrawals of Teutonic troops from the Russian front, and that the western front every day is demanding new drafts.

Observers say that the Germans are not in a position to withdraw many troops from the Russian side as the armies of Emperor Nicholas are the initiative in the fighting. On some sectors Petrograd states that the Russians already have succeeded in doing this. Besides, it is asserted that the Germans are not holding Field Marshal Hindenburg's drive against Dvinsk for several weeks and inflicted very serious losses on him. Hindenburg is now reported to be making another attempt to force the way through the outer defenses of the city.

FOUR KILLED WHEN POWDER EXPLODES

Large Quantity of Explosive Ready for Allies Lets Go at Aetna Works.

Emporium, Pa., Oct. 7.—Four men were instantly killed, another probably fatally hurt and six seriously injured, it was stated today, in the explosion last night at the plant of the Aetna Explosive company. A large quantity of smokeless powder, prepared for shipment today to the allies, exploded from some yet undetermined cause, blew the two-story surrounding country for miles around, and scattered the mill, which has been closely guarded day and night, in all directions. The explosion was accidental. The investigation is being continued, however. The dead all came here from Wilmington, Del.

The plant, which was recently erected at a reported cost of $1,000,000, consisted of a large number of small buildings, of which the wrecked one was one of the largest. Officials fix the property loss at $15,000.

Summary of the War News

The long expected Teutonic drive into Serbia has begun. Berlin today announced that large forces of Germans and Austrians have crossed the Drina, Save and Danube rivers and firmly established themselves on the Serbian side of those streams.

The Teutonic purpose is generally conceded to be a march through Serbia involving the crushing of Serbia military power. This would leave the way open to Bulgaria, whose assistance either secured the Central powers' march on Constantinople. Serbia is to be assisted in repelling the Teutonic effort by French and British troops, some of whom are already on Serbian soil.

Violent assaults last night by the Germans in efforts to retake the positions the French captured from them north of Toul in the Champagne district were repulsed with heavy losses to the Teutonic forces, it was announced from Paris.

Alexander Zaimis is forming a new Greek cabinet in which leaders of the opposition will be given representation, according to Athens dispatches. Former Premier Gounaris, Rallis, Dragoumis and Trikoupi will be members of the coalition ministry, it is declared.

London opinion inclines to the belief that Greece, despite the fall of the Venizelos cabinet, will be found in the end on the side of the Entente allies.

An interview with former Premier Venizelos given shortly before his break with King Constantine, leaves no doubt that under his premiership Serbia in the present crisis supported Serbia in the present crisis.

Petrograd hears that there have been anti-war demonstrations of serious scope in Bulgarian districts. It is reported through Switzerland that considerable forces of Austrians and Germans have been drawn from the eastern front and sent to Hungary for the campaign against Serbia.

Field Marshal Liman von Sanders, who has been the German commander in the Turkish forces in Europe, has gone to Bulgaria.

SCANDINAVIAN AND ITALIAN BOOKS RECEIVED AT LIBRARY

The public library should be a popular place for foreign-speaking persons of Duluth during the next three months. A large number of Norwegian, Swedish and Italian books have been received for use here during the coming ninety days, and the library staff is eager to have the foreign element in the city take full advantage of their opportunities.

The Scandinavian books came here from the Hibbing public library, where they have been in circulation for the last three months, and the Italian books came from Nashua, Minn. All of these books are loaned to the libraries and make the circuits.

The books include many of the best English, French and American authors in translation in addition to the authors in their respective native tongues. While most of the works are fiction, there are a number of historical books of great value. Among the books in Swedish translation are volumes from Victor Hugo, Jack London, James Fenimore Cooper, and among the Swedish authors are Almqvist, Edlin, Strindberg, Lagerlof, Rosas and Tappelin. Among the books in Norwegian translation are some of Dickens, Scotts, and the Norwegian authors include Knag, Dahl, Bjørn, Thorsen, Jensen and Lie. The Italian books include Dumas, translated from the French, and Ricciardi, Pellico, Monico and Orsi. There has been a great deal of interest among the foreign population of the city in the library, especially among the Scandinavians, and books in Swedish and Norwegian. The Italians have been harder to get interested although there have been numerous inquiries from persons of that nationality recently regarding the prospects of procuring new books in their language.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted Its Growth With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barb's Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieves itching and scalp humors and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair."

How to Rub Out Wrinkles and Other Beauty Secrets

Most important to the average woman is how to get rid of those tell-tale signs of age—wrinkles and crow's feet. Much has been written on the subject, but the only treatment worth while is the one that does the work. Any woman can prepare a wrinkle cream in a few minutes that will certainly give Old Father Time an awful tussle. Women who have tried it pronounce it almost magical in results. It is very simple and easy to prepare. Get from any drug store about two ounces of powdered opol, dissolve it gradually in half a pint of hot water. Then add a tablespoonful of glycerine. This will give you a wrinkle cream that can be used every night. Wash the great authority on the bacteriology in the care of the hair, says we have much to thank this away at the roots, causing it to become lifeless, fall out and become these hair troubles will do well to get rid of their drug store about two ounces of opol, dissolve it gradually in half a pint of hot water. Then add a tablespoonful of glycerine. This will give you a wrinkle cream that can be used every night. Wash the head thoroughly get rid of excess oil, dirt and greasy accumulations. For a clean and expensive head wash there is nothing that can equal a teaspoonful of egg dissolved in a cup of hot water. DECLARE ROADWAY TO BE IMPASSABLE

Part of Grand Avenue Mire Hole, Say Business Men.

The stretch of roadway west of the end of the macadamized roadway on Grand Avenue from Eighty-first avenue to the intersection of Ninety-third and Ninety-fifth avenues is impassable, and business men of West Duluth, automobiles have ceased to attempt to operate between the points. Residents of New Duluth, Gary and enjoying a little recreation are now content with riding on ordinary passenger trains. The mires are now having their supplies brought to them by delivery rigs of wholesale houses. Instead the packages are sent by freight or express. "It is a business man this morning," said a business man this morning, "We can get no remedy from the city. The commissioners tell us the city is unable to do anything as long as this wet weather continues. We, who located here in the western suburb, must now suffer for the delinquency of the city during the last summer. Failure to provide a means of keeping the road in shape for traffic has brought this upon us. There does not seem to be any remedy in sight all this fall or even this winter." The long period of wet weather has delayed the work on the road. At least the stretch of fair weather is required, the Northern Pacific railroad tracks at the intersection of Ninety-third and Ninety-fifth avenues will not be given a proper chance of settling in this kind of weather. The city will be in charge of the work. The fills will have to settle considerably before they will be safe for paving or street cars.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces will last you a long time. No matter how much dandruff you have, this simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement

SUES TO RECOVER FOR COMMISSIONS ON STOCK

Suit to recover $2,480 commission on the sale of stock was started in district court yesterday afternoon, by George A. Merritt against the Diamond Calk Horse Shoe company of West Duluth and Otto Swanson, president of the concern. The plaintiff alleges that in July, 1914, he was engaged as an agent to sell $50,000 worth of the company's capital stock and that the agreement entered into was that he was to receive a 5 per cent commission. The stock was disposed of but all that Mr. Merritt received was $20. He is suing for the balance claimed to be due.

WILL BUILD NEW LIBRARY

West End Will Receive

Next Spring.

Carnegie Will Foot Bills;
City to Give $3,000
Yearly.

A $30,000 Carnegie library for the West end will be erected next spring, according to an announcement made this morning by Mayor Prince. "We will hold a competition among local architects for the plans," he said, "and the contract will be awarded during this winter. Everything will be prepared for active construction work the first thing next spring. The building should be ready for occupancy by the time the schools open next fall." During the next few weeks Mayor Prince will introduce a resolution accepting the $30,000 offer of Andrew Carnegie and agreeing to the provisions that the city appropriate $3,000 a year for the maintenance of the building. Last summer the council adopted a resolution appropriating an amount for 1916 and a certified copy of the measure was mailed to Mr. Carnegie at the time. In addition, the council has purchased two lots on the northeast corner of Twenty-third avenue west and Second street, so that all preliminary work has been done by the city.

The architect submitting the most favorable plan will be given the contract to supervise the construction of the library and bids will then be advertised for the building. The new building will be modeled somewhat after the library in West Duluth, which was also erected by Mr. Carnegie.

Superior district. The Great Northern ore on the Mesaba range is the only single holding of the magnitude named and has probably been on the market since the cancellation of the United States Steel corporation lease. President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, one of the country's leading authorities on iron ore sources, who was in Superior today, expressed the opinion that the Midvale option was upon a number of independent holdings on the Mesaba, Cuyuna and Michigan ranges. There is considerable unsold ore on the Mesaba range, and in the Iron River district of Michigan, and new bodies are being constantly located on the Cuyuna ore.

The Great Northern has a large ore dock and would be able to readily deliver ore from its mines via lines from the Mesaba and down the lakes. The Cuyuna range docks and railway terminals could readily be made adequate to handle as much of the tonnage as would come from the new range in case part of the Midvale option is on Cuyuna ore.

THOUSANDS COMING TO SETTLE HERE

Albert Berg Sees Great Future for Northern Minnesota.

Albert Berg, former secretary of state, now engaged in the farm land business in St. Paul, is a guest of the Holland today. Mr. Berg is a believer in the future development of Northern Minnesota, declaring today that it is this part of the state that will show a tremendous development within the next two decades, as the southern part of Minnesota was practically standing still. "There will be literally thousands of settlers and farmers coming to this portion of the state within the next few years," said Mr. Berg. "The man who holds land here cannot go wrong. EATON EXPECTS TO GET TOPEKA

Third Class Cruiser May Take Place of the Gopher.

Capt. Guy A. Eaton, commander of the Minnesota naval militia, who has just returned from a trip to the national capital, declared today that Minnesota had an excellent chance of getting the third-class cruiser Topeka to replace the U. S. S. Gopher. "Secretary Daniels gave Paymaster Engels and myself considerable encouragement," said Capt. Eaton, "and we believe that a cruiser—in all probability the Topeka—will be stationed at the Head of the Lakes." First reports were to the effect that the third-class cruiser Des Moines was to be sent to Duluth from the Atlantic seaboard, but the Topeka is said to be even better equipped for naval militia purposes than the Des Moines. "The Des Moines and the Topeka are almost identical," said Capt. Eaton, "but the Topeka will be easier for us to handle. The naval department is trying to equip the larger divisions of state militia with boats of the Sacramento class. The Sacramento is the best gunboat in the United States navy today, and is stationed on the Lower Pacific coast. "I started out by asking for the Sacramento, but if we get the Topeka we will be very well satisfied."

Inspect the Cruiser. The Topeka is now at the Portsmouth navy yards, and the Duluth men inspected her on their trip. She has a displacement of 2,255 tons and with her old engines made sixteen knots. New engines will be installed, in case she is brought to Duluth.

"The Topeka will accommodate the 400 enlisted men and 30 officers in the naval militia as well or better than the Gopher cares for 150 men," said Capt. Eaton. "She is 251 feet on the water line and is equipped with two steam launchers. She probably will have four 4-inch guns, four 3-pounders and a salute battery."

HAWKS AND CROWS DESTROYING GAME BIRDS IN NORTHERN WOODS

Duluth Hunter Believes County or State Should Pay Bounty on Carnivorous Air Fowl That Are Surely Wiping Out Partridge and Grouse; Moose and Deer More Plentiful Than Ever.

Chicken hawks and crows have done as much to destroy partridges and grouse in Northern Minnesota this year as the rain and the damp weather, according to hunters who have for nearly a quarter of a century enjoyed game-bird shooting in the vicinity of Duluth. John McLennon, 11 East Superior street, who has a modern hunting lodge on his 240-acre farm about twenty miles northeast of Duluth, has just returned from a ten days' sojourn in the forest, where he entertained a number of friends in quest of game birds. The land on which his lodge is located lies along the route of the old Swallow & Hopkins logging railroad and was homesteaded by him twenty-five years ago. Since then he has hunted in that vicinity every year. "There are no game birds this year," said Mr. McLennon. "As has already been published in the Herald, the constant rains during the breeding season and the consequent dampness that followed, killed off many of the young and caused many of the partridges and grouse to starve." "But there is a new evil which the sportsmen will have to contend with, and which is having just as serious effect on game birds as the weather. I speak of crows and chicken hawks. The crows destroy many eggs every year, and the hawks and crows pick off the young birds that are hatched and get to any size that are picked off by the carnivorous birds." "There are more crows and hawks in Northern Minnesota today than during any period in the last quarter of a century. The woods northeast of here are literally alive with them. "With the game bird supply so badly depleted this year there is grave danger that partridge and grouse will be wiped out completely unless something radical is done. The weather, of course, cannot be changed by mortals; but the people can wipe out the chicken hawks and crows. I believe it would be a partridge and grouse for several years and in the meantime have the state or county, or both, pay a bounty on crows and hawks. The latter have simply got to be killed off and the quicker the better.

Much Big Game. "There is a great abundance of moose and deer this fall. During our stay at my lodge we counted many of them every day and they seemed to be tame. In fact, I never saw as many moose and deer since I have been hunting in the north woods. There sure will be some slaughter next month when the big game season opens."

THREE LITTLE GIRLS TIRE OF LADYSMITH

Take Pleasure Junket to Duluth; Sent Home By Police.

"Ladysmith, Wis., is such a little town, and there never is anything to do there," the three adventurous misses of that "metropolis" stole away and came to Duluth. They were Daisy Phillips, 17; her sister, Yula, 15, and the girl next door,

Margaret Sheppard, 16. They became so tired of Ladysmith, with its stinky board sidewalks and muddy streets, that they ran away together in the middle of the night and came to Duluth. They saw Mary Pickford and for "Philly" and "Philly" Sheppard came to Duluth. They found a policeman who took them to the hotel where the girls were staying, and then they all went to police headquarters. The girls went back to Ladysmith and the board sidewalks last night.

Traveled to Germany With a Bottle of Peruna

Everybody Who Is Troubled With Catarrh Should Take Peruna

which did me much good. I decided to see my old home in Germany again, after an absence of forty years, and bought a bottle of Peruna to take with me on my way. Whenever I would have symptoms of catarrh I would take Peruna and so was very well while going over. I was in Germany nine months, and during that time had no attacks. I was then sixty-six years old. Last winter I took cold and got catarrh of the head. I took Peruna and was helped. Every body who is troubled with catarrh should take Peruna.

Another letter: "I followed your good advice and took one bottle of Peruna. It helped me, then I bought another one and used only a part of it. I am rid of the catarrh and thank you very much for your good advice. I will always keep Peruna in the house and if I hear of any one suffering from catarrh I certainly will recommend your medicine."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now procure Peruna Tablets.

Mr. August Haase, St. Anthony, DuBois Co., Indiana, writes: "I was troubled much with catarrh for several years. I was advised to take Peruna and used two bottles of it,

Romance of Stage and Stock Exchange

MRS. WILLIAM STACKPOLE.

A romance of the stage and the stock exchange was the marriage of William Stackpole, a New York broker, formerly a member of the chorus in "The Lady of the Shallop." They met soon after she went on the stage. The bride came from Cambridge, which is the home of Mr. Stackpole's family. His family is prominent socially, and he is a member of many New York clubs.

New Day for Women Dawning

Keynote of Addresses at Opening of Minnesota Woman Suffrage Association's Annual Convention.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new day, a day of political freedom for women, is dawning in the United States and with it will come sweeping social reforms which will aid in stamping out drunkenness, prostitution and crime and will increase the number of schools and churches. This was the keynote of addresses today at the opening session of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association's annual convention, which will continue three days.

Several proposed amendments to the constitution of the association will be taken up tomorrow. The election of officers and executive committee will be held tomorrow. The election of officers and executive committee will be held tomorrow.

A public meeting will be held tonight. Laboring men and their representatives will be invited to attend the meeting and discuss with the women the relations of labor to the suffrage movement.

Right Virtually Won. Speaker at the opening meeting today said the fight for equal suffrage in the United States virtually had been won and that in a comparatively short time national enfranchisement would be granted.

They pointed to the number of states that already have given full or limited suffrage to women and argued that other states, to retain their present status, will ultimately follow in these footsteps.

To arguments advanced by opponents of equal suffrage that the woman's place is at home, Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon of Evansville, Ind., one of the principal speakers of the day, said: "Woman's place, primarily, is the home, but the home has been forced into politics. The welfare of every mother's home and every mother's children has been forced into politics. Every home and every child is affected by laws, the enforcement of which depends upon politicians of the lowest type.

Necessity to Protect Home. "The home, with its crime and disease and rotten politics, with its dying mothers and suffering mothers, forced into politics. We could get no relief and so went to the legislature for enactment of a much needed law. I found I had to fight the politicians who were opposed to the law because it would injure their slum owners and slum bosses. And I learned in this legislative battle the shadow of a doubt that the woman's welfare depends upon these politicians, and that to protect the home it is necessary for the mother to enter politics.

"Recently one of the best men in my age said: 'We don't want to see our women mixed in politics because we couldn't bear to see anything touch the purity or the sweetness and gentleness of our women. Their vote will help only in proportion to the purity they bring to the ballot.'

"We must prove to the men that if we can safely mingle with our butchers, grocers, coal men, bankers and lawyers at home and at places of business, we can still retain our gentleness when mingling with the politicians. The 'eternal feminine' can never change because of physical facts that have rooted the love of home and the maternal instinct so deep in woman's heart that nothing can eradicate it."

The wedding of Miss Loeb and Mr. Hertz will take place this evening at the home of the bride's parents.

Suffragists Descend on Esch

Wisconsin Congressman Refuses to Support Federal Constitutional Amendment But Favors Suffrage.

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 7.—Discussion on how you may make to convert you into a Wisconsin that suffrage is a good thing, outside pressure of a United States constitutional amendment, called "Solidarity," was the keynote of the convention held last night at the Esch hotel.

Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, Miss Zona Gale of Portage, and Miss Lillian Stearns of Milwaukee, all formidable suffragists, failed to get a satisfactory declaration from Congressman John Esch, when they moved on his office in a body.

Not in Federal Amendment. The suffragists fairly stormed the congressman's rooms and demanded that he declare himself. He made the following declaration: "I voted for the suffrage referendum in Wisconsin and will do so again if it comes up. But my district voted against it by 7,000. I therefore voted against the constitutional amendment when it came up in congress."

The suffragists were disappointed. They said that the congressman's declaration was a disappointment. They said that the congressman's declaration was a disappointment.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

"Do More Than You're Paid For."

The number of people who are smart enough, and yet who do not seem to know enough to make every day tell something for their advancement, are legion. "It" said a buyer in a large department requiring nearly a hundred persons. "I could place more dependents upon my assistants than that part of my work which is most wearing—attention to details—would be reduced to the smallest amount compatible with my responsibility for the whole. I employ certain men for certain tasks. They are instructed in their full duty, and when they are to perform these duties because I drive them to them, I am never free from the responsibility of every single particular of the business.

"When a man who can be depended on to do all that is expected of him, and maybe a little more, falls to your lot as an assistant, he does not linger long in a humble position. Men worth anything do not have to drag along any more today than they did fifty years ago."

I know that those who work are not always of the same mind as to their work. One cannot bring exactly the same enthusiasm to a rather monotonous round of duties every day of the year. But it is difficult to puzzle out the attitude of those who require constantly to be reminded or prodded into doing their regular daily duties.

Complaints of "not getting ahead" usually come from this class. The old admonition, "Do a little more than you are paid for," is good advice, and, sooner or later, certainly doing less than one is paid for, or doing what one does only after being prodded daily into doing it, will never bring advancement.

THERE IS NO REFORMATORY MAGIC IN A LAW.

Kansas has state prohibition. It is, by all accounts, the most successful of all the states in enforcing prohibition.

Yet we read that the attorney general's office in that state is thinking of decreeing that the names of all those who receive liquor by express from outside the state shall be printed in the local papers.

Not to speak of the fact that Kansas has a good many arrests for drunkenness, this seems to indicate that not even after many years, in this most successfully prohibition of all prohibition states, is the miracle of making men sober by law yet an accomplished fact.

The suggestion opens interesting possibilities. The Lawrence Gazette asks: "But where will the newspaper be found which will dare to print such a list?"

The Emporia Gazette, which thinks the publicity idea a good one, says that it is one paper that will print the list. "It has printed the personal property tax-returns," says the Gazette, "and lived through that storm, and is willing to tackle the booze lists without batting an eye."

Doubtless. But printing the "booze lists" is a very different thing from printing the personal property tax list.

If a man known to be wealthy dodges his taxes, that's everybody's business. It is not only proper, but for the public good,
that the fact should be published.

But if a man in a prohibition state patronizes the express companies and gets in a case of beer for modest and temperate home use, whose business is that? No-body's, of course.

There are papers that would publish such a list. Maybe the Emporia Gazette is one of them. If so, it isn't anything it should boast about.

The democracy of our national customs is embodied by the leaving of the world series championship to be decided between Philadelphia and Boston.

BETTER A BAD EXCUSE THAN NONE AT ALL.

Elmer E. Rittenhouse, president of the Life Extension institute, seizes upon the occasion of the "preparedness" discussion to remind us unpleasantly of the fact that mortality statistics show an alarming increase in deaths at the ages of forty-five to fifty-five, in the prime of life—deaths from diseases of the kidneys, heart and arteries due to bad living habits.

"If this country is to prepare," he says
in effect, "one good way would be to safeguard its people against these new ravages which are taking our ablest and best in the years of their greatest usefulness. If this country is to give the thought to national defense it seems inclined to give it, let some of that thought be directed to such internal defenses as better living habits that will preserve the manhood we need to hurl at the enemy."

The warning is not new. Only the occasion of it is new. And the occasion used is as good as another. So long as something is done to lessen this loss from premature deaths, so long as some steps are taken to preserve useful lives, the excuse for the campaign matters little; though it does seem that it would be more sensible to save these lives for useful purposes rather than to save them for sacrifices to the barbarous god of war.

There ARE far more deaths in this country these days of men between forty-five and fifty-five than there ought to be. There ARE far more men of these ages than there should be whose usefulness is being impaired by the diseases that have doomed them.

And this condition, whether we consider it because we want to keep these men to shoulder guns and go to war or because we want them to keep right on building up the country as they are doing, is due to very plain and unmistakable causes: Intemperance in drink and food—far more to food intemperance than many realize; overwork; too tense living—with too little relaxation; worry—which is due to the loss of a saving sense of proportion; getting into a mental and physical rut; too close concentration along narrow lines; lack of exercise and fresh air and the healing outdoors.

And the remedies are as clear as the causes: Temperance in diet, drink and work; the cultivation of outside interests—interests outside the channels of work; the cultivation of a well-rounded, well-poised mind; the cultivation of a sound, strong body by plenty of sleep, plenty of fresh air, plenty of moderate outdoor exercise.

In other words, since the ailments that are increasing adult mortality are due to abnormal and unwholesome living, the cure
—or prevention, for after these diseases fasten themselves there is no cure, only a relief and a staving off of the inevitable—
is normal, simple, wholesome living.

And if people would take notice of the peril, inform themselves of the causes, and govern themselves accordingly, it would be a good thing for the country and for them, whether they did it to prepare themselves
for war or for peace.

But it is doubtful whether abstinent converted into an explosive will do much damage it could without such a change.

THE BALKANS.

The whirlpool of war boils terribly in Balkans, where the war ostensibly began with plucky little Serbia as the innocent cause.

Bulgaria, defying Russia, has elected to side with the central powers. Roumania maintains a mysterious and precarious neutrality. Greece, which had virtually declared for war against Germany by siding with Premier Venizelos, finds its king taking affairs in his own hands and manifesting German sympathies.

Bulgaria, demanding Macedonia, turns threateningly toward Serbia. Allied troops are landing at Saloniki in Macedonia. Expecting Greek aid in Serbia's defense—Greece is bound by treaty to help Serbia against Balkan enemies—they seem doomed to disappointment if Constantine has his way, and so will have to land many more men if their help is to become important.

The war seethes in this pathway from East to West, where Russia seeks an outlet to the world, where Germany seeks an outlet to the East, and where the allies seek to unlock the blocked way to Russia's relief and Germany's confusion.

With Bulgaria threatening her from the south, Serbia finds Germany threatening her from the north, and the situation calls for a mighty effort by the allies in Macedonia, in the Dardanelles, in Russia and in France.

An appalling mixture of motives and influences goes to the scene. Popular sympathy in the doubtful Balkans is with the Slav.
Yet the rulership is Teuton. Ferdinand of Bulgaria is a son of Prince Augustus of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha; Constantine of Greece is married to the kaiser's sister;
Ferdinand of Roumania is a Hohenzollern, married to a German princess.

A long diplomatic struggle for the Balkans seems nearing an end, with allied diplomacy apparently the loser; though in a large degree the Teuton diplomacy that has won consisted of the kinship of the rulers
and the diplomacy of military success wrought by Mackensen and von Hindenburg.

The war caldron boils more fiercely every minute. Lingerings neutrals one by one are being drawn into the seething pot.
The war is just beginning.

If the style tendencies continue as at present,
we may yet see stage choruses outfitted
in long skirts just as a matter of arousing curiosity.

THE POOREST METHOD OF SUICIDE YET SUGGESTED.

The suggestion of a new method of suicide, one open only to editors, comes in a roundabout way from one of those country newspaper geniuses whose wit and wisdom sooner or later comes into the hands of some slothful exchange editor and thereafter travels under the vague and dishonored credit "exchange."

It is copied by the Louisville Courier-
Journal, which found it in the Clinton, Kentucky, Gazette, where it appeared as a quotation from an unnamed "exchange":

"At the present writing we have no desire to hurl ourselves into Abraham's bosom, but if we ever do we wouldn't pull the trigger, as many do. Neither would we chop our head off with an amateur guillotine, eat a square meal of concentrated live, sit down on the lap of a buzzaaw, smoke a cigarette or call a Kentuckian a liar or a moon judge of whisky."

The paper simply got out an edition of our paper in which we would strive to be the best of our ability to print the plain, square-told truth about people, as we understand it, and then wait the end.

There wouldn't be any doubt about the coming of the end, or of its coming swiftly.
But of all the methods of suicide yet proposed, probably about the most unpleasant is death at the hands of an infuriated mob.

And that is what an editor would get—
and deserve, too—if he published an issue of his paper devoted to telling the plain truth about everybody in town.

But what an interesting issue it would be!

In view of all the good intentions that have gone wrong in Europe, that part of the world ought to be able to furnish a certain locality with an entire new pavement.

Kid After His First Job.
Austin Herald: We always feel sorry for the kid who has to go out into the world and seek his first job. He never shows to the best advantage. He is at that stage of growth where he is neither frog nor polly-wog. No period will perhaps ever seem so dark and dreary again. He feels that everyone is against him, that he was born too late, that life isn't worth living, and the very sunbabe but adds to his torment. He is in a mood where everything more tranquil than a tornado is an additional burden. When he corrects the place looking for a job, remember that it is one of his blackest days and don't turn him down with a gruff "No."

About Cabinets—No. 2

By Saragard.

Washington, Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The absurd suggestion of Theodore Roosevelt for secretary of the navy in the cabinet presided over by Woodrow Wilson caused me to take a glance at some of the administrations of the past, and I shall continue it in this paper. The word "cabinet" is not in the Constitution of the United States, but we find the term "executive departments" there, and we borrowed the distinction "cabinet" from England, whence came all our government politics. In the quarrel with Edwin M. Stanton, then secretary of war, and Sherman, then secretary of the treasury, who refused to speak to him or take his hand, and con-temporarily turned his back on him the day of the great parade down Pennsylvania avenue after the surrender of Joseph E. Johnston, Stanton pocketed the affront, and while the chief bully of his time, he always kept his master when he met him, as repeatedly he did.

We have had three secretaries of state
who were thoroughly and completely appointed men when they came to have true confidence in their chiefs. Each of the three expected to dominate the administration and be president in fact, if not in name.

The first of these was William H. Seward.
When he entered the cabinet he supposed that Mr. Lincoln was a coarse, rude, clumsy, ignorant and vulgar backwoodsman, absolutely unfitted for the office of president.
He was wrong. Lincoln, one of the shrewd-est observers of his or any other time, was well aware of the estimate of Seward, and held by his secretary of state, and of the treasury, for Chase had even less esteem for his chief than Seward.

Lincoln allowed the cabinet officers to do just as they pleased so long as their action related to matters of routine, and he allowed them to quarrel and quarrel with each other, but he would not allow them to do their conduct of important affairs met his approval. We never had a president, unless it was Woodrow Wilson, who paraded himself so little about minor things as Lincoln.
But when a great question arose, Lincoln would call the cabinet together, and he would take it alone, and he would take the members of the cabinet as mere clerks, as old Sherman said they were. A case in point was when Lincoln took the decision to suspend the habeas corpus act. He called the cabinet together, and he took the decision, and he called upon Mason and Seward of Seward's hands and managed it himself, thus escaping the charge of England and thus saving the union of states.

When Thomas F. Bayard left the senate to accept the position of secretary of the navy, the first cabinet of Grover Cleveland, he was thoroughly persuaded that he would run the whole show. He was wrong. He was taken any part in national politics. He had never had any dealings with Washington, and all, and that is a great pity, for had Grover Cleveland served half a dozen years in either house of congress, he would have been a very much of a president.

James G. Blaine was another very much astonished secretary of state when he found that Ben Harrison was a real president. Had Blaine known as much of Harrison as he learned by July, 1889, William B. Allison, and not Ben Harrison, would have been the nominee in 1892. The real president was every day that Garfield was the titular president, and he expected to rule Harrison and completely to rule Garfield, but Garfield was not only a real president, but Garfield
in intellect he was far more his superior in manhood. It was not a surprise, then, that those who knew him as a man of great deliberation and of great power, and who delivered himself of that spectacular resignation just before the Republican national convention of 1896, and who had nominated Harrison as he had Garfield, and who had own him as he had Garfield, but he was woefully mistaken.

Some folks think that William J. Bryan expected to dominate Woodrow Wilson. If he did, he too, disastrously missed his landing. Not Jackson or Lincoln, but Bryan landed, and he was more emphatically president than the man now in the White House.
And all of us are glad of that.

The Final Law.

Which lesson do the long years teach,
The years that roll so fast and fast?
Should all protect the rights of each,
Or each be slave to all?

Since growing freedom struck the hour
In many lands and climes
Where democracy had power
To choose its rulers and its laws,
Unending war mankind has waged,
Which dreams the nobler dream?
When we're with arms engaged Does freedom rule supreme?

Must still the state in wisdom rare
Its legislation give?
To tell us how and when and where Each man his life shall live?

Do states exist to regulate
Our actions hour by hour?
Majorities may be wrong,
And tyrants may be true,
Should thoughts of power possession
Take, and majorities be wrong,
God help the land when thus they make Minorities their law.

We hear the victims' feeble call:
Choose well the nobler plan:
Should each be but the slave of all,
Or all defend each man?

Titans conflict rage and die,
And nations rise and fall;
Few, fighting, know the reason why
They fight the fight at all;
Yet every thunderous gun that booms,
Each hurrying, screaming shell,
Proclaim aloud that danger looms
Where freedom loved to dwell.

Thus age by age its blood must spend,
Each answers to the call:
Should all the rights of each defend
Or each be slave to all?

When peace again broods o'er our lands,
When gone are war and strife,
Unanswered still the question stands:
Which is the nobler life?
And when the last war drum has throbbed,

When did we work is done,
When no more is sacked and robbed,
When governments are one,
Yet still the question will remain,
Fought age by age before:
The future age will find again
The riddle as of yore.

Which lesson do the long years teach,
The years that roll so fast and fast?
Should all protect the rights of each,
Or each be slave to all?

A Plan for Peace

From the Toronto News.

Alfred Philipson, of Toronto, superintending nonsectarian Reading Camp association, has sent to a number of papers in the United States copies of the following letter proposing conditions on which the United States might intervene on the side of the allies. He writes:

May I offer a suggestion which, if acted upon, might bring to an end the present European conflict, namely, that the United States urge the other neutral powers that they join them in intervening on the side of the Entente allies, provided
(1) That the Entente allies promise and agree to aid the neutral powers in the creation of a world parliament or the development of The Hague tribunal to this status
for the making of international laws regarding such subjects as consensual
opinion from time to time places within the scope of the Federal legislative body.

(2) That in order that the decisions of the said legislative body be duly honored and enforced, they further promise to contribute to the neutral powers in the creation of a world parliament or the development of The Hague tribunal to this status
for the making of international laws regarding such subjects as consensual
opinion from time to time places within the scope of the Federal legislative body.

(3) That the neutral powers agree to uphold the neutral powers in exacting similar promises from the Teutonic allies as one of the conditions of peace.

Should the United States succeed in according the co-operation of the Entente allies and the other neutral powers in this undertaking, it would confer untold blessing on future generations, as well as hasten
the end of the present war.

The present talk of peace seems Utopian
just now as the decrees of our one universal court have been set at naught and trampled upon by a strong nation, thus necessitating a temporary return to anarchy amongst nations. It is Utopian and peace without the power to compel refractory and grappling nations to respect the rights of peace and submit their disputes to arbitration. The non-existence of the force has permitted a grave outrage by a pirate nation, and this should never again be allowed. "Sopors of papers" must be committed into "bands of steel." But while world peace without world force is Utopian,
the world force of practical statesmanship to advocate, organize and maintain an international police force that should supersede the Hague tribunal.

The suppression of the Boxer rebellion in China, that marked the end of the over a federal relation to China. The better judgment of the powers said: "Let there be peace, and the world will be at peace."
The success of their mission is a striking example of the practicability of the enforcement of international peace.

The history of British rule in India clearly demonstrates that a common language, though desirable, is not absolutely necessary. Such problems as closer federation and the adoption of a common language that all can understand, and present, may be left unsolved. There need be no co-operation in anything except the compelling of obedience to the decrees of The Hague tribunal.

Lovers of peace are at one on this: They would have the world at peace. They would side of peace if only sure that they were combating their real enemy, war. Nor would they have the world at peace, as they recently behind. They, too, would strike a blow at war even if they had to do it by taking advantage of their own birth and nation, to whom the opportunity of fighting for world peace had not been given.

Let us know, whether your worthy president has not "come to the kingdom" for such a time as this?

"Saving the Constitution"

Kansas City Star: The existing method of amending the Federal Constitution is declared by the National Association of Constitutional Government to be "wise and adequate." That association has been recently formed and includes such distinguished names as Mr. Taft, Judge Alton Parker and Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan. It has the expressed approval of Mr.
Roosevelt and no doubt expresses the sentiments of the vast majority of the people for the past of William Barne, Jr.

It is pointed out by the National Popular Government League that the present method of amending the Constitution pretty well prohibits amendments at all. Only the courts can amend the Constitution with any quickness and they have done it many times through their power of construction or interpretation and through their power to nullify acts of congress.

Thomas Jefferson first clearly declared the principle that the Constitution should be amended by any generation living under it wanted it to be. If the people cannot make the organic law under which they are to live they have not self-government.

A popular demand is that constitutional government shall be saved by making it more democratic. The method of permitting it to be amended by the people is imposed on them the rule of an earlier generation with its different facts and different times and different conditions of living.

This demand has been expressed in what is called "the gateway amendment," which is a proposition to amend the method of amending the Constitution. It is a majority of the people of a majority of the states or some equivalent rule of the public will) can amend the Constitution.

quoting two-thirds of congress and three-fourths of the state legislatures to amend it, the government will be more nearly a government by the people. It is instead of the whom Mr. Taft has eulogized as "the representative class."

His Hairbreadth Escape.
Tit-Bits: The commercial traveler seated himself in the corner seat and carefully adjusted his portmanteau on the floor.

Then he handed a newspaper to a passenger opposite, and remarked: "Another of those dispatch riders captured, you see?
They don't know the A B C of their business."

"I suppose you could teach them?" remarked the man opposite, with an attempt at sarcasm.

"Well, I think so. You don't know Jones
I suppose—Jones, of Birmingham? Smart man, he is! Well, he went out to the Transvaal with the Yeomanry. He was given some dispatches to carry, but he didn't get caught. No, sir. He had his head shaved and the Andamans were talked on his scalp. Then he applied his hair restorer and he felt safe. He was stopped three times and searched, but he got through. Nothing was found. Finally he reached his destination, had his head shaved again, and went to show his head to the general. Oh, he was a smart, I tell you! And now, gentlemen, if any of you would like to try a bottle of our 'Common-Up' Hair Restorer, give me three shillings and sixpence. I will give written guarantee that—Thank you, sir.
I have a discount from ten shillings leaves
six-and-six. Good day. I get out here."

Perfection of Democracy.

Kansas City Star: Can a democracy conduct a war with as great efficiency as an autocracy?

France has answered that.
Can a democracy mobilize its industries
and supply credits for the national defense without sacrificing the constitutional rights of its citizens?

England is answering that.
Can a democracy subordinate commercialism and internal politics to the national honor and uphold that honor without surrendering to militarism?

America must answer that.

The Letter "E."
Staples World: Someone has advanced the opinion that the letter "E" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet,
because it is always out of cash, forever
in debt, never out of danger and in hell
all the time.

But attention is called to the fact that
"E" is never in war and always in peace.
It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of ease and the end of trouble.
Without it there would be no meat, no life
and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, makes love perfect and without it there would be no editors and no news.

Another View on Preparedness.
Warren Shear: A great deal is said about preparedness these days. Our country is expected to make preparations for war, in case it should come. In this latitude every citizen is expected to prepare for a winter that is sure to come. Boys and girls prepare for life by attending school. Many girls add to their preparedness for marriage by taking a course in domestic science at some good school. In order to be able to preside successfully over her house and home every woman needs to be an expert in housekeeping. A wise mother will see that her daughter is well instructed in the art of home making and home cooking and baking.

Wilson's Hand.

Wilson sentiment is increasing the country

Was This in a Dry County?
Jordan Independent: That the old-fashioned typographical error was fearful enough, but it wasn't a circumstance to the modern misographical error. Owing to misplacement of a linotype slug the council proceedings in a neighboring city a few weeks ago wound up this way: "On motion of the council, the council was adjourned."
This illuminating statement, appearing solely over the city clerk's official signature, ended somewhat of a sensation in the burg.

We Prefer It as It Is, Thank You.
Albert Lea Standard: The Luverne Journal opines that "for a measly $75,000 a dollars worth of trouble." Well, if Toddy ing a million dollars worth of fun, and his countrymen would be having billions of dollars worth of trouble.

The German Spirit

Kuno Francke in the Atlantic: Germany
in this conflict has had no need of calling for volunteers; two million of them, the boys of 18 to graybeards of 65 offered themselves spontaneously without a call at the very proclamation of war. Germany has had no need of a spasmodic resort to prohibition legislation; her soldiers and her workmen are disciplined enough to keep in fit condition for the manufacture and the use of arms. Germany has had no need of securing Asia and Africa for savage hirelings to wage her war; her own sons, thousands of business and professional men, flooded from all over China to the colors in the ranks.

ment of duty to the categorical imperative."
In military matters, Germany has no need of achievements, can any of the nations that are besetting Germany match her by such examples of trained intelligence, consum-mate skill, iron determination, persistent daring, unquestioning devotion—in short,
such examples of personalities steered by obedience to the categorical imperative—as Germany has given in the captain and the crew of the Emden; in the career of the Dresden and the Eitel Friedrich; in the submarines that made their way from the North sea, through the Straits of Gibraltar, into

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN IN THE HALL OF FAME

First Member of Theatrical Profession to Be Given Honor.

New York, Oct. 6.—Charlotte Cushman, at one time America's foremost tragedienne, has achieved the distinction of being the first member of the theatrical profession to be admitted to New York university's hall of fame. Her name was among seven chosen yesterday at the fourth election, held every five years.

With the name of the actress who, through the bankruptcy of her father, became a singer and later the most prominent woman of her time on the stage, were chosen the names of Daniel Boone, hunter and pioneer, and Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine. Seven names of American born persons were chosen. Under the rules, only names of those who have been dead ten years or more are eligible to be in the hall of fame. Of the seven elected yesterday five were born in Massachusetts. The list follows:

Mark Hopkins, educator, born Brookfield, Mass., 1802, died Williamstown, Mass., 1877; Francis Pickman, historian, born Boston, 1823, died Boston, 1893; Elias Howe, inventor, born Spencer, Mass., 1819, died Brookfield, Mass., 1890; Joseph Henry, scientist, investigator in electro-magnetic induction and first secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, born Albany, N. Y., 1816, died Washington, 1893; Charlotte Cushman, actress, born Boston, 1816, died Boston, 1876; Rufus Choate, educator, born Essex, Mass., 1799, died Halifax, 1859; Daniel Boone, pioneer, founder of Boonesboro, on the Kentucky river as a defense against the Indians, born Berks county, Pennsylvania, 1736, died on a Missouri farm, 1820.

A REAL FLESH BUILDER FOR THIN PEOPLE

Who Would Increase Weight and Put On Healthy Stay-There Flesh

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay-where" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure yourself again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Many people, having followed these simple directions, report weight increases of from five to eight pounds with continued gains under further treatment.

Sargol does not of itself make fat but mixing with your food its purpose is to help the digestive organs turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. A great deal of this nourishment now passes from thin people's bodies as waste. Sargol is designed to stop the waste and make the fat-producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is non-injurious, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Boyce Drug Store and other leading druggists are authorized to sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every package.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR-ELECT IS FINE ORATOR AND EXECUTIVE

The minister who has just accepted a call from the First Presbyterian church of Duluth to become its pastor, is Rev. George Brewer, now pastor of the Holland Memorial Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, and he will come to Duluth to take charge of the first church about Nov. 1.

The first church has been without a pastor for over a year. Dr. Robert Yost, who was pastor of this congregation for a number of years, resigned a year ago last spring, the resignation to take effect Oct. 1, 1914, and at that time Dr. Yost left to take charge of religious and educational work among the mountaineers of Eastern Tennessee, where he now is. The congregation waited until they found a man whom they could satisfy themselves would measure up to the work demanded and the possibilities ahead of the congregation.

The committee assigned the work of choosing a new pastor to a group of men, and they finally heard many preachers of note, but finally unanimously decided that Dr. Brewer was the man required.

The pastor-elect is young as men go, having reached fame in his thirties, and is said to be a capable and capable man, both as a pulpit orator and as a pastor of a congregation. As to his capabilities the Ohio State Journal of Columbus, Ohio, says of him:

"He is a rare combination—a student, a strong preacher, an orator of the highest type, a keen executive, and a sympathetic man."

The Liberty Press of Indiana says: "He is fearless, and just the kind of a man who attracts the non-going church people."

REV. GEORGE BREWER.

LUMBERJACKS WILL HAVE MORE "SKY PILOTS" OF HIGGINS KIND

Reading Camp Association, Known in West, Invades Minnesota With Systematic Plan of Reaching Men of Woods, Guiding in Religious and Educational Advancement.

When Sky Pilot Frank Higgins "passed out" the lumberjacks of Northern Minnesota, among whom he had ministered for years, lost the best "pal" they ever had. Higgins, as is generally known, was a battle-scarred woodsman in his palmy days and took a prominent part in the affairs that were featured every spring when the log driving season was finished. He had sinned like the rest of the men and when he turned from the boisterous, intemperate existence of the woodsman to the quiet life of a man of the cloth, he found the heart of the rough and tumble pine hewer. He made many conversions among the men of the forest. They liked him for they knew he was "one of the boys" after coming "a sky pilot" as they fondly dubbed him, he continued to break bread at the camp tables with the men. He told them of the life he led in the camps; he told them of the mistakes in his own, and they received the word and benefited. They became better men morally, physically and intellectually. They did a better day's work.

His work will be continued. When Higgins went to toward the lumberjacks mourned. They had lost their confidant, and use them all winter in the ocean trade. Usually these great ships are in Duluth and from there they sail to the big upper lake freighters during the winter. The owners of these vessels could provide ships enough to carry two or three million bushels of wheat a week across the Atlantic from November onward. Canada's biggest problem today is that of wheat shipment. It should be tackled in a big way. In a way that will increase rather than lessen the tonnage available for the carrying on of the war.

OCEAN RATES ARE MENACE

Canadian Commercial and Financial Men Becoming Alarmed.

Would Enter American Markets; Fear Dardanelles Will Be Opened.

Constantly increasing ocean freight rates are regarded by Canadian commercial and financial authorities as a great menace to the prosperity of the country. It is thought, furthermore, that heroic efforts must be made to market and export as large a proportion of Canada's grain crop as possible this fall if a serious business situation is to be avoided.

This explains the springing up of an agitation in the three Canadian Western provinces looking to the removal of the import duty on wheat in order to take advantage of the reciprocal arrangement for entering the American markets. It is feared by dealers up there that if the Dardanelles and Bosphorus are opened and the vast stores of Russian wheat become available for European use, the price of grain on this side of the Atlantic will fall like a stone.

Boats Are Scarce. Despite the assurance of the British government that boats would be released from the transport service in order to provide facilities for shipping Canadian wheat out this fall, steamers are scarce. The hope that many " tramp " steamers would come up the St. Lawrence for wheat cargoes at the end of the season has proved illusory, and the member of the Borden government dealing with the question are endeavoring to make arrangements by which the number of smaller grain carriers that can go through the Welland and the St. Lawrence canal will be used during the fall and winter as ocean carriers. Five of those steamers are already being fitted up for ocean service.

Many Divert Large Carriers. Commenting upon the situation, the Toronto Globe says: "It is possible from a mechanical standpoint and would it not also be highly profitable to the owners to cut some of the grain under lake Canadian grain carriers in two, send them down the canals with temporary bulkheads, put them together in the Montreal dockyard, and use them all winter in the ocean trade. Usually these great ships are in Duluth and from there they sail to the big upper lake freighters during the winter. The owners of these vessels could provide ships enough to carry two or three million bushels of wheat a week across the Atlantic from November onward. Canada's biggest problem today is that of wheat shipment. It should be tackled in a big way. In a way that will increase rather than lessen the tonnage available for the carrying on of the war."

Plan of the Mission. "Our plan is to supply every logging and railroad camp with a graduate or undergraduate minister who will work with the laborer every day and lecture to them in the evening," said Mr. Boyle. "We have a separate shanty or box car provided at each camp, where some comforts are supplied to the men of the backwoods. Reading matter, consisting of the daily and weekly newspapers, magazines, and books are kept on hand and a graphophone is usually installed to furnish music for the men."

The lectures are all interesting and deal not only with religion but educational subjects in general. The lecturers conduct regular school classes in the camps and the students are taught to read, write, spell and compute and where foreigners are taught the elementary English language. Regular church services are held every Sunday morning and evening. In Canada we have seventy-five ministers working in this cause and these reach 15,000 workmen who labor in the interior sections."

Mr. Boyle has a large number of letters from employers of labor in both Canada and the United States, commending very highly the work of the society. Among these is one from Secretary Jerome of the Merrill Lumber company of Spokane, Wash. Many other lumber companies speak highly of the work, as do several railroad contractors who say that the influence of the young men instructors in the camps causes the crews to be more temperate in their habits and do better work.

Trade is at high-water mark for the season in nearly every line with Duluth wholesalers and manufacturers. Once it became assured that the season's activity would reach record proportions, orders placed with the various establishments here increased enormously, and shipments of goods sent out over the territory have been the heaviest in years. Due to the readjustments made in freight rates and the satisfactory service being accorded by the railroads serving this point, it is conceded that Duluth establishments are now distributing over a wider field and are in a position to meet competition in districts from which they had previously not been able to cover to advantage. That condition is said to be especially applicable to dry goods, hardware, groceries, and boot and shoe jobbers. Building supplies and materials are also being more freely distributed from here and manufacturers of machinery and of many small lines are building up large trades.

Clear Trade Improves. W. A. Keitel, manager of the Duluth Cigar Cigar company, said today that taking the experience of his company for it, cigars manufactured in this city are winning ground through the district in competition with outside brands. GEN. GOETHALS TO REMAIN IN CHARGE

Withdraws Resignation as Governor of Panama Canal Zone.

Panama, Oct. 7.—Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals has withdrawn his resignation as governor of the Panama canal zone. This fact was announced by Gen. Goethals last night on his arrival aboard the steamer Cristobal from New York after a vacation spent in the United States. His action was taken, he said, in view of the recent slides in the Gaillard cut which have closed traffic through the canal. Gen. Goethals said he would remain in Panama indefinitely—until such time as the condition of the canal would permit of his departure. Further than to make this announcement and to say he had ended Secretary of War Garrison withdrawing his resignation, which was to have become effective Nov. 1, Gen. Goethals had nothing to say concerning the canal.

He was arrested Tuesday morning early by Officer Duff, and charged with being a "vag". He sat in the jailer's room and smoked countless cigarettes while his uncle, two other Chinamen, and police, tried to settle his fate. Finally he agreed to work, and police let him go. Yesterday he was "in again" and Officer Duff led him to the jail door before he wilted and said he would work. Non's uncle led him away by his car, and in all probability the "laze" one is peeling potatoes and washing dishes today.

Drivers in the Y. M. C. A. membership "auto" race will discuss their plans at a dinner to be held at the association building Friday noon. The grand race, of which 500 new members is the goal, will start Wednesday, Oct.

20, and continue until the following Saturday noon.

The drivers are all confident of making a good showing, and they are all determined to do their best. None has any doubts that the 500 new men will be secured before the final lap of the race is run. George Wilson will be the official starter. Following are the drivers and the cars they will represent:

Ford, Lawrence Duhay; Studebaker, Harold H. Jurgeck; Hudson, H. Zins; master, National Ray Fenton; Kissel, W. A. Kingston; Cadillac, W. L. Yale; King, S. George Clark; Paige, R. A. Barthold; Chandler, Joe. Moore; Chevrolet, A. J. Frey, and Dodge, M. Hanna.

BOOM IS ON IN LEATHER PRICES

War Orders and Domestic Demand Cause Active Selling.

The boom in the leather market as a result of the heavy buying by the allies for military purposes and a decided improvement in the domestic demand, is gaining headway. Prices are being marked up all the time, and the market throughout is considered to be in a strong position.

Sales of the leading companies during the last six weeks are estimated to have exceeded in volume any previous record in their business histories.

Within the last week there has been a general advance in sole leather prices of about 1 cent a pound. Union backs, "tannery run," are now selling freely at 49 cents a pound and even higher prices are being asked and obtained in some instances. Not more than three weeks ago this leather could be had at 42 cents. Other grades of sole leather, which was selling at 38 cents is now 42 cents. Within the last three months union leather has advanced between 7 and 8 cents a pound, or over 18 per cent, while oak butt and rough leather, the kind going most extensively into military work, is fully 16 cents a pound higher than it was the first of July.

The big Russian order for 3,000,000 pairs of high-topped army boots has been a potent factor in the leather market and has been the chief cause of the veritable flurry in prices. These boots, it is estimated, will require nearly 1,000,000 sides of heavy upper leather and 500,000 sides of sole leather.

Tanners look for considerably higher prices in leather in spite of the big advance it has already had. Leather stocks are practically cleaned up and there are no accumulations. A sole leather tanner, regarded as an authority in the trade, says he believes the trade has not yet seen real war prices for leather and that it is likely to go very much higher if the European struggle continues.

VERDICT FOR PASKAS.

Logging Company Assessed for Lost Goods of Injured Employee.

After two hours' deliberation yesterday afternoon, a jury in Judge Bert Creaser's division of the district court awarded Peter Paskas a $50 verdict against the E. S. Johnson company, logging contractors.

The plaintiff was injured last fall while employed by the defendant company and was removed to the St. Luke's hospital in this city. He claimed that upon leaving the hospital he was unable to recover from the logging company certain personal property he had left in their care. Paskas sued for $201.50.

Places Blame on Railroad.

Ardmore, Okla., Oct. 7.—The deaths and injuries caused by an explosion of gasoline here the afternoon of Sept. 27 "were caused through negligence of the Santa Fe Railroad company and its employees, but the said negligence was not felonious," according to a verdict returned by the coroner's jury yesterday.

MANAGERS IN VERBAL TILT

Scotty McCauley and Cub Lajoie Exchange Personal Views.

Unless the Duluth Independent football team wins the game with Hibbing Sunday there will be no game with Superior.

This ultimatum was handed down yesterday by Manager Scotty McCauley of the Superior independent eleven.

Wrangling that has marked the negotiations for the past few years between Duluth and Superior managers, is not at all lacking in the several conferences that have been held recently in the endeavor to complete arrangements for a gridiron battle between the crack teams of the two cities.

McCauley declared that Cub Lajoie only lacked a first-class set of burglarious tools to become a specimen of the guild, while Lajoie returns with impulsive outspokenness that McCauley and several others associated with him would make Hittory Green seem a woman.

"We don't care whether we play you or not," came the sharp and clear declaration from McCauley. "What's more," the Superior manager continued, "unless that alleged all-star eleven of yours defeats the college boys that are coming down from the range we won't play you at all."

Last year there were several superior players on the Duluth independent team. This season Duluth has an all-Duluth team and Superior has entered the field with the Bradys and several of the Normal school stars in the lineup of its team.

The iron range bunched its players in the effort to place a powerful team in the district Sunday's game with Duluth. Several former University of Minnesota players are lending their efforts toward making the range aggregation the best that has ever been sent down from the range.

While local independent fans believe that Duluth will win after the great battle its team put up last Sunday against the Banholzers, Hibbing is expected to play a great game from the first to last whistle.

HODGE IS FAVORED IN BIG HANDICAP
Seven Horses Named Over Night to Compete for $5,000 Purse.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 7.—Seven horses have been named over night as starters in the twenty-second renewal of the St. Leger handicap at Churchill Downs today. The race is for 3-year-olds and upward at two miles and a quarter. It is worth approximately $5,000. There were thirty-two nominations for the event.

Despite the impost of 128 pounds, top weight in the race, Hodge, W. J. Weber, 1-year-old gelding, is expected to go to the post favorite. He recently won the Louisville cup, at two miles, with 126 pounds up. Hodge concedes from 19 to 28 pounds to all the other horses. Indications are the race will be run over a fast track.

The St. Leger handicap first was run in 1870 at Churchill Downs and was a fixture at that course until 1893. It was revived in 1910, but gave way to the Kentucky endurance stake, at four miles. With the abolishment of the longer race, the St. Leger again took its place as the feature race of the Churchill Downs autumn meeting.

The horses, weights, owners and probable jockeys:
Hodge, 128, W. J. Weber, Goose Ringling, P. D. Weir, Metcalf.
Hank O'Day, 101, J. S. Hawkins, Garner.
Waterwitch, 98, J. W. Schorr, Judy.

HEALTH TALKS BY WILLIAM BRADY, MD.

Tea and Coffee and Health

GOOD things for adults are very often bad things for children and immature persons. For example, matrimony. Tea and coffee are mild stimulants, as universally taken in the form of a beverage. As a general thing they are good for adults, and without exception they are bad for children under 12.

Coffee depends upon an alkaloid, caffeine, and tea depends upon a similar alkaloid, theine, for its stimulating influence. These alkaloids slightly raise blood pressure, increase the force of the heart beat and improve the tone or volume of the pulse.

Unlike drugs ordinarily employed for the purpose, they seem to possess no after effects of depression.

Both tea and coffee tend to make a nervous person more nervous when taken in excess. We are quite sure a cup of tea or coffee does not make anyone nervous. It is the abuse of these grateful stimulants that makes trouble for the nervous, the sleepless, the excitable person.

Both tea and coffee contain a certain amount of tannin which tends to favor constipation if the tea or coffee is improperly prepared. Boiling either of these drugs not only ruins the flavor, but makes it unfit to drink. They should be made by pouring freshly boiled water upon the leaves or berries and serving the beverage soon afterward.

Anyone with exophthalmic goiter should carefully avoid tea and coffee. Anyone with high blood pressure should avoid them. Anyone with palpitation or overactive heart should not drink tea or coffee without permission from the physician. Neither beverage should be taken late in the evening, for insomnia is likely to follow. Neither should be taken during a meal, but only after the meal, or before the meal if you like in one drink or at least not as a vehicle to wash down food with.

There are about the alleged injurious effects of coffee. Some of it is very impressive, too, if you are of a neurotic temperament. But after years of investigation we must confess that we have never observed a case of stomach trouble, dyspepsia, or any other abnormal condition which could be attributed to the proper use of tea or coffee as a beverage by any daily.

Soup is a stimulant. So is cold water. Tea and coffee come pretty near to being the most beneficial contribution to the welfare of the high-pressure, so to speak, human race. We civilized folks need these gentle stimulants with our daily.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The dentist ought to know.
I wish to thank you cordially for your letter of advice regarding the view and effects of tea and coffee. My dentist asserts that the infection should be made in the arm or the leg, but in order to be perfectly sure I venture to ask you to see me right.

Answer:—The dentist is right—he ought to know.

Bad Advice for a Nursing Mother.
T. E. M. asks what we think of the advice that a nursing mother should drink ale and beer.

Answer:—We think that is the one time when a mother should not listen to the gratuitous advice of her friends. Ale and beer, contrary to the old idea, reduce a mother's capacity to nurse her baby. Ale and beer may intoxicate, but they cannot feed or supply nourishing elements, like milk or candy does.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through this column; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not receive calls or make house calls. All questions will be answered, whether they come from people residing in Duluth or outside, provided they comply with the rules here stated.

With more bowlers in the league than last year, and with interest in the game at its height, it has been heretofore, President Joe Delfler of the league today stated that the season about to open would, without doubt, prove the best year in the history of the bowling game in Duluth.

WOLVERINES BEAT

Michigan Opens Season With Ragged Contest—Players Lack Aggression.

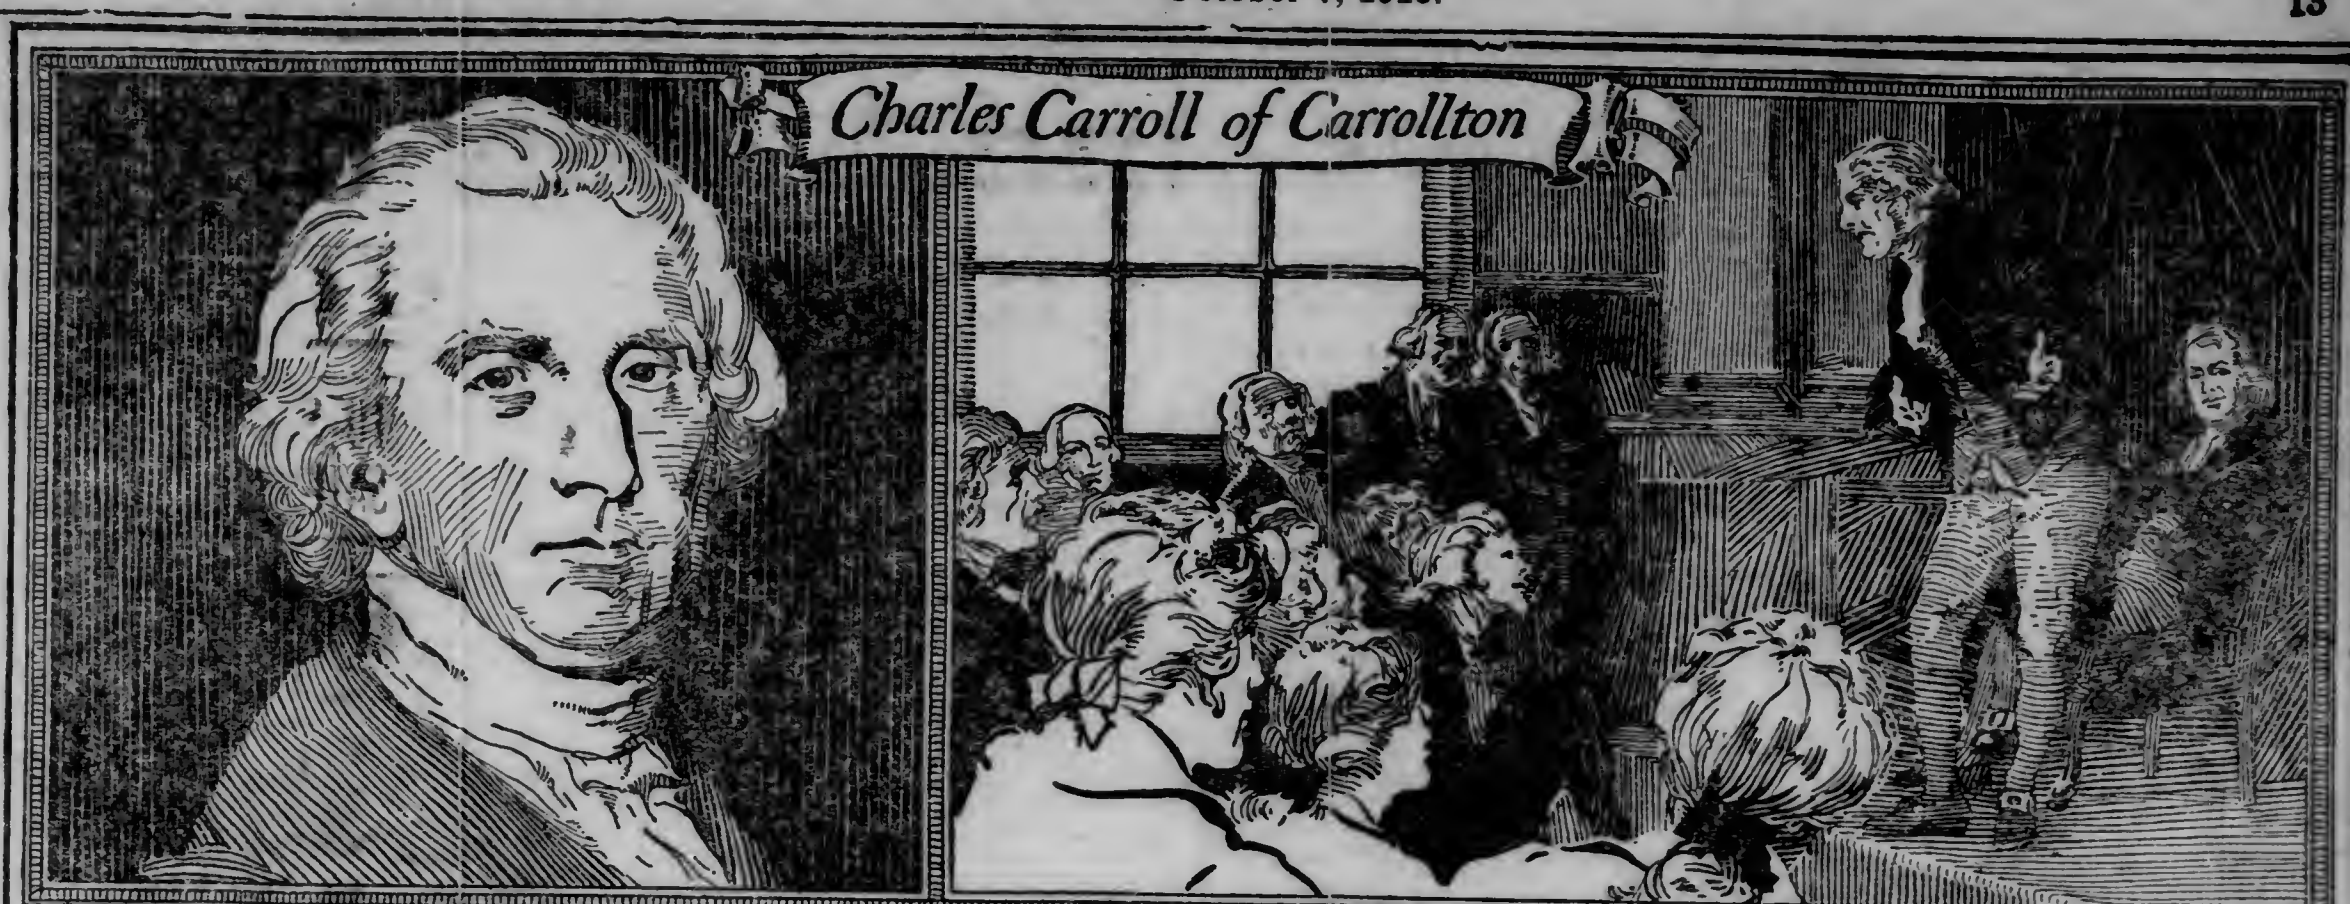

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 7.—Michigan opened its football season yesterday by defeating Lawrence college of Appleton, Wis., 38 to 0 in a ragged game.

The Wolverines lacked aggression and showed no offensive coat when they were blocked on offense and then scored touchdowns. Lawrence never threatened seriously to score. In the last quarter the visitors attempted a goal from the middle of the field, but it fell short.

Maubach, the Michigan star, took through the Lawrence line for big gains and scored three of Michigan's six touchdowns. A few minutes before the game ended Hillier intercepted a forward pass and sprinted thirty yards, Zeiger then going over.

Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Md. "Father of Religious Liberty in America"

HISTORY proves, to their eternal honor, that the Catholics were the first in America to advocate the Freedom of all sects to the hereditary rights of mankind to practice Civil and Religious Liberty. Carroll was one of the richest and most learned men in the Colonies, and when he proudly affixed his name to our immortal Declaration of Independence he courted the confiscation of his vast estates. A bystander facetiously remarked, as he did so, "There goes a few millions." He was elected to the National Convention which adopted the Constitution of the United States, but illness forbade his attendance. His cousin, though, Daniel Carroll, signed our National Law, which forever guarantees to Americans Civil, Religious and Personal Liberty. Carroll's manners were easy, affable and graceful, in all the elegancies of polite society few men were his superiors. His hospitality was nothing short of royal, and he was a lifetime user of light wines and barley brews. He died in his 95th year, the last survivor of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and was looked upon with reverential regard by rich and poor alike. Fifty-eight years ago Anheuser-Busch launched their great institution, and have always brewed honest beers—the kind the illustrious Carroll loved to quaff. Day by day their famous brews have grown in popular favor until 7500 people are constantly employed to keep pace with the public demand. Their great brand—BUDWEISER—because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sale of all other beers by millions of bottles.

Visitors to St. Louis are courteously invited to inspect our plant—covers 143 acres.

CORPORATION
Midvale Steel & Ordnance Company Organized By W. E. Corey.

Next to United States Steel Corporation in Capitalization.

New York, Oct. 6.—Announcement was made last night that the Midvale Steel & Ordnance company, a $100,000,000 corporation recently organized by William E. Corey, had in addition to purchasing the Midvale Steel company, acquired three other concerns and had secured an option on 300,000 tons of iron ore.

These new concerns are the Worth Bros. company of Coatesville, Pa., manufacturers chiefly of steel plates; the Coatesville Rolling Mills company, which is allied with the Worth Bros. and the Remington Arms company, of Delaware, a concern recently organized to manufacture arms and ammunition at Edgemoor, Pa. The latter company, which has leased properties of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and is a separate organization, it is understood, from the Remington Arms & Ammunition company of Ilion, N. Y., but the announcement made last night disclosed that Marcellus H. Dodge, president of the Remington Arms & Ammunition company, is a director of the new Midvale combination.

Next to Largest Steel Concern.
With the purchase of the United States Steel corporation, the new Midvale company becomes the largest steel concern in point of capitalization in the country, and although Mr. Corey, who has leased properties of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and is a separate organization, it is understood, from the Remington Arms & Ammunition company of Ilion, N. Y., but the announcement made last night disclosed that Marcellus H. Dodge, president of the Remington Arms & Ammunition company, is a director of the new Midvale combination.

The Midvale Steel & Ordnance company stands as a holding company for the properties acquired and Mr. Corey's announcement said that in order to acquire these concerns and to provide working capital, $70,000,000 of its stock would be issued.

Men on Directorate.
In addition to Mr. Dodge, the board of directors includes F. Vanderbilt, president of the National City bank; Percy A. Rockefeller, Albert H. Wiggin, president of the Chase National bank; Charles H. Sobin, president of the Guaranty Trust company of New York; Frederick W. Allen, representing Lee, Higginson & Co., of Boston; Ambrose Monell, president of the International Nickel company; Samuel F. Pryor, a director of the Baldwin Locomotive Works; William P. Barba, vice president of the Old Midvale Steel company; and Alva C. Dinkey, the newly elected president of the old Midvale Steel company. Mr. Corey becomes president of the holding company and Mr. Dinkey vice president.

Price for Midvale Plant $22,000,000.
It was learned that the price paid for the Midvale plants was around $22,000,000. Mr. Corey declined to say what the cost of the other concerns had been, nor would he disclose from whom the option on the 300,000 tons of iron ore had been secured.

It was stated in steel circles that the ore fields were probably located in the Lake Superior district, and rivaled those of the United States Steel corporation in point of tonnage.

The Remington Arms company, it was announced, has been authorized to manufacture arms and ammunition for the government. None of the concerns acquired, says the statement, have any debts other than current and the aggregate working capital of the parent company and its subsidiaries will be in excess of $15,000,000. The stock of the company "when issued" sold on curb at 120.

Business of Other Deals.
Rumors of deals for the acquisition of other concerns and steel plants by various interests were rife in the financial district, but it could not be learned that any had as yet taken definite shape. Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, who was negotiating for the control of the Pennsylvania Steel company, returned yesterday from Bath, Me., where he paid a brief visit at the plant of the Bath Iron works. This concern, a shipbuilding company, was formerly owned by the Bethlehem corporation and Mr. Schwab's visit gave rise to rumors that he contemplated its repurchase. In regard to the statement that negotiations were pending for a change in ownership of the Cambria Steel company, it was stated in responsible banking circles that in the event of a sale, H. C. Erick, who has an option on its stock, probably would appear as the purchaser and not associate himself with other bidders.

Tragedy Over Apples.
Peru, Ind., Oct. 7.—Because of a disagreement over the division of the apple crop from small orchards, located on a farm near here, rented by Bert Fear, 45 years old, August Blon, 50, in a fit of rage yesterday shot and killed Fear and fatally wounded Fear's wife and two children, Harry and Goldie. Another child, Dorothy, was seriously shot. Blon then committed suicide.

How Any Woman Can Remove Hairy Growths

(Beauty Culture)
It is not longer necessary for a woman to visit a beauty specialist to have superfluous hairs removed, for, with the aid of a plain delicate paste, she can, in the privacy of her own home, remove even a stubborn growth in a very few minutes. The paste is made by mixing some water with a little powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes removed and the skin washed, when it will be left clear and hairless. Be sure you buy real delatone.—Advertisement.

OPPOSE TWO PAY DAY PLAN

Employees of Corporations Prefer Monthly System, Bankers Say.

Too Many Pay Days Cause of Reckless Expenditures.

Many employees of railroad companies and local corporations are not in favor of semi-monthly pay days, made compulsory by the last legislature, according to bank officials, who declared this morning that many of the men keep their first check until the end of the month, cashing the two at the same time.

"The men claim they spend the first pay check during the month and that the second is not enough to meet the bills that come in at the end of each month," said D. J. Mahoney of the American Exchange National bank. "As a result, I have noticed a large number of the men bringing in the two checks at the end of the month. I have also heard many make objection to the new law."

This statement by Mr. Mahoney caused members of the city commission to continue their stand that city employees do not want two pay days a month as proposed recently by E. G. Phillips, prominent Socialist and former alderman from the Eighth ward.

One Pay Day Enough.
"This situation fits our case exactly," said a city employee this morning, "and as far as I am concerned, I don't want two pay days a month. At present, I receive one check at the end of the month and it is easy for me to arrange payment of bills, make purchases and plan for the ensuing month. On the other hand, two pay days simply makes one spend more money and to lose out in paying bills promptly."

Many of these men spend the first pay check recklessly, often incurring debt as a result, he said, "and the second check is not large enough to meet the current expenses of the home. I wouldn't be surprised if the men prefer to get a return to the old monthly pay system."

Members of the commission said this morning that more attention will be given to the employees of the city ask for two pay days a month.

SANITATION OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Must Meet Standard or State Aid Will Be Denied.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—By an agreement reached today between the state educational department and the state board of health, more attention will be paid hereafter to the sanitation of public schools. Unless schools can meet the standard set by the two, state aid will be denied.

One of the particular things demanded by the board of health is pure water and this, Mr. Bracken, of the board of health, is not always to be found. In a number of instances the sanitation division of the health department has located school supplies, like the water supply and sewerage facilities of every school in the state and under the even extended to the supply used by the municipality.

Under the agreement reached by the two departments, the sanitation division of the board of health will make careful inquiry into the water supply and sewerage facilities of every school in the state and under the even extended to the supply used by the municipality.

"Ignore the jitney ordinance altogether," is the instruction given local drivers by A. E. McManus, attorney for the Duluth Jitney association.

"This measure cannot go into effect until all the people of the city have an opportunity to vote on it," he said yesterday, "and we will go ahead about our business just as if the measure had never been passed. If arrests are made by the police, I will obtain the release of the drivers by habeas corpus proceedings and take the matter up in the courts for final settlement."

With these instructions, the attorney, officials of the Duluth Jitney association said that they will ignore the ordinance altogether when it goes into effect on Saturday, Oct. 16.

There are about fifty drivers in Duluth at the present time, of which number it is estimated, about twenty-five will operate throughout the winter. Only fifteen have obtained license from the city council, the remainder refusing to purchase insurance of any kind.

Commissioner Silvester said this morning that the ordinance will be enforced to the letter and that no compromise will be considered with the drivers.

"They have broken their word before," he said, "and I am through dealing around with them."

Routine business will also be transacted at this meeting.

The members of the committee will have supper at the club at 8:15, and they have posted a general invitation to the club members to dine with them.

NO CHARITY WORK NEEDED

City Council Believes Labor Will Support Itself in Winter.

Work Now, More Plentiful and Fewer Men Available.

Present labor conditions cause members of the city commission to believe that no winter work will be necessary for the unemployed.

Last winter the council ordered a number of large sewer jobs so that the large army of unemployed men would be able to earn some money. In addition, the rock crusher was in operation throughout the winter and applied.

The situation this fall, members of the commission say, is much better and indications are that winter work will be necessary. Judging from the opening of the steel plant next month and the heavy demand for iron ore from all the mines, the large plant of the nation, it is believed, will give work to the laborers in this section of the state.

Many Go Home.
In addition, the council ordered that large numbers of Italians, Russians and native countries for service at the front and that the labor situation, as a result, will be as acute as it was a year ago.

"We want the men should conditions create a large army of unemployed," said Commissioner Farrell, works head this morning. "I am sure that the arrangements to help the heads of families at least, I don't believe that it will be necessary. Judging from the optimistic reports everywhere."

HERE'S NEW VIGOR FOR OVERWORKED STOMACHS

Hundreds of the best druggists who have been in the drug business long enough to have their own opinion, say the best way of selling medicines, says the plan adopted by Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy, is the failure they ever heard of. The Mi-o-na people don't believe that a medicine ought to be paid for unless it does the user some good. And so Mi-o-na is always sold under a positive guarantee to relieve dyspepsia or to refund the money. You simply leave a few cents on deposit with your druggist, and if, after you have used the box of Mi-o-na, you decide that it has done you no good, all you have to do is to tell him so and he will return your money.

Hundreds of people can tell how they have been relieved of stomach agonies by using this remarkable remedy. It is not simply a food digester; it is a medicinal agent of the digestive organs into normal condition and gives roddy, glowing, vigorous health. A change for the better will be soon after the first few doses of Mi-o-na, and its continued use will soon give the power to eat most anything at any time and not suffer distress afterward.

HOSTELS SHOW PROSPERITY

Every Hostelry in City Enjoys Better Patronage Than in Summer.

Managers Say Upturn in Business Is the Cause.

If the amount of business being transacted in Duluth and its present prosperity is accurately gauged by the increase in business shown by the leading hotels of the city, when Duluth and the Northwest are enjoying an appreciable increase of business over that of some months back.

George W. Reynolds, proprietor of the Spaulding hotel, is authority for the statement that his hostelry is doing a great deal more business at the present time than at a similar period of a year ago, and that the business is generally better than the present season enjoyed last summer—and the summer is supposed to be the season when the Duluth hotels make their money.

Manager Prince of the St. Louis declared today that business is much better than it was at any time during the last four months. "It looks like better times have arrived," said Manager Prince. "If the prosperity of Duluth is reflected in the increased business of the St. Louis hotel is doing, then the city is enjoying a greater amount of prosperity than was the case this time a year ago."

Manager Sweeney of the Hotel Holland declared that business with the hotel has more than held its own since the closing of the McKay and Lenox hotel managers. In fact all of the managers of the leading hotels of Duluth see real municipal prosperity indicated in the increased volume of commercial patronage. Hotel business is generally a barometer of a city's prosperity, and according to that, Duluth is right now doing business on an increased scale over the last eighteen months.

SAFETY COMMISSIONER SAYS A KNOWLEDGE OF ACCOUNTING IS ESSENTIAL TO ALL

"A mastery of the science of accounts, as taught at your college, is of vital importance to you, no matter what business or profession he would be engaged in. Such training in solving the high cost of living, as well as the cost of expenditures, is carefully kept by men, would be a check on the too free use of money, and would be necessary for the man to live within his means. No one should consider his or her education complete without a knowledge of accounting."

Commissioner of Public Safety, T. W. McCARTER, Principal, Duluth Business University.
